U.S. Bomber Makes Record Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command B-52 bomber today completed a 10,000-mile, nonstop flight to shatter two world records, the Air Force announced.

The jet bomber took off from this desert base at 7:07 a.m. (PST) yesterday and returned this morning after completing the closed-circuit course in 19¾ hours without refueling.

The B-52, from SAC's "combat ready" alert forces, was flown by a crew from the 5th Bombardment Wing at Travis Air Force Base.

Previous closed-circuit distance records were set by a B-29 propeller-driven bomber from MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., that flew 8,854 miles in August, 1947, and a jet-powered B-52D from Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D., that covered 6,233 miles in September, 1958.

In topping these records today, the SAC bomber flew over El Paso, Tex., Andrews Air Force Base, Md., Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, Elson Air Force Base, Alaska, Philip, N.D., and returned here shortly before 3 a.m. (PST) today.

The 650-mile-an-hour bomber was commanded by Lt. Col. Thomas R. Grissom, 36, Rapid City, S.D. and carried a seven-man crew. The plane was from the 23rd bomber squadron of the 15th Air Force.

The Air Force said the flight "dramatically demonstrated the "intercontinental reach of SAC's bombers."

HISTORIC FLIGHT ROUTE — Map outlines the air route of the Air Force B-52G jet bomber which landed today at Edwards Air Force Base, its starting point, after a 10,000-mile nonstop flight without refueling. The eight-jet bomber and its seven-man crew were aloft 19 hours and 45 minutes. (AP Wirephoto)

Committee Told Of California Education Gap

Testimony Given On Citizens Advisory Report

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California schools were called "some of the best and some of the worst in the nation" today in the Citizens Advisory Commission on Education testimony regarding its recently submitted report.

William M. Buckman of Klamath River, a former member of the State Board of Education, told the Legislature's joint interim committee on education that wide discrepancy had been found in schools of the state. But many things already have been improved because "they saw the light of day" when the commission delved into problem areas, he said.

Buckman said he believes a statewide testing program, proposed in the commission's 104-recommendation report, would do away with some of the inequalities.

Other commission members took different looks at the schools' "situation."

Mrs. Janet L. Allen of Sutter Creek, one of three signers of a controversial minority report, was absent but sent a long letter declaring that "the only hope" for youth to obtain an education "is provided in a private school." The Amador school teacher said she drives 100 miles per day so her two children can receive private schooling.

Dr. William V. Lawlor of Glendale, chairman of the commission, reviewed the recommendations. He said the mem-

Son Overthrows Ethiopian Ruler

Crown Prince Seizes Throne Of Selassie

LONDON (UPI) — The Ethiopian Foreign Ministry announced today in a radio broadcast that Crown Prince Asfa Wosen had led a peaceful revolt against the government of his father, Emperor Haile Selassie.

The announcement reported the "peaceful change" in the government while the 69-year-old emperor was on a state visit to Brazil.

In another broadcast monitored in London by the British Broadcasting Corp., the crown prince said the revolt had the support of "myself, the armed forces, the police, the educated youth, the whole people of Ethiopia."

The coup prince ended 30 years of rule by Selassie, who once fought invasion by Italian troops, and who still ruled it like a feudal monarch from his palace in Addis Ababa.

The Addis Ababa broadcasts made no mention of the emperor.

"A peaceful change has taken place in the government under the leadership of the crown prince," the Ethiopian Foreign Ministry announcement said.

The broadcast said the announcement was handed to all embassies, legations and consulates at Addis Ababa.

The overthrow of the 69-year-old emperor had been reported earlier in diplomatic reports reaching London, Paris and Washington.

The reports reaching Washington did not mention any civil disorder in the African nation where Selassie had ruled since Nov. 2, 1930.

Selassie, who had appealed unsuccessfully to the defunct League of Nations to save him from invasion by Benito Mussolini's Italian troops in 1935, was able to fight off the invaders for many months before fleeing to London. British troops finally liberated Ethiopia during World War II.

Pro-West Laotians Battle For Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan battled their way slowly toward the center of Vientiane today against stiff resistance of Capt. Kong Le's Russian-supplied leftist forces.

The fighting centered around army headquarters and the ministry of defense and at one point Phoumi's artillery set fire to the army headquarters building. But Kong Le's Red-kerchiefed fighters held firm.

Phoumi's right-wing forces, identified by the white armbands they were wearing, sent armored cars and infantry into the area but were met with heavy fire from mortars and machine guns flown in earlier by Russian planes.

The battle for the administrative capital of this tiny kingdom was bringing Southeast Asia to the crisis point and threatened to draw outside Western and Communist military forces into the civil war.

The fighting broke out Tuesday when Phoumi's troops launched an attack from the eastern fringes of the city and moved into the center of Vientiane. Kong Le's Red troops retook the central portion of the city during the night.

Fighting swirled back and forth but neither side appeared to have a decisive advantage.

Communist North Viet Nam accused South Viet Nam today of armed intervention and collusion with the pro-Western Laotian forces, the North Viet Nam news agency reported. It said many South Viet Nam officers and men were fighting alongside Phoumi's forces and warned that the action was undermining peace throughout Indo-China.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the right-wing forces were "unable" to occupy the city. It quoted the rebel Pathet Lao radio as saying the defenders "destroyed in fierce battles a large contingent of rebel troops and captured more than 100 officers and men and much equipment."

Busy Round Of Talks Held By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy held another busy round of conferences today as he sought to complete his cabinet.

Kennedy said he will not announce any further appointments at least until tomorrow.

Kennedy spoke with newsmen when Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) left his home after having lunch with the president-elect.

He said Mrs. Green, a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, had discussed minimum-wage legislation and aid to education. Both rank high on Kennedy's legislative priority list.

Paris Presses Plan In Algeria Crisis

COMBINED AP & UPI

PARIS — President Charles de Gaulle conferred today with Premier Michel Debre on urgent measures to end the bloodshed in Algeria and keep the great territory linked somehow with France while granting it semi-independence.

He also called Louis Joxe, his minister for Algerian affairs, back to Paris to set in tomorrow morning on a full cabinet meeting. Soon afterward de Gaulle is expected to address the nation by radio, using his great personal prestige to woo support for his plan.

Troubles continued in Algeria after five days of bloodshed that took a toll of dead which French officials announced as 118. Unofficial sources said it was as high as 128. Today's trouble centered in Algiers' casbah where Moslems rioted and were put down with "a number of casualties."

De Gaulle's troubles were multiplied by the fact the Moslem population of Algeria has for the first time in six years of armed rebellion come out openly against the French settlers in a series of bloody clashes in the major cities.

In Algiers French gendarmes fired warning shots today over the heads of thousands of Moslems gathered near the casbah shouting slogans of the rebel forces.

Swarms of Moslems went through the twisted streets of the casbah shouting "Abbas to power"—rebel Premier Fehrat Abbas—and "Moslem Algeria."

It was one of the wildest demonstrations ever to rock the casbah. It centered around the Jewish synagogue which was looted Monday. Some Moslems began looting stores. The crowds swayed back and forth in emotional abandon.

School Merger For Bolinas, Stinson Voted

Unionization of the Bolinas and Stinson Beach school districts was overwhelmingly approved yesterday, by 168-28 vote of residents.

The tally in Bolinas was 82-20 and in Stinson Beach 86-8 for the merger.

This will combine the two into a union district next July 1, permanently merging two districts which have been running a combined program since September, 1959.

A new union district governing board must be elected April 18 to replace two boards which will go out of existence next June 30. Candidates must file before next March 17 at the office of the Marin County superintendent of schools.

In the combined program, to be continued under unionization, pupils of the first, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will go to the Bolinas school while Stinson Beach will handle those in the second, third and fourth grades.

Without unionization, the inter-district agreement would have had to terminate next spring, as there is a two-year limit imposed by the State Department of Education.

Determination of a new tax rate will be tackled by the new board probably in May or June. Present rates are: Bolinas, $1.01 basic per $100 valuation with eight cents override, total $1.09; Stinson Beach, $1.19 basic with six cents override, total $1.25.

Stinson Beach's $25,000 bond payoff, running to 1968, won't be assumed by Bolinas without a special election.

Gov. Brown Sees 'Big' Bond Issues

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that California "will probably have some good, big whacking bond issues on the ballot in 1962."

The governor made the remark as the State School Bond Finance Committee authorized sale of another 95 million dollars in school bonds—the last of the 220 million dollars approved by the voters in the 1958 election.

The bonds will be offered for sale Jan. 11.

Brown said the state school building bonds, including 300 million dollars approved by the voters in this year's June primary election, probably will be exhausted by September 1962.

"We'l probably have to have a bond issue for state colleges, too," Brown said.

The state is faced with a necessity of spending 150 million dollars a year for construction in the next 20 years, not counting elementary schools, Brown said.

'Circle' Plan Broached For Hub Exchange

A landscaped "circle" at the Hub intersection in San Anselmo, to permit smoother flow of traffic and a more pleasing appearance, may be set up on a trial basis if the townspeople go for it.

The San Anselmo City Council last night decided to circulate sketches of the plan to merchants, the chamber of commerce and other organizations and individuals to see what the reaction would be.

The plan calls for a circle at the Hub, where the Miracle Mile forks off toward Fairfax and toward Ross. Stop signs would be eliminated. Outside the planted circle, cars would move in a counter-clockwise circle, peeling off toward Fairfax, Ross or San Rafael.

William Roe, city public works director, presented a rough sketch of the plan, which had been suggested by Councilman John M. Reichmuth.

"Under the present situation, we're losing shoppers," Reichmuth said. "At least, this would improve the appearance."

Councilmen agreed it is worth a try, but first, they decided to publicize the plan and get public reaction.

JUST FOR KICKS?

'Broken Home' Prank Hits Fairfax Family

There's a happy family of five at 100 Chester Avenue in Fairfax—no "broken home," despite classified advertising to the contrary.

Mrs. Marion O. Vanni, wife of a San Francisco paint store operator and mother of three, disclosed today some prankster with a distored sense of humor had placed classified advertising in the Independent-Journal and two San Francisco dailies, listing a dozen articles for sale under the heading "broken home forces sale."

The telephone has been ringing for a week with inquiries about the items, said Mrs. Vanni. Several persons have called at 100 Chester Avenue in hope of buying.

The same prankster, she said, apparently was responsible for a string of calls by salesmen and service men.

The first was last Wednesday, when Mrs. Vanni answered the doorbell to find a floor polisher ready to start doing her home. When she said she had not ordered her floors polished, the man produced an order bearing her name, address and telephone number.

Next morning, a Salvation Army truck arrived to take away articles which someone had telephoned were to be picked up at the Chester Avenue address. Mrs. Vanni had made no call for such a pickup

Mrs. Vanni said she complained to Fairfax Police Chief Clifton Cordes about the annoyances but was told there was nothing police could do for her.

"Someone has used their brains on this," said Mrs. Vanni, "but I can't understand where they're getting their kicks."

Boston Tea Party Planners Leaf Through U.S. History

BOSTON (UPI) — When angry colonists dumped tea into Boston harbor 187 years ago in protest against King George's taxes, Henry Purkitt, a young apprentice, was given the job of tramping the tea into the mud flats.

As each of 342 chests was opened and heaved overboard, Purkitt was showered with tea. His mother shook enough tea from his clothes to fill a jar which she stored on an attic shelf.

A century later, Henry Purkitt Kidder of Milton, Mass., gave it to Jeff Parker, editor of the Boston Bee, who showed it in the newspaper window. In 1944, Parker turned the jar over to historian Edward Rowe Snow. It now is preserved in the home of Sidney Stewwart, president of the Needham, Mass., Historical Society.

On Friday, anniversary of the Boston Tea Party, the Daughters of the American Revolution will give a tea party, using some of the tea. Those allowed to drink it will be descendants of the 119 original tea heavers and members of the Boston Tea Party chapter of the DAR.

MISSILE MIGHT — These models of a train designed to shuttle Minuteman missiles across the northern half of the nation were shown in Seattle yesterday to rail executives. When trains are moving, as at left, the missiles will lie horizontally inside the cars. When the 6,000-mile range missiles are to be fired, the train will stop and the missiles will rise to vertical firing position, as at right. (AP Wirephoto)

SOUTHWEST LASHED

Business Socked By Storm In East

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slowly, painfully, the eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out today from the worst autumn storm in its history. As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 220, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

WIND MENACE

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: the wind. It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles; it blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the icebox cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

GUARD ORDERED OUT

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

In the southwest, up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the panhandle to the Big Bend country. In the flatlands the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big eastern storm had started in the southwest.

On the eastern seaboard no relief from the subnormal cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted today and tomorrow.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the east suffered grevi-ously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several millions, and department store managements said they doubted they could recoup the lost sales before Christmas Day.

Idaho Frees Ten Eyck Death Girl

GOODING, Ida. (UPI)—A 19-year-old woman, whose association with a now-condemned killer resulted in two murder charges against her, was released from jail here yesterday.

Both charges were brought against Mary Katherine Hampton, of Sandy Hook, Ky., as the result of statements by Emmett Spencer, 29, who is now awaiting execution in Florida on another murder conviction.

Spencer named the girl as his accomplice in the California murder of former University of California basketball star Perry Ten Eyck in 1959. He also claimed that she and Rodger Hall, 22, of Crescent City, were with him when Dr. John Hunt of Portland, Ore., was murdered in Idaho the same year.

Murder charges against Miss Hampton were dropped by Idaho authorities when she agreed to testify against Hall at his trial for the Hunt killing. Hall was acquitted, but Miss Hampton was charged with murder by authorities at Ukiah, in connection with Ten Eyck's death.

The Kentucky woman was jailed again Thursday on a telegraphic warrant from sheriff Reno Bartolomie at Ukiah. However, District Attorney Frank S. Peterson of Mendocino County notified authorities here yesterday that "we aren't going to extradite."

Bartolomie said the fugitive warrant against Miss Hampton and plans to extradite her were being dropped temporarily. He said investigation of the case would continue.

Congo Debate Flops, Goes To Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Security Council wound up its Congo debate early today by killing off rival East-West proposals for dealing with the crisis. Ceylon pulled back its compromise plan to spare it from a similar fate.

The explosive issue now will be dumped into the lap of the General Assembly where weary delegates are striving to finish the first half of the session by next Tuesday.

92ND VETO

The Soviet Union cast its 92nd veto to defeat a Western resolution by Argentina, the United States, Italy and Britain which called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to continue his efforts to restore order in the Congo.

The West in turn voted down a Soviet demand that Patrice Lumumba, deposed Congo premier, be released from imprisonment at once, and that the Congo army chief, Col. Joseph Mobutu, disband his forces. The vote was two in favor with eight against and one abstention.

ATTEMPT DEFEATED

The Soviet Union and Poland voted for the proposal, Ceylon abstained.

A Soviet attempt to change drastically the wording of the Western resolution with a series of amendments was roundly defeated.

A last-minute resolution by Poland which merely called for the freeing of Lumumba was defeated by a vote of three in favor, six against and two abstentions.

The marathon session which wound up at 3:41 a.m. ended with a bitter clash between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Greyhound Given Rate Hike Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday granted temporary fare increases on long distance trips to five bus companies including Western Greyhound lines.

The commission order permitted Greyhound increases on trips of 250 miles or more which would produce $70,000 a month in new revenue. Commute fares are not affected.

Missile Base Blast

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A shattering explosion rocked the U.S. Navy missile test station on San Clemente Island last night, killing one man and injuring three others, the Navy reported. To Adopt Africans

PARIS (UPI) — Louis Armstrong, emerging from a gruelling 20,000-mile musical swing around troubled Africa, told newsmen, "Man, it was just like I expected."

"African cities are not any different from Chicago or New Orleans," the famed trumpet player said. "I loved them all." In fact, Armstrong said he was so pleased with his trip and the people he met that he decided to adopt two African babies from Cameroun.

Riots In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Mobs dragged the United States flag through the streets and stoned U.S.-Ecuadorean friendship centers yesterday in the second day of Communist-tinged disorders in this country. There was no report of new clashes between police and rioters like those in which half a dozen persons were injured Monday.

Tankers Collide

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Two tankers collided and exploded into flames with a shattering roar today in the Bosporus. Twenty-eight crewmen were unaccounted for.

Many sailors saved their lives by jumping from the flaming hulks and swimming ashore. Fifty-eight men, some badly burned, were rescued. Captains of both ships were missing.

The ships were a Greek tanker, the 20,000-ton World Harmony, and a Yugoslav tanker, the 25,000-ton Peter Zeranich.

Backlog Cleared

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The State Veterans Affairs Department has cleared up a backlog of 12,000 applications on file a year ago for Cal-Vet farm and home loans.

The reason, the department said yesterday, is because of its institution last summer of a plan under which veterans learn quickly after application whether they qualify for a state loan.

Checkup For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is in Walter Reed Army Hospital, completing the second phase of his annual medical checkup.

Eisenhower entered the hospital last night.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the president feels fine but wants to finish his physical examination. The first phase of the checkup was Sept. 15 and 16. Eisenhower is expected to stay in the presidential suite at Walter Reed until sometime tomorrow.

HE'LL LOSE $3 MILLION

McNamara Explains Why He Took Job

DETROIT (AP)—Why would a man be willing to lose some three million dollars in exchange for $25,000 a year and the title of secretary of defense?

Because, says Robert Strange McNamara, "Personal considerations must be subordinated to the responsibility to serve the president of the United States and the public on request."

McNamara announced yesterday that he was going to leave his job as president of the Ford Motor Co.—a post he has held for slightly more than a month — to join President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet as defense secretary.

McNamara, 44, said he planned to get rid of his 24,705 shares of Ford stock and the options he holds on 30,000 other shares.

"I will forego profit of about three million dollars over the next three to four years," he said.

All this for a $25,000 a year and the tremendous responsibilities of a job offered by a Democratic president-elect to a man who describes himself as a Republican, who votes as a political independent, and who refuses to say whether he voted for Kennedy because "my vote is my own affair."

McNamara, an Air Force veteran, appeared on the automotive scene in 1946 with the postwar reorganization of Ford. He and nine other experts who pioneered the complex job of setting up statistical controls for the Air Force took themselves to Ford as a package and asked for a chance to put their talents to work for the giant auto company.

Henry Ford II, company president then, took the 10 on, and in a short time they had undertaken a sweeping shake-up in company policy.

McNamara, a native of San Francisco, studied at the University of California. He looks and dresses like the school teacher he once was.

He; his wife, Margaret, a son, Robert Craig, 10; and a daughter, Kathleen, 16, live at nearby Ann Arbor. Another daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, 19, attends Stanford University.

Rail Men Get Preview Of Missile Train

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A long blue train may pull onto a siding in your town some night, and suddenly your neighborhood becomes a prime target area—until the train pulls out.

In the 10-car train are four or five windowless cars. Each car carries a glistening white missile ready to rocket a nuclear warhead 6,000 miles.

The missile, 58 feet long and 6feet in diameter at its base, is the Minuteman.

Solid-fueled and storable indefinitely, it can be jostled around on the nation's railroads for months or even years —then launched on a minute's notice.

Fifty of the country's top railroad executives yesterday got their first look at a full-scale mockup of a Minuteman train in a big hangar at the Boeing Airplane Co. plant here.

Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, conceded at a news conference that spies might with great effort learn where Minuteman trains of the future were parked each night. "But by the time they can get their information to Moscow," he said, "the trains will have gone on to other points on the nation's thousands of miles of railroads."

PROPOSED FOR TERRA LINDA—Architect's drawing shows one of the 19 cooperative apartment houses proposed by developer Calvin B. Wheeler which would be located in Terra Linda Meadows at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway. Each would have individual patios and car ports. Terra Lindans protested Wheeler's application to rezone the area at a public hearing before the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Apartment Project Zoning Protested

Irate Terra Lindans jammed the San Rafael City Council chambers last night to protest developer Calvin C. B. Wheeler's plans for a six-million-dollar cooperative apartment project at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway.

More than 70 persons—several lined against the walls—listened to and participated in the hour and one-half public hearing held by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Wheeler has applied for rezoning 16 acres of uninhabited land called Terra Linda Meadows from unclassified to garden apartments. The land is bordered on the north by an extension of the Freitas Parkway and on the east by Montecillo Road.

A 566-signature petition from nearby home owners was filed in protest to the rezoning. Seven individual letters also protested the plan.

Among opponents of the rezoning were the Terra Linda Community Services District board of directors, who filed a letter signed by director Michael J. Franzblau, and the Terra Linda Oaks No. 9 Home Owners Assn. (The community services district is outside the city, and Terra Linda No. 9 is outsides the services district and outside the city.)

They argued that development of aparmtents would invade privacy, represent piecemeal development in direct violation of the 1957 county master plan for the area which specifies a single-family community and lower property values.

The protestants also warned of overflow traffic conditions and overcrowded schools if the apartments were built.

Commissioners set the second public hearing for Jan. 10 at the request of San Rafael architect Rolland B. Hammond, who represents Wheeler.

In a 50-minute speech, Hammond outlined the plan for the apartment project.

(Wheeler also developed the cooperative Terra Linda Garden apartments near Highway 101 in Terra Linda.)

The project would consist of 19 apartment buildings containing about 178 units. He estimated about 530 people would live in the apartments.

Units of 750 to 1,500 square feet would be mostly two-bedrooms (47 per cent), with 33 per cent three bedrooms and 20 per cent one bedroom. Because they would be cooperative and the occupants would buy into the corporation, Hammond said, the normal rapid turnover of tenants would be eliminated.

Planned in the project are a community building with swimming pool, a one-acre park site and a smaller park. All would be maintained by the project residents, he said.

Hammond said the developer planned to spend $120,000 on landscaping.

The apartment buildings would be one and two story structures with enclosed individual patios and carports.

Hammond said the project would boost San Rafael's assessed valution by $3,115,000, twice the value of a single-family development in the area.

He denied there would be any school children from the apartment project than if the land were developed as single-family residences.

Wheeler submitted a tentative single-family subdivision map for 70 lots on the land in 1959, but it was turned down by the planning commission because he would not agree to extend and improve Manuel Freitas Parkway fronting on his property. Hammond presented maps showing Freitas Parkway would be extended along the north edge of the apartment project. The main outlet for the apartment occupants would be a north-south road opening onto the parkway.

Reed Students Plan Operetta

Reed School seventh and eighth graders will present an operetta, "Christmas For Others," at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school auditorium.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade choruses will sing before the performance and the advance band and orchestra will play. Eighth grade students will narrate. Operetta leads will be played by Steve Bunker, Kathy Bramante, Daniel Boffi, Rhonda Esplin, William Swigart, Wendy Poling and Elizabeth Love.

Planners Approve Addition For San Rafael Seminary

The San Rafael Planning Commission approved a $300,000 chapel-convent building for the Marist Fathers and a new office for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults last night.

Both use permits were granted quickly and unanimously.

The T-shaped building at St. Peter Chanel Seminary (Marist Fathers) at 1675 Grand Avenue is part of a five-year $500,000 expansion project.

Very Rev. Edward Donze, S.M., provincial of the Marist Fathers in this area, said it would almost double the present capacity of 70 students. Some 120 young men could then attend the six-year course through high school and junior college, he said.

Architects Wilton Smith and Associates of San Francisco have planned a two-story building which would include a chapel, library, convent, and housekeeping quarters. Construction is expected to begin in June, according to Father Donze. Partial occupancy is expected by the end of next year.

The Crippled Children's Society was granted permission to renovate an old five-room house at 629 Mission Avenue. Society president Frank J. Keaton said it will make possible putting all its activities in one building for the first time in the organization's 20-year history.

He said the financing will be from the society's Easter Seal funds. The society hopes to move into the new offices by the end of January, he said.

Telephone Company Pays County Tax: $444,043

The state's and Marin's largest taxpayer, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., turned over a $444,043.58 check this week to the county as its first installment payment of 1960-61 Marin County taxes.

This, plus taxes to cities that collect their own (Fairfax and San Anselmo), brings PT&T's total first installment payment to $450,935.21. The company's tax for both installments this year is $899,390.13.

This year's payment by PT&T is an increase of $74,645.33 over last year's $824,744.80.

First installment checks, paid to the county by various utility companies this week, are as follows:

Library Board Chairman Quits

Robert H. Menzies, president of the San Rafael Library Board since 1925, officially resigned from the board Monday night.

The 84-year-old Menzies has been confined to a local convalescent hospital for almost five months.

Board members accepted his resignation and expressed gratitude for his long years of service. He has been a member of the library board since 1914 — six years after the library was built.

Menzies was reappointed by the mayor last year for a four-year term. Mrs. Eleanor G. Murray has been serving as acting president.

Marindale School Classrooms Planned

Two additional classrooms at the Marindale School for handicapped children in Terra Linda will be finished by next September, it was announced at the meeting of the Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children last week.

The group will meet again Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital annex.

THREE GENERATIONS AT GROUNDBREAKING

Cost By Foot Of Road Work Told Council

Widening of a portion of Center Road in Novato will probably cost residents $6 to $7 a foot, city councilmen heard last night.

Councilmen officially named Center, between Diablo and Tamalpais Streets, as the first section for city road work.

The 60-foot right of way required would result in about 42 feet of actual street, councilmen noted. Total cost of the project was estimated at $69,000. It would be borne 50-50 by residents and the city. City Administrator J. Julien Baget noted that the project probably would require formation of an assessment district.

Center Road residents, who have plumped for road improvement for months, patiently sat until the matter came up at midnight.

"Is it possible to get this Center Road discussion a little earlier in the night," plaintively asked Jack A. Seely of 1613 Center Road, on hearing that a further report is expected on costs and resident participation.

In other business last night, the council:

1. Agreed to payment of the $500 budgeted to the Novato Chamber of Commerce, to cover the $506.52 cost of printing 3,000 city maps and 2,000 brochures. Councilmen turned down a request for another $358.16 for printing a sales letter pointing out a coming sale and city benefits from the sales tax.

2. Set a special meeting for 8 p.m., Tuesday, for consideration of the pending business license ordinance.

3. Approved a bicycle ordinance setting a 50-cent fee for a license for the life of the bike.

4. Set for Jan. 3 a hearing on a proposed electrical code.

NOVATO KIDS SOON MAY GET A JET PLANE

Novato ..may ..have a jet plane sitting in its front yard soon for children to clamber on.

City councilmen last night agreed to consider requesting a plane from the Air Force, after Maj. L. D. Sorenson of Hamilton Air Force Base told them they could get a surplus plane at little or no cost.

The plane might be placed temporarily on the grounds of one of the schools in the Novato Unified District until the city has a park. School officials, also meeting last night, agreed to the move if the city would foot any bills.

Sorenson suggested Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, as a possible arrival date for the plane, to be christened "The City of Novato." The type of plane would depend on available surplus aircraft.

School Plan For Summer Recommended

Larkspur School District's first summer school program, in 1961, should include both "enrichment" and remedial courses, the citizens advisory committee told the district board last night.

The district principals already have recommended that such a program be set up, and plans are under way.

The citizens committee recommended a small fee be charged pupils to help defray expenses.

The board heard the text of a letter to be sent to parents, outlining conduct expected of pupils when riding school buses.

A warning will be given for a first violation; riding privileges will be removed for a week for a second violation, and for the rest of the year for a third violation.

The board also:

1. Heard that the contract for purchase of the new school site in Mariners Cove will be ready for signing as soon as county counsel makes some changes in the phrasing.

2. Asked that a committee of Parent-Teacher Assn. and Dads' Club members be formed to consider a name for the new school.

3. Told Supt. Vaughn Seidel to accept applications from any persons within or outside the district for the positions of summer school principal and principal of the new school.

4. Discussed a salary schedule for non-teaching personnel. Mervin Gootherts, principal of Hall School, will present a tentative schedule at the next meeting.

5. Heard Dr. Seidel report trees in front of Larkspur-Corte Madera school are cracking the sidewalk.

Master Plan Study Backed In Novato

Novato city councilmen voted last night to back a restudy of the North Marin Master Plan.

They renamed Harley McAskill to the city planning commission, which will direct the study. McAskill, chairman of the commission, and other commission members had drawn lots less than a year ago after their appointment following city incorporation. McAskill and building inspector Fred Westfall drew on-year posts. McAskill's reappointment last night is to a four-year term. Westfall declined reappointment, saying his other duties were too pressing. City councilmen agreed to consider other residents for the post and choose one in a future closed executive session.

Councilmen authorized the planning commission to concentrate on a review of the present and future location and needs of the city's main business section, following a review of population, and establishment of residential densities.

Other study points would include land use, quantity of commercial and industrial land, conservation, community design, streets and highways.

The council also approved a list of citizens' committees which would study Novato's present and possible future problems, from recreation to finance. Mayor Wayne Womack noted that volunteers for the committes still are needed. Thirty-two have volunteered; there are 70 openings.

Councilmen turned down a proposal for rezoning from limited agriculture to three-family residential, part of a long, narrow strip of land on the west side of Highway 101.

Councilmen doubted the safety of two direct accesses to the highway and the advisability of such zoning in the area, located just south of the Safeways Stores property. Owner Richard Stockton had planned a motel, restaurant and cocktail lounge.

The vote to deny the rezoning request was 4-1, with Councilman Charles R. Johnson voting in favor. The council noted that rezoning might be reconsidered if Stockton found better access routes.

In other planning matters, the council:

1. Provisionally approved the final map of Villa Maria subdivision of builder John Novak can come to agreement with city officials on the work needed on Center Road near the subdivision.

2. Sent back to the planning commission for further consideration the proposal of Jack Caristi to build a doughnut shop at Second Street and Industrial Way. The planning commission had denied the request because of substandard parking planned. Caristi now has new plans.

3. Approved a 20-square foot overhanging sign for Harold's shoe store on Grant Avenue, and asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget for a recommendation on a sign ordinance which would eliminate a hearing on each sign overhanging the sidewalk.

4. Approved a 62-by-24 foot doughnut shop at the Nave Shopping Center, facing South Novato Boulevard. The action overrode the planning commission turndown of the plan.

Michigan State University has started an African Language and Area Center, where African languages are taught.

Safeway May Delay Novato Store Work

The Safeway supermarket in Novato, promised for construction beginning next May 1, will not begin to rise until at least two months later.

William A. Landtbom, representing Safeway interests, appeared before the Novato City Council last night to point out the "possibility of delay."

Landtbom promised councilmen that the store, planned as part of a shopping center at the intersection of Highway 101, Diablo Avenue and Novato Boulevard, will be constructed. But Safeway interests had assumed that an agreement "was imminent" between the City of Novato and the State Division of Highways on a route for an ultimate eight-lane freeway, he said.

Landtbom said that since grades and final highway plans had not been decided, no plans for the shopping center could be fully worked out.

Fire Commission Meets Tonight

The San Rafael Fire Commission will consider tonight whether to repeal the regulation that firemen must reside within the city limits.

The Joseph Sauer Fire Station No. 3, now under construction across Highway 101 from Terra Linda, will be in an area closer to many homes in unincorporated Marin than to most of those in the city. Fire Chief Vance Trivett said today the location of the station will simplify manning problems if firemen are allowed to reside outside the city limits.

The meeting is set for 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

Septic Tank Meeting

William Desmond, sanitation chief for the Marin County Health Department, will discuss septic tank problems at a meeting of the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan Committee at the Woodacre Improvement Club at 8 o'clock tonight.

Education, Recreation Increase For Aged Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two ways to ease the recreation problems of the aged were proposed yesterday by Elmer Aldrich, chief of the State Division of Recreation.

Aldrich, testifying before a state senate subcommittee on housing and recreation for the elderly, urged financial support of adult education classes be increased, and fees for the use of recreational facilities by the elderly be reduced.

He said the cheapest way of easing the recreational problem of the aged would be to cut fees for them at park facilities, on hunting and fishing licenses, for adult education courses, and on public transportation during non-peak hours.

A State Department of Education official said adult education courses help cut down physical, intellectual and emotional decline in older people. The official, Lawrence Koehler, said more than 50,000 adults aged over 60 enroll each year in California schools.

This demand will require more classes especially tailored for the aged, he said.

Planners In Larkspur Delay Zoning Debate

Larkspur Planning Commission, by a 3 to 2 vote last night, decided it wanted to consider rezoning the marshland property along Magnolia Avenue to something other than single-family residential. The matter will be discussed at the Dec. 27 meeting.

The property, which stretches between Doherty Drive and Bon Air Road, is now zoned for business. It is owned by A. B. Copeland and American Agency.

Commissioner S. W. (Bud) Eason and chairman Price Hall voted against rezoning consideration.

By a 4-to-1 vote, the commission decided against a single residential zoning for the property. Vaughn Marker was the dissenter.

The commission granted a request from Norman Clark for a lot split in the Marshland along Corte Madera Creek, near Magnolia and Doherty. The split will break the property into two 50-foot wide lots, each 200 feet deep.

Novato Club To Meet On Loan Request

Members of the Novato Community Club will meet tonight to vote on whether to allow the club to borrow $6,500 to $7,500 for clubhouse repair.

An injunction against the meeting, hinted by San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich, will not be requested of Marin Superior Court. But Weissich did not dismiss the possibility of a future injunction against spending the funds.

Weissich is attorney for club member Alfred Bowman, who has filed a suit seeking to force the club to give is property at 906 Machin Street to the City of Novato.

The meeting tonight will be to vote on whether to change the by-laws to allow the club to go over its present $500 debt ceiling to bring the old house up to fire and safety standards.

Panel To Debate Tower Apartments

"Should Tower Apartments be Permitted in Marin County?" will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. on radio station KTIM's "Sounding Board" by a panel including four participants in recent controversy over the Harbor Point rezoning project before Marin County planners and supervisors.

Wtih Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator, the panel will consist of Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for Samuel R. Neider, the Strawberry developers; Lloyd Flood, architect for the towers and associated development intended to follow rezoning; planning director Mary Summers, and Rolland B. Hammond, Strawberry architect who has opposed the rezoning.

Questions from listeners will be answered. The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday from a tape recording.

Yule Program Set By School

Sun Valley School's all-school Christmas program will be given at 11:15 a.m. tomorrow.

After season's greetings by third graders, the first and second grades will share Christmas Tree Elves and Awakening of Toys. "The Presepio" will be given by the sixth grade as part of its Italian language study.

Choir selections will include a Christmas enactment by the fifth grade. Several classes have composed their own words and music for the program.

Accompanists and choir directors will be Mrs. Ruth Sempell, Mrs. Roberta Smith and Miss Alice Tobin.

The Sun Valley kindergarten presented its Christmas program today.

SCHOOLS

bers had "discovered many things calling for praise at all levels of education."

He called "important" the insistence that teachers have the right to appeal to the school board dismissal or complaints. At least one school district, he indicated, dismisses any teacher who appears before the school board or has other citizens appear on his behalf.

Salaries should keep teachers both in the classroom and in the profession, he said.

"There is some advantage in a teacher being familiar with the subjects she is teaching," he declared.

The commission also is recommending more study time on basic subjects, student achievement reports from higher to lower schools, less intensified physical education program, multiple adoption of textbooks, and placing of state heads of school divisions on a contractual rather than civil service basis.

Mrs. Irmgard B. Beard of Glennville, Kern County, a former teacher and another of the three signers of the minority report, objected to the educational philosophy of "life adjustment and running with the group."

Joseph Genser of El Cerrito, attorney for the State Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO), declared the "two most important" recommendations are the statewide testing program and multiple adoption of textbooks.

Normal C. Hayhurst, Glendale Savings and Loan Assn. president, urged in a letter a 20 per cent increase in bonding capacity of school districts. He was one of four signers of a minority opinion objecting to a proposed state testing program.

Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, chemistry professor emeritus at University of California in Berkeley, gave lengthy support to the majority's recommendations.

He said he was forced to "present the case for the classroom teachers" because only 11 of some 250 witnesses were teachers.

Novato residents may donate blood until 7 o'clock tonight at Trevitt hall.

Body Washes Up On Coast Of Marin

The body of a Coast Guardsman, missing since a rescue mission on Thanksgiving Day, may have washed ashore near the Radio Corp. of America station at Point Reyes this morning.

Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen headed for the coast south of the RCA station today after getting reports that a body had been sighted in the area.

Hugh James McClements, 19, of Cotati has been missing since he and Anthony E. Holmes, 24, left the Point Reyes Lifeboat Station to tow in a disabled boat in Bodega Bay. Their Coast Guard boat was found with its motor still running, grounded on the beach near the life station. Holmes' body washed ashore a few days later.

Lagunitas School Gets State Loan

The State Allocations Board yesterday allocated a $213,400 school building loan to the Lagunitas School District for construction of a multi-purpose room and five classrooms.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye said the addition should be finished by next September.

Frye estimated that the building will cost between $280,000 and $290,000. The state funds will be added to an $80,000 bond issue that passed at the polls last September, Frye said.

The building program calls for the erection of sixth, seventh and eighth grade classrooms with a possible fifth grade room and a multi-purpose room, Frye reported.

DUE LEGISLATURE

School Finance Program Detailed

A county equalization program for schools will be presented to the State Legislature by the California Department of Education.

Its purpose, Supt. Frank L. Lucas told the San Rafael Board of Education last night, is to equalize educational benefits among all school districts within a county—which is also one of the purposes for proposed consolidation of school districts on a county-wide basis.

But its effect, Lucas contended, would be to make California taxpayers bear an additional 21 million dollars of the expense of operating schools out of real property taxes.

Lucas said he is opposed to the program. Two of the board members, Willard Vernon and Harold H. Fulkerson, were inclined to favor it.

The state now assists in the support of school districts to a "base" or minimum outlay per child in attendance. For high school districts, the base is $324 per student.

Of this, the state grants all school districts $125 per student provided in the state constitution. Each high school district must allot the proceeds of a 40-cent tax rate to add to that $125. If that does not bring the total to $324, the state makes up the difference.

The new proposal would up the minimum to $340 per student—or $350 if the state gets additional funds which will be sought in another bill.

It also provides that the district must allot the proceeds of a 50-cent tax rate toward the basic $340—10 cents more than at present.

To equalize the distribution, the assessed valuation behind each child—plus whatever federal subsidies are received by districts for educating children living on federal lands or whose parents are in federal employ — would be figured county-wide. Then the state would make up the difference, if any, between the $125 basic grant plus the proceeds of a 50-cent tax rate and federal subsidies, and the $340 figure.

In Marin County, said Lucas, this would work out so that San Rafael High School District, which receives no state aid this year beyond the $125 basic grant per child, would get an additional $30 per student.

But Novato Unified District, which now gets $43.98 in additional state aid per high school student, would receive just $1 per student.

Tamalpais High School District, which now receives $38.35 per student, would get $33, he said.

The differences arise because Novato has only $26,700 assessed valuation for each high school student, but has many federal employees (at Hamilton Air Force Base) so receives federal aid totaling $39 per student. San Rafael High School District has $35,600 assessed valuation behind each student, but gets federal aid totaling only $8 per student. And Tam District, with $37,000 in assessed valuation for each student, gets federal aid totaling only $5 each.

Thus San Rafael would benefit considerably by the scheme, but Novato would lose heavily.

Lucas said he considers the formula unsound. He noted also that the $340 per high school student is little more realistic as applied to actual educational costs than the $324 in the present state aid formula. A list of California high school districts with enrollments between 1,000 and 2,000 showed that the amount spent per child ranges from a low of $375 in Lompoc to a high of $964 in Taft.

A similar formula would be applied to elementary school districts under the proposed bill, but Lucas said he had not yet worked out its application to districts in Marin.

Novato Horsemen Set Yule Dinner

The annual installation and Christmas dinner of the Novato Horsemen will be Saturday. Cocktails at 7 p.m. will be followed by dinner at 8 p.m.

Officers to be installed are Ralph "Doc" Briggs, president; Neil Cullins, vice president; Mrs. Alfred Cazzaniga, secretary; Oliver Mauch, treasurer. Directors to be installed are Orville Petersen, Stanley Scott, Robert Farina, and A. N. (Ad) Schwindt, and past president Edward Allen Jr.

The installation program will include dancing and a visit from Santa Claus. Cullins is chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. Ralph McGrath and Mrs. Donald Cuneo.

Shrine Club Plans Christmas Party

Christmas carols, Santa Claus and dancing featured the weekend Christmas party of the Marin County Shrine Club.

The party was staged at the Meadow Club in Fairfax, with Roy D. Bailey, Shrine Club president, in charge. Bailey presented his corps of officers and the illustrious potentate of Islam Temple, Harold W. Stelling, with his divan officers.

Pediatrics Post

A Tiburon physician, Dr. Hulda E. Thelander, 40 Seafirth Place, has been elected to membership in the new specialty section on child development of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Dr. E. H. Christopherson, executive director, announced today in Evanston, Ill.

Hearing Set On Giving Planners More Control

First public hearing on a proposal to give the San Rafael Planning Commission architectural control powers over every new building in the city except single-family homes and duplexes will be held Jan. 24.

Only manufacturing and commercial buildings and East San Rafael apartments are now subject to architectural approval by the commissioners.

Commissioners, in the proposed amendment presented last night, declared that the move was an "endeavor to provide that architectural and general appearance of . . . buildings and grounds be in keeping with the character of the neighborhood and . . . not be detrimental to the orderly and harmonious development of the city."

Commissioners last night postponed until Dec. 27 consideration of use permits for a beauty shop, two unidentified shops, an office, storage rooms and a restaurant in Commonwealth Development Co.'s light industrial subdivision and Marin Professional Center, across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Both were protested by Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center on Professional Center Parkway. He asked the commission to delay any action until City Planner Donald Newmark presents a recommendation for rezoning the area, which is now unclassified.

Acting on the orders of the city council, the commission last night also revoked a use permit granted Parker A. Archer of Belvedere for a 42-unit apartment house on Professional Center Parkway. It also had been protested by Dr. Neal.

Developer Harry Heifetz and Commissioner Carl Brown argued unsuccessfully for action on the commercial development last night.

"We better straighten out this hodge-podge of classifications and decide just what can go in there," declared Commissioner Nicholas Dollwet.

In other action, the planning commission:

1. Granted a use permit for a Northgate Shopping Center sign on Manuel Freitas Parkway, after chopping it down from 35-by-17 feet to 15-by-12 feet.
2. Approved a use permit for Wyman McClure to move his real estate office from 711 D Street to 313 First Street.
3. Heard a no-protest first public hearing on rezoning Seaview Estates No. 1 and 2—containing 143 lots on either side of Glenwood—from planned community to a special single-family residential. Second hearing is set for Dec. 27.
4. Because of the lengthy agenda, continued many items until the Dec. 27 meeting.

College Trustees Hire Firm To Draw Up Master Plan

College of Marin trustees last night hired Falk and Booth, architectural firms of San Francisco, to draw up a master plan for the college.

The architects, whose services also include engineering, were hired without opposition after the board had spent several months interviewing architects. The board spent a day last month in the offices of the architects.

No estimate was given of the amount of work to be done, which would include plans for new buildings and an estimate of the use value of existing buildings. The architects will charge on a basis of work performed.

The board instructed Dr. Stephen E. Epler, director of the college, to call for bids on the 1961-62 catalog. It is expected the 128-page catalog will be ready for distribution in March. The contract will call for 4,000 copies to be printed.

Approval was given Dr. Epler to attend an American Junior College Assn. convention in Washington, D. C. from Feb. 27 to March 8. Voting against the expense-paid trip were trustees George G. Washburn and Robert E. Oliver. Dr. Epler, former head of Reedley Junior College before coming to College of Marin this year, said he had attended the annual conference for the past five years.

Other field trips and conferences for faculty members were approved unanimously by the board.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Approved employment of Margaret Huffman as a multilith operator at $2.25 an hour.
2. Hired Caroline Witt as an accompanist for a new evening class in music at $3.50 an hour.
3. Approved employment of Douglas Smith as an assistant in the computor laboratory at $1.25 an hour.

Holiday Customs Of Other Lands Told At Meeting

"Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me."

That was the theme of the Ross Valley 4-H Club's weekend Christmas program, featuring American Field Service exchange students in Marin County.

The guest speakers, who told of holiday customs of their families at home, were Victoria Geneteau of Panama, living with the Charles Leisures of Terra Linda; Roger Smeets of Belgium, living with the Robert Evjus in San Rafael; Jacques Delacroix of France, residing with the Arvid Kruths of Novato; Charles Katungi of Uganda, living with the family of Judge Richard M. Sims in Tiburon; Jacqueline Marterer of France, who lives with the William Gilberts of Corte Madera, and Ricardo Szekely of Chile, living with the family of Dr. Edwin Boero in San Anselmo.

During the potluck supper, club members presented $29.36 to the UNICEF program.

Lorelyn Youngclaus was program chairman.

Reed Students Will Give To Needy

Reed School fourth through eighth graders will contribute to needy families and overseas charitable organizations instead of exchanging Christmas gifts, according to school Principal Robert B. Gaw.

The seventh and eighth grade student council decided on the project, which will benefit CARE, the Junior Red Cross and the National Sharecroppers Fund.

'City Family' Losing 2 In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo City Council last night accepted the resignation of one member of the city's official family, and learned that it will lose another next month by retirement.

Accepted with regret was the resignation from the planning commission of its chairman, Mrs. Mary E. Donnelly.

She announced she is quitting at the end of this year because of pressure of her other duties.

City fathers voted her a letter of commendation for her 10 years of service on the commission, and decided to postpone the appointment of her successor until next month.

Mayor William Franchini suggested that each councilman think about possible candidates for the planning commission and bring in suggestions on Jan. 10.

Officer James F. Farmer of the police department will retire on Jan. 31 because he will be 65 years old, Chief Raymond Buchignani announced. City councilmen authorized an examination to be held on Jan. 7 to create an eligible list from which to pick a new policeman.

Other actions taken by the council last night:

1. Councilmen will visit the lot of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ralphs at the extension of Millbrae Avenue Sunday. The Ralphs want to subdivide the lot into two, but the lot has no frontage road. Only access is a 20-foot easement from Millbrae Avenue. A decision will be made at a short special meeting set for 8 p.m. Tuesday.
2. Warren P. Landon, San Anselmo's representative to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, will be contacted to see if he would serve another two-year term.
3. Approved a final payment of $2,928 to former City Engineer John Oglesby for survey work done on the Sorich property.
4. Approved change order that raises the city hall remodeling cost by about $600, to a total of $25,683.
5. Introduced an ordinance that would integrate city civil defense with the county's. Only other cities not integrated with the county are Larkspur and Sausalito, the administrator reported.
6. Call for bids to expand the recreation building at Memorial Park behind Isabel Cook School. Bids will be opened on Jan. 10.
7. Bought 170 new police shoulder insignias at $2.30 per pair.
8. Bought a mimeograph machine for $140.
9. Set Jan. 17 as date for a public discussion of improving San Anselmo Avenue from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Florence Avenue. Administrator Flautt reported that the street is only 24 feet wide. The state requires 24 feet of unobstructed street if state funds are to be used for improvement. This means parking must be abolished on that strip, if state money is used.

Two Hub City Firemen Promoted To Captain

San Anselmo firemen Richard McLaren and William Rawlins won promotions to captain last night by 3-to-2 city council vote.

McLaren and Rawlins passed their examinations in one-two order in October. The vote split occurred because Fire Chief Nello Marcucci had recommended McLaren and William Souza as captains. The fire chief had suggested that Rawlins and Robert Beedle be made lieutenants.

City fathers decided that lieutenants' posts would not be created now because that would make the "brass" top-heavy.

Councilmen Carleton G. E. Little, John M. Reichmuth, and Mayor William Franchini voted for McLaren and Rawlins on the basis of examination results. Administrator Douglas Flautt reported that Souza's long experience (about 30 years) as fireman had been taken into account in the examination.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted "no," insisting that the fire chief's choice of Souza over Rawlins should be accepted, especially because of Souza's long service. Councilman Robert E. Rouse said he had no way of knowing whether to accept Chief Marcucci's recommendation or the examination results and therefore sought a postponement so he could talk to the candidates personally. Unable to get the postponement, he also voted "no."

The new captains will get a one-step pay increase, which means about $300 per year, the administrator reported.

Councilmen asked the administrator to recommend the hiring of two new firemen to help man the second firehouse, which will open on Butterfield Road next month. This will raise the fire department force from 14 to 16 men. The two new firemen will be picked from an eligible list of six announced in October.

Flautt disclosed that only two or three eligible men remain out of the original six because the rest have been disqualified medically or taken other jobs. He promised to submit two names at a special meeting set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Councilmen authorized purchase of the following items for the new firehouse: Six beds and miscellaneous furniture from California Corrections Industries; a refrigerator from Ongaro Plumbing Co., and a stove from Braverman Furniture Co. Total cost will be under $1,500.

Sanitary District Still Negotiating

Directors of the Novato Sanitary District will continue negotiation of an easement through the Richard Stockton property, they agreed at a meeting Monday.

Probable cost of the easement is $1,275, district manager A. H. Tresch reported. The property is on the west side of Highway 101, south of the Safeway Stores property. Stockton, of Mill Valley, plans a motel on the property.

Directors approved two annexations to the district: a lot on Center Road near Eucalyptus Avenue and one on Virginia Avenue, between Simmons and Grant Streets.

1,500 CHILDREN PHONE SANTA'S HELPERS HERE

More than 1,500 youngsters telephoned Santa Claus last night to place orders to fill their Christmas stockings.

In San Rafael, 1,004 boys and girls dialed the telephones manned by junior chamber of commerce members in the Independent-Journal office, and 549 boys and girls placed calls in the Novato area.

Tonight is the final night youngsters will have a chance to use the special Christmas service provided for the third year by the Independent-Journal and the junior chambers of commerce of Novato and San Rafael.

Children in North Marin may call TW 2-6600 and those living in South and Central Marin may dial GL 4-3020 between 7 and 9 o'clock tonight to speak to Santa person to person.

Artists' Works Brighten Home

San Rafael's Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital was brightened for the holidays yesterday by the first of a series of art exhibits to be provided by local artists, according to Mill Valley artists Elsie Pomeroy of 33 Elm Avenue.

Mrs. Pomeroy provided the first one and Dorothy Williams of Kentfield will do the second.

"We hope to make this a regular project," Mrs. Pomeroy said," with exhibits to be changed about every three months." She asked that any artist interested in participating in the plan call her.

Penalty Decision Delayed By Board

San Rafael Board of Education members were undecided last night whether to assess contractor Ray I. Johnson $50 per day penalty for the 42 days he ran beyond the contract limit on the $1,240,000 job of building Terra Linda High School.

The board accepted a notice of completion of the new school, filed Nov. 30. The deadline for contract compliance was Oct. 18. The contract provided a penalty of $50 per day beyond that deadline.

Board member Rex Silvernale said he agreed a penalty was in order "despite extenuating circumstances." He suggested it should be in the amount of actual additional cost to one district.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas said he had not tabulated actual additional costs and did not know of any beyond paying the inspector for the additional time —"maybe $700 to $800."

Architect Carl Gromme said he considered the "extenuating circumstances" cited by Johnson "mostly something he just pulled out of the air."

At suggestion of board member Willard E. Vernon, the board directed that Johnson file a list of the "extenuating circumstances" he thought should cancel out the penalty—which at most would total $2,100.

In another building matter, the board authorized Gromme to proceed with plans for the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School on the basis of a revised plot plan which he presented last night. He was directed also to work up plans for drainage of the site, which Lucas said might be carried out in cooperation with the City of San Rafael, now installing a new storm sewer and pumps in the area of the school site on Woodland Avenue.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson reported Hamilton Air Force Base had made available 15 seats on buses going to parochial schools for students from Capehart Housing and Raphael Village attending San Rafael High School, which "puts us just about even" in providing bus transportation for all students.

2. Lucas reported a teacher's heel "went through the floor of Coleman School," resulting in a termite inspection by Williams Termite Control, which reported $1,400 worth of work needed to correct termites and fungus at the school. The board directed that he also get estimates from other companies.

3. The board voted 3-to-2 to permit the Junior Symphony of Marin to have pupils take home material on its concert series. Vernon urged the distribution be allowed, with Lucas and chairman C. Paul Bettini arguing against it. Lucas pointed out that the policy has been to allow pupils to take home only that material put out by the schools themselves, the Parent-Teacher Assns. and the city recreation department. Bettini and board member Harold H. Fulkerson voted "no" on the Junior Symphony permission as possibly opening the door to use of the schools to distribute other promotional material.

4. The board approved adoption of "Foundations of Life Science" by Mark Groubard as a text for high school science departments.

5. John Ely, supervisor of transportation, submitted his resignation, advising that he is going into business for himself.

Brown Bids For Winter Capital

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown disclosed yesterday he had invited President-elect John F. Kennedy to establish his winter capital in California.

The governor didn't get a positive yes, but his bid drew a special nod from Kennedy for the Monterey peninsula.

Drunken Driver Draws Fine Of $158

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Chidester, 38, of 20 Oak Manor, San Anselmo, drew a $158 fine and six months probation yesterday for her first drunken driving conviction.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court ordered her not to drive for the next 90 days. She was caught in Corte Madera on Dec. 11.

Board Approves Loan To Terra Linda High

The San Rafael High School student body has the city board of education's blessing for offering an interest-free loan to the Terra Linda High student body—but the board members think part of the money should be a gift.

The board last night received a resolution by the San Rafael High Student Council offering the Terra Linda High Student Council a $1,000 loan, to draw no interest, and to be repaid at not less than $100 per year with the first payment in June, 1964.

While praising the generous terms of the loan, board members suggested that some 150 Terra Linda students formerly attended San Rafael High "and part of the money rightfully belongs to Terra Linda."

To a motion approving the loan, board member Roderick P. Martinelli added a recommendation that the San Rafael students "give serious thought to the question of equity" in granting the Terra Linda student body an outright gift of whatever amount is in the San Rafael student treasury from students now attending Terra Linda High.

Gets Promotion

SPIKE HEEL WEARERS CAUSE $617 OUTLAY

Unplanned things are happening at the Marin County Planning Commission.

For one, women visitors with spiked heels are getting stuck in the floor.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who called "a dangerous condition" in the planners' chambers to attention of the board of supervisors yesterday, privately confessed that his own offices are underneath and he feels personal apprehension.

His letter said the floor "is deteriorating to where it is considered dangerous," being of soft pine boards. It has worn, he said, "to where women with high heels have had their heels caught in the slivered sections."

He recommended laying plywood panels with floor tile on it, at cost estimated at $617.36.

The supervisors promptly approved this repair.

Kennedy Aide May Challenge State Results

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Court action may be taken this week in an attempt to stop certification of California's 32 electoral votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles, co-director of President-elect John F. Kennedy's Southern California campaign, said yesterday he had two investigators looking into the results of the Nov. 8 election.

Unruh did not charge fraud in the count of the state's votes, but he said he was concerned about the possibility of errors in the tally.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

County Board Forms Water Advisory Unit

A resolution to establish a Marin County Water Advisory Committee was adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday on recommendation of Administrator Alan Bruce.

Bruce presented letters of approval from William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District, and Jerome B. Gilbert, in the same capacity for North Marin Water District.

Each district is to be represented by one member. The remainder of the committee will be made up of one each from the county planning department and the administrator's office, and one other to represent the area outside the two major water districts.

A letter from the Bolinas Public Utility District was received by the board, expressing readiness to provide a member on a basis of more than 30 years of service to its area, and Bolinas was awarded the other seat.

Each of the groups involved is to select its own representative.

The supervisors also:

1. Authorized payment of $1,500 to Paul Kalustyan-Cornell for damage to his home at 613 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, from construction of a storm water lift station adjacent. The Bertram Andersons, neighbors, had obtained a similar amount by filing suit.
2. Learned of state plans to prohibit left turns from South Knoll Road when Tiburon Boulevard is made four-lane, and asked the planning commission to review this against the master plan.
3. Learned that average daily population at Juvenile Hall during November was 39 youngsters.
4. Approved a right of way contract for $12,740 with Thomas A. and Isabel Nunes to acquire 1.8 acres for Lucas Valley road extension, to be carried past the county farm and through the newly acquired property next spring.
5. Decided their earlier suspicions of a $30 calculator desired by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos from Civil Defense surplus weren't justified, and authorized its purchase.
6. Ordered suspension of electrical service to the Bob Beban home at 241 California Street, Mill Valley, until its wiring is made safe.
7. Received with chuckles and filed a letter from J. Warnock Walsh Jr. of 221 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, applauding its burning of Marin City buildings and declaring that the objecting Bay Area Air Pollution Control District during three years had "proven itself a parasitic and worthless appendage to the body politic."
8. Heard that nine recommendations by the State Bureau of Hospitals relative to improvement of conditions at the county hospital and farm have mostly been met by improvements.

County Fair Fund For Three Years Approved By State

Marin's county fair appropriations for three years ahead have received approval of State Finance Director John Carr, County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board of supervisors yesterday.

He said Carr has sent a report which he plans to give to the State Public Works Board next Monday, asking it to accept in principle a five-year program for capital outlay allocations to county and district fairs and specifically to approve allocations for 1960-61 fairs.

"We are pleased to note," said Bruce, "that although the 1960-61 amounts requested statewide have been reduced from over 13 million dollars to just under two million dollars, Marin County's request of $115,000 for 1960-61 is recommended in full by Mr. Carr. Marin County's requested amounts for 1961-62 and 1962-63 are also recommended by Mr. Carr." Bruce said the request is for $105,000 each year.

NO DECISION YET

Tower Apartment Hearing Lengthy

By RANDALL GOULD

A special session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors played the eighth rendition of the "Strawberry Point tower apartments" melodrama before a packed house until early today but left the punch line to be delivered next Tuesday afternoon.

The public hearing was officially terminated about 12:30 a.m. The supervisors decided to come to final grips with the Samuel R. Neider rezoning at 3 p.m. Dec. 20.

That will be the day before a deadline Neider's attorney said was set by New York financiers for putting up money to start the purportedly 20-million-dollar project, which its supporters say could return $250,000 tax money to the county annually.

More than 100 Strawberry residents were unhappy at this anticlimax. But they had plenty to interest them, including a midnight declaration by Supervisor Vera Schultz that County Counsel E. Warren McGuire had turned up legal reason for questioning the whole proceeding.

Special piquancy was lent this situation by the fact that spokesman for the opposition last night was attorney Leland H. Jordan, who was county counsel — and McGuire's chief—until a month ago.

The proceedings were enlivened by applause and interjections from the opposition, admonitions by Supervisor William B. Fusselman that the audience must behave, an inquiry from the audience as to whether Fusselman wouldn't like to disqualify himself, and Fusselman's disgusted reply that any such suggestion was "ridiculous."

Because the supervisors' chambers couldn't hold the crowd, the hearing was moved to Judge N. Charles Brusatori's courtroom, which promptly filled to overflowing.

Attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, representing Neider, suggested this was "an hour of decision in Marin County as to whether we are to go forward or backward."

He introduced Belvedere architect Lloyd Flood, partner with Ralph T. Walters in preparing the project.

In showing colored slides of luxurious towers, town houses, and other amenities, Flood stressed that tax return as against use of the land for houses would return a $225,000 tax profit" to the county each year.

For the opposition, Jordan introduced six speakers in turn and then summarized. His group included architect John Lord King for the Richardson Bay Foundation and Dr. David Steinhart for the Marin Conservation League as well as previously heard Strawberry group representatives.

Summarizing, Jordan stressed such points as possible congestion and the remoteness of the debated area. He charged the type of project proposed could effect "a total change in our living—it represents a complete change in the philosophy of the zoning of the past."

Like architect Rolland B. Hammond, who said the idea was to "build a city atmosphere in Marin," he emphasized deviation from the Tiburon Master Plan and the large-scale community resistance.

"Tonight we have seen an effort to 'talk to death' through two hours and 15 minutes," McCarthy led off in rebuttal.

McCarthy said that the opposition "wants to scare you and make you think it's the end of the world." He charged that specific opponents sought to create monopoly in concessions they had obtained.

Fusselman at 11:45 p.m. expressed anxiety that he'd been in process of "being hypnotized." "There should be a limit to all things," he declared.

Then in a lengthy, often emotional talk with several references to the finish of her supervisorial service this month," Mrs. Schultz sprung her legalistic surprise. She said "human error" had been made—"we haven't proceeded properly" and called on McGuire to tell why.

McGuire's explanation was complicated. In effect, it was that rezoning should be initiated either by planning commission or supervisors, rather than by private action.

But, he said, maybe the action of the board Nov. 29 in referring the matter back to the planners without recommendation on basis of the Flood-Walters project could be construed as such initiation.

"I question whether this is properly before you," he concluded.

At Fusselman's urging the supervisors decided to delay decision.

SINGER DIES—John Charles Thomas, 68, operatic baritone, died of cancer at his Apple Valley home yesterday. One of America's most beloved singers, he had been ill for months. He was still sought for concert appearances although he retired in 1953. He was a featured radio singer, and appeared on many Telephone Hour programs. Born in Pennsylvania, he made his debut in Canada in 1912. and was a star at the New York Metropolitan Opera for years. Funeral services will be Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

New Fairfax Bank Ceremony Planned

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled at 11 a.m. tomorrow on the site where a new Bank of America building will rise in Fairfax.

Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar and County Supervisor William D. Fusselman are scheduled to turn over the first spadefuls of dirt, announced Joe C. Crean, Bank of America's Fairfax branch manager.

L. E. Weisenburg, San Rafael contractor, has scheduled completion next April of the building adjoining the bank's present quarters at Broadway and Bank Street.

Twice the size of the present branch home, the new 5,330 square feet building will accommodate three more officers and nine additional tellers. It will have customer parking and night depository facilities not now available.

Bank of America has operated in Fairfax since 1925 when it acquired the former Fairfax Bank, established four years earlier.

Shade Seems Right

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—An official of a downtown bank erecting a new skyscraper building here had queries about the shade of green paint being used to cover the steel girders. The paint, he replied is currency green.

FOR A FEW, BUT DEMOCRATIC

Education Of Gifted Child Explained To County Board

A special educational program for the gifted child is democratic, even though it appears to give special advantage to a few, because "equality means equality of opportunity to become educated."

That was the report to the Marin County Board of Education by Richard H. Hinze, assistant superintendent for educational services.

Dr. Hinze, Dr Mildred B. Barnard, assistant San Rafael superintendent for elementary education, and Mrs. Adele S. Alpers, a member of the county board and of the State Advisory Committee on the Gift Child, reported Monday night on "Controversies Over Gifted Child Education."

Dr. Hinze said there is no controversy as to the fact that all children should be educated "to the maximum of their ability," but the great problem is defining and identifying the gifted child.

Education should differ for various children, depending upon their abilities, he went on. There is a need to identify the gifted child as early as possible so that the most can be made of his abilities.

Dr. Barnard called it "wasteful and dangerous" for the schools to neglect the top 2 to 5 per cent of the students who have outstanding abilities. It is the duty of the schools to "foster adults for the world of tomorrow," to "foster the kind of thinkers who can be the leaders of the world of tomorrow," she said. The schools must develop their competence, leadership, talents and appreciation of art. The major question is, how to do it?

The four ways most often propounded are:

1. An "enrichment" program for the gifted children in their classrooms with the other students. This is the easiest, Dr. Barnard said, and has many advantages. But it also has disadvantages such as average teaching because a teacher has all types to contend with, development of a superiority feeling in the gifted few, the fact not all teachers can handle gifted children.

2. Acceleration of the gifted child, moving him faster than his normal class. This can take place anywhere from kindergarten through college, by skipping grades, taking advanced courses or additional classes. This has the advantage of hastening a youth into his productive period, shortening his school time and thus the expense of his schooling, and of keeping him in groups of his own ability level. However it rarely solves the real problem, Dr. Bernard said, because it neglects social and and personal development and causes the gifted child to miss opportunities for leadership.

3. Grouping by ability and intelligence an opportunity for students of greater interest or ability to work together; stiff competiion between them stimulates greater effort. However, this sets up a group of "elite" in the schools, removes the stimulous of the gifted child from the regular classroom, and requires more classrooms and teachers.

4. Segregation, Dr. Barnard said, is quite similar to grouping practices and has similar advantages and disadvantages. In such systems the gifted child spends, for example, half a day in the regular classroom and half a day in special workshops of seminars.

Whatever method is undertaken, she went on, there are four steps necessary in any program for gifted children: You must (1) locate them, (2) identify them, (3) motivate them, and (4) evaluate them.

In addtion, there must be adequate guidance plans not only for the gifted child, but for the community as well, so that the program will be understood and accepted, said Dr. Barnard.

Mrs. Alpers discussed the three-year study of programs for gifted children which was just completed by the advisory committee.. The final report has not yet been made public, but will be handed to the legislature early next month.

She said an arbitrary line of a 130 intelligence quotient (I.Q.) was adopted by the committee to define the gifted child. Programs in school districts which varied from 450,000 to 19 in average daily attendance were studied.

A total of 929 children in special programs were involved, Mrs. Alpers reported. "There is no question of a doubt but that all of the students who received the special training benefitted."

She passed out a draft of proposed legislation which, in some form, will be presented to the state legislature in January. It calls, she noted, for identification of the "upper two per cent" of the students "as determined by individual psychological examinations." The state would then provide funds up to $250 per year per student for special programs. She noted this is less than the state provides for the mentally retarded.

"If it's good for the top two per cent, why isn't it good for the rest?" Mrs. Alpers asked herself.

"It is good," she answered, "and there's nothing in the legislation to prevent a school district from expanding the program as far as it wishes." The state will pay for only the top two per cent, however.

One thing on which the committee insisted is flexibility in the program, she went on: it must work just as well in a large school district as in a small district with only one such gifted child.

Dr. Hinze concluded the presentation by pointing out that while there is criticism of the gifted program as presented, there is "no controversy on the proposal to improve the quality of the program for the gifted" He said the only controversy is who is to be in the program, what is to be done and how it is to be done."

Board member Howard Chadd said he would like to hear "the other side of the story" at some future meeting.

Dixie Trustees To Meet Tonight

A series of reports are scheduled for tonight's meeting of the Dixie School District board at 8 o'clock at 4775 Redwood Highway.

Reports will cover the testing program at the fifth grade level, work of the speech therapist, progress of a committee working on district capitalization, and the library program.

Discussion of standards for tenure also is scheduled, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Contest Planned By Community

Prizes in the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Club's Christmas decoration contest will be placed Dec. 20 between 7 and 10 p. m.

Four awards will be made for the best window decorations, one for the best lighting, and one for the best Christmas scene using cut-out figures. Rules state that last year's winners must change their decorations to be eligible for prizes this year.

Judges will be Gen. and Mrs. R. E. Mittelstaedt of Greenbrae and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Phillips of Belvedere.

Civic Leaders Plead For Integration

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Civic leaders pleaded with New Orleans residents to accept integration today, but only eight white students trudged through a cold rain to attend an integrated school.

The total of nine students in William Frantz School remained firm for the fourth day. The eight white children were attending school with a lone Negro girl. At the other integrated school, McDonogh 19, three Negro girls are all alone.

The dismal weather again kept bystanders and hecklers away when federal marshals brought the children to school.

One hundred of the city's civic and business leaders today issued a statement urging an end to violence and threats against whites bucking the boycott at the two schools.

Oratorical Contest Plans Announced

Marin posts of the American Legion announced today that entries are being accepted for the Legion's 24th annual national high school oratorical contest.

The winner in Marin County will compete in the district contest at Vallejo, Feb. 26. The winner of the national finals will receive a $4000 scholarship and the runner-up will be awarded a $2500 scholarship.

Scholarships of $1000 and $500 will be awarded to the third and fourth place finners.

1961 Officers Elected To Tiburon Chamber

William S. Johnstone was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday, to succeed Robert A. Sterling.

Johnstone, a real estate broker with offices in the Raccoon Strait Maritime Center, resides at 601 Ridge Road in Hillhaven.

Elected to serve with Johnstone for 1961 were Mrs. Elva T. Paske, vice president; Howard E. Langford, treasurer, and Fred C. Hannahs, secretary.

Elected to two-year directorships are David Allen, George J. Bitter and Sterling.

The chamber plans to sponsor a children's Christmas program of cartoon movies and refreshments on Dec. 23 at 11 a.m. at the Tiburon Playhouse.

Members voted $100 to the Elephant Rock Memorial Fishing Platform Fund for Marin County children. Langford, treasurer of the platform fund, reported $346 had been donated for construction of the circular fishing platform around the rock. Chairman Fred G. Zelinsky said "total construction cost is expected to be between $2,000 and $2,500 and contributions are urgently solicited." They may be sent to Langford, First National Bank, Belvedere-Tiburon branch.

Members argued over support of the coordinating council's opposition to rezoning the Strawberry Point acreage, and after two votes, decided to leave the matter alone. The second vote was six against, five in favor of support. The first vote was a tie, 4-4.

Parking authority committee chairman Felix M. Warburg reported that of 15 property owners to be within the proposed district, seven were in favor. He added that four were against, two had no opinion and two had not been reached. At the presiding meeting, on a motion by Zelinsky, major district property owner, the chamber voted to drop the campaign to form the district.

Garden School Sets Christmas Program

Children of the Dominican Garden School will present their traditional Christmas program at 3 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Choir boys will present six Christmas greeting scenes, Christmas angels will be featured in six scenes before the crib.

Martinelli New Chamber Chief In San Rafael

Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., assistant manager of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., was elected 1961 president of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The 36-year-old native of San Rafael is a son of former Marin County Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli. He was second vice president of the chamber of commerce this year.

Martinelli, who lives at 205 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, has been a Bolinas cattle rancher and a San Anselmo city councilman.

ON COMMITTEE

He served on the chamber's legislative affairs committee and was chairman of the farm-city dinner last year.

He was elected by the chamber's new board of directors at a luncheon meeting in Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

The board also appointed three directors-at-large for one-year terms: Frederick Acciari of Marin Products Inc., Robert Williams of Borden Co. and Jack Yelverton of Fairchild Semiconductor Corp.

FIRST MEETING

Although the new officers will not be installed until the annual membership dinner during the third week in January, the new board will hold its first meeting Jan. 10.

The board appointed Frank George and Walter Castro Jr. to make arrangements for the annual dinner meeting and named Richard Cuthbert as chairman of the audit committee to go over the chamber's books for the annual audit.

The board approved a resolution recommending that the San Rafael City Council urge the State Division of Highways to begin planning the route of the proposed east-west freeway (Route 69) immediately.

Evening Course Open

Registration for the Tuesday and Thursday afternoon courses in upholstery at the Tamalpais Adult Evening School is now open, principal Harry G. Russell announced. The classes meet from 1 to 4 p. m. at Drake High School in San Anselmo, beginning Jan. 3. Information may be obtained from Russell at the Drake campus.

Ailing 'Slip' Madigan Recalled As Dynamic Coach Of Galloping Gaels

CONNOLLY

Time out for "Slip" Madigan, former St. Mary's College football coach, now fighting a life and death battle, after a severe heart attack.

I had a hand in the movement which resulted in Madigan's appearance at St. Mary's following a 127-0 gridiron defeat at the hands of the University of California.

I watched Madigan rise to glory—and St. Mary's go into the hands of the receiver. I never could agree when people asserted Madigan enabled St. Mary's to move from a "brickpile" in Oakland to its present lush Moraga campus, because I happen to know that St. Mary's had planned the Moraga move years before Madigan was ever heard of but couldn't make it until its Oakland properties were sold. Slip had nothing to do with the sale of those properties.

It was, I believe in 1921, when a tall and skinny Irishman named Madigan came down from Columbia College in Portland to take over the football chores at St. Mary's.

ST. MARY'S was considered a small boarding and day school college with about 70 students. It played California and Stanford and occasionally other big colleges.

But soon after Madigan arrived the Oakland collegians began to climb the football ladder of fame.

As an example of the drawing power of Madigan and his tiny St. Mary's College teams, I'll remind you of an occasion in New York when they were playing Fordham.

On the same day, Georgetown, undefeated in two years, whipped New York University before 17,000 at the Yankee Stadium.

Tulane, playing Columbia drew 22,000 fans.

BUT MADIGAN and his colorful band of gridders from little St. Mary's drew 34,800.

And the biggest game in the east on the same day, Yale vs. Princeton, drew 30,000.

The magic of Madigan prevailed wherever his teams played. He outdrew most of the big games, bucking them on the same day.

I remember distinctly, looking at my old book, that a national weekly magazine devoted several pages to Madigan and his St. Mary's College pigskinners. The article, and I quote, said:

"Madigan had the organizational skill of a Farley, the ingratiating manner of a Roosevelt and the guile of a serpent, circulating among the natives in the early days and selling them the game of football.

"The Pied Piper of Pigskin never overlooks a silver dollar unless it is nailed to the floor, and for this emergency Madigan always carries a chisel and a hammer."

MADIGAN RAN the gamut of football fame and while doing it made many enemies. But Slip was a philosopher and often was quoted as saying, "I have enemies, yes; but I also have friends, and they are the enemies of my enemies."

Even his enemies admitted the Magnificant Madigan was one of the game's leading exponents of defensive strategy. They went so far as say he was the most dynamic, impetuous, explosive, close-to-genius football had seen since Knute Rockne.

For 20 years Madigan ruled the roost at St. Mary's. He began in the days when Warren Harding was president of the United States; when Andy Smith was the cock of the walk at the University of California and Enoch Bagshaw was developing the thunderbird players at the University of Washington.

FROM ST. MARY'S College, Slip collected a sizeable fortune, known as the highest paid coach in college football. Later he coached a short spell at Iowa, then to pro football, then to racetrack management and finally to home building in Oakland where we understand he has been doing quite well in recent years.

Slip Madigan, whether in victory or in defeat, always came up smiling, and we hope that this heart attack will slide by him and that before long he will again be up laughing and joking and pouring out 12-year old Scotch for his newspaper pals.

Yankee Pitchers Top Draft Selections

BOSTON (UPI) — Pitcher Eli Grba was the first player picked by Los Angeles and pitcher Bobby Shantz by Washington today in an unprecedented baseball draft to stock the rosters of the American League's two newest teams.

The two new clubs each selected a total of 28 players costing $75,000 apiece. The total cost for both clubs was $4.2 million.

The selection of the players took two hours in the office of American League President Joe Cronin.

Shantz and Grba were both picked from the roster of the New York Yankees. Shantz, the veteran lefthanded relief pitcher, had a 5-4 record and an earned run average of 2.78 with the Yankees this year while Grba, a righthander, won six and lost four while compiling a 3.68 era.

Some of the other outstanding players chosen by Los Angeles were Eddie Yost of Detroit, Ted Kluszewski of Chicago, Ken Aspromonte of Cleveland, Ned Garver of Kansas City and Duke Maas of New York.

Among those chosen by Washington were Dick Donovan of Chicago, Gene Woodling of Baltimore, Willie Tasby of Boston, Dale Long of New York and Johnny Klippstein of Cleveland.

General Manager Fred Haney and Manager Bill Rigney made the selections for the Los Angeles club while General Manager Ed Doherty and Manager Mickey Vernon picked for Washington.

Los Angeles also got Bob Cerv of the Yankees.

Both teams had wanted Cerv and Shantz.

Here are the complete rosters chosen by the two new clubs:

BASKETBALL

Novato Whips Tomales; S.R., Redwood Lose

Novato's Hornets, surprise third place finishers in last week's Marin Athletic League Christmas Tournament, kept up their winning ways yesterday with a ridiculously easy 51-15 rout of Tomales Braves in one of three local high school basketball contests.

Elsewhere, the San Rafael Bulldogs bowed to Jefferson of Daly City 49-43 and the Redwood Giants suffered a heartbreaking 37-35 loss to Harry Ells High of Richmond.

Novato Coach Dick Paynter used all his reserves in an effort to hold down the score, but the Hornets could do no wrong. After taking a 14-5 first quarter lead, Novato held Tomales scoreless in the second stanza and went ahead 24-5 at halftime. Tomales scored only four points in the third period and six in the final.

Moe Sparrow led Novato scorers with 10 points while Joe Kolfer, Don Scribner and Bill Tuel each tallied six. All 13 Hornets had a hand in the scoring.

John Bianchi led Tomales with nine.

Novato clouted Tomales in the Class B game, 40-10, as Novato's Nick Williard personally matched Tomales' total score.

San Rafael matched basket for basket with Jefferson—each made 18 field goals—but the Bulldogs could sink only 7 of 22 foul shots while the Jeffs were collecting 13 charities to provide the winning margin.

PETRINI STARS

San Rafael got an excellent 19-point performance from Randy Petrini while Rich Curry contributed 12 markers to the Bulldog total. Chris Yaeger hauled down eight rebounds, tops in that department.

Jefferson held quarter scores of 12-11, 24-21 and 37-36.

Redwood Coach Dick Hart said his Giants "played their best game of the year—we're really coming along fine." Redwood outscored the Richmonders 13 field goals to 11, but "once again we just fouled too much," said the coach.

Redwood's Mike Kavanaugh snagged 13 rebounds and tallied 8 points for the leading performance. Rich Brear, also with 13 rebounds and 7 points, was runnerup. Roger Siemens tallied 6 points and Mike Hoffman and Herb Schrieber 5 each in a well-balanced effort.

Redwood's B team blew a 23-19 halftime lead and succumbed by a 47-38 margin. Grant Stephenson's 10 points led the little Giants.

Only Marin game on tap today was Lowell at Drake.

FAVORED MARTINEZ CLOBBERED

Carbo Refuses To Testify At Senate Boxing Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Racketeer Franky Carbo, brought from a prison cell to testify, flatly refused to tell Senate boxing investigators today anything about his alleged role as the underworld czar of boxing.

He pleaded the Fifth Amendment.

Carbo, accompanied by his attorney and two U. S. marshals who brought him from prison, gave only hs name, age (56) and address (970 Northeast 111th Street, Miami, Fla.).

Carbo, when asked other questions, read monotonously from a sheet of paper: "I cannot be compelled to be a witness against myself."

His attorney, Abraham H. Brodsky of New York City, protested to Chairman Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.), that Senate investigators should get their information "from somebody else who is under suspicion."

Kefauver's Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee is trying to determine whether underworld elements have a strangle-hold monopoly on boxing.

Kefauver told Carbo that he was "not on trial" and that the hearing was set to learn whether new legislation was needed to protect the sport.

"Whatever your purpose," Brodsky argued, "it does not give my client protection from prosecution."

But Kefauver said that previous testimony on Carbo's activities in boxing indicated he could qualify as an "expert witness."

The senator said his investigators would "lean over backwards" not to ask questions which had even a remote relation to an upcoming trial on the west coast which involves Carbo.

Carbo is under indictment in Los Angeles for an alleged extortion conspiracy in connection with the purses of fighter Don Jordan. Included in the same indictment are Truman K. Gibson Jr., former president of the International Boxing Club, and Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia numbers king.

49ers Still Cling To Hopes Of Title

How are ya fixed for cliches?

Two old saws describe the attitude of the San Francisco 49ers today as they prepare for Sunday's game with the Baltimore Colts here.

One oft-repeated is, "Where there's life, there's hope."

And Coach Red Hickey is singing:

"We did it before and we can do it again!"

Both 49ers and Colts are rooting for the Rams to knock off the Green Bay Packers in Los Angeles Saturday. If the Packers win or tie, they clinch the National Football League's Western Divlsion title.

After studying films of last Saturday's loss to the Packers, Hickey declared:

"We've got to get back to fundamentals, blocking and tackling."

Hickey is not a man for excuses. "The mud and the rain was just as bad for the Packers as it was for us," he says, "but they played better football. That's why they won."

Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Colts finds it difficult to explain how his world champions suffered three consecutive upsets—to the 49ers, the Detroit Lions and the Rams.

He shrugs off suggestions that the Colts might be succumbing to age.

"We've been pretty hard hit by injuries," he allows. "It was a blow when we lost our fullback, Alan Ameche, a couple of weeks ago, and it was a blow when Raymond Berry was hurt in the Ram game last week."

Both coaches say team morale is high. And both will tell you in any number of ways that Sunday's game is the one for all the marbles, all or nothing, the big, big one, etc. . .

But Mr. Hickey and Mr. Ewbank also add, with a sigh, "Let's hope those Rams beat Green Bay."

Chamberlain Leads Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Oscar Robertson, each a former college All-American, are running one-two-three in the National Basketball Assn. scoring race, the latest figures released today revealed.

Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors' star, heads the list with 975 points and a 37.5 average. He's followed by Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers with 951 points and a 35.2 average and Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals with 805 and 28.7.

Chamberlain was an All-America in 1957 and '58 at Kansas, Baylor with Seattle in 1958 and Robertson with the University of Cincinnati in 1958, '59 and '60.

San Rafael Man Named Rifle Instructor

Louis J. Milani of 1 Alvina Avenue in San Rafael has been appointed as a certified instructor in the National Rifle Assn. of America.

Milani passed a specified series of tests and served a prescribed period of time in training activities before receiving certification. He is now qualified to conduct classes in gun operation, safe gun-handling, and techniques of shooting on the target range, announced the NRAA.

Ex Tam Athlete Is College Guard

Dick Neely of Mill Valley is a reserve guard on Fresno State College's junior varsity basketball team.

The 5 foot 10 inch Neely played four years of B and C basketball at Tamalpais High School; he was the most valuable player on last year's B team and the most inspirational player on the 1959 Bees. Neely's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Neely, live at 21 Tamalpais Avenue, Mill Valley.

Rams Ready Defenses For Crucial Game With Packers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers have one of the soundest ground games in the National Football League, but the Los Angeles Rams hope to upset them here Saturday and scramble the Western Conference race.

If the Packers win, they are divisional champions and face the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL playoff. If they lose, there will have to be a play-off, with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Green Bay in the picture.

Green Bay leads the parade now with a 7-4 record, but Baltimore, San Francisco and Detroit all are 6-5. Baltimore faces San Francisco Sunday, and Chicago is at Detroit.

Green Bay was better in the mud than San Francisco last Sunday, but the Rams upset Baltimore, playing superlative defensive football.

"We're getting our defense set for the Packers," said Line Coach Don Paul. "Jim David and I figure on using somewhat the same defense we employed against Baltimore—lots of hard tackling and a hard charge."

David, defensive backfield coach, said Ollie Matson, veteran ball carrier, will be called upon again for defensive duty. Matson's play against Baltimore was instrumental in crimping Johnny Unitas' passing.

Head Coach Bob Waterfield is convinced that the Rams are going to be winners in another year or so, but he is pessimistic about the Green Bay game. He says that quarterback Frank Ryan, ends Del Shofner and Gene Brito and tackle Lou Michaels are sidelined and that the physical condition of the team is the "worst it has been all year."

Middle guard Les Richter says Green Bay's strong running game, spearheaded by Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, is working because of the great work of blocking guards Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer.

"They're the best guards we've seen all season," says Richter. "Their performance last Sunday against San Francisco was the big equalizer in that mud. I don't want to take anything away from Hornung and Taylor, but they get going behind some really fine blocking. We want to spoil things for the Packers, though, because we owe them nothing."

Celtics Suffer Fifth Loss In Last 7 Games

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston Celtics, who have been a power in the National Basketball Assn. since 1956-57, may not be coming apart at the seams.

But the world champions lost their second straight game to the lowly New York Knickerbockers last night 117-115, their fifth defeat in the last seven games.

It came in the final seconds when the Knicks' player-coach Carl Braun heaved a long pass to set up the winning goal.

Boston now is in second place in the NBA's Eastern Division, 1½ games behind Philadelphia.

It was the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, with the Syracuse Nationals hanging on to whip the Cincinnati Royals 107-105 in the opener.

Syracuse now has won eight of its last 10 games, and remains in third place 5½ games behind the Philadelphia Warriors, who also put on a fast finish at College Park, Md., to beat the Detroit Pistons 110-108.

Divorcee Charges Kirkland Father Of Her Child

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Kirkland, ex-Giants outfielder now the property of the Cleveland Indians, was charged yesterday by a 31-year-old divorcee with being the father of her unborn child.

The paternity suit was filed here by Mrs. Margaret L. Edwards, who has three small children by her previous marriage.

Mrs. Edwards said she has known Kirkland since 1959. She expects the child in May.

She said that she talked to Kirkland by telephone in October and in person last Saturday and when Kirkland disclaimed any responsibility she filed the suit "as the only thing left to do."

Kirkland was unavailable for comment.

Gunshot Accident Kills Top Jockey

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Edgar Dooling Jr., 26, fourth ranked jockey this season at the Agua Caliente race track in nearby Tijuana, Mexico, died of a gunshot wound last night.

Deputy Coroner Glenn Sanders said Dooling's wife, Florence, told officers her husband was handling a frontier-type revolver when it discharged accidentally.

Dooling was found near death in the couple's trailer home in suburban Chula Vista.

Dooling had ridden 150 winners since launching his turf career at Tanforan in the summer of 1959. He had brought in 43 winners since January at Caliente.

He was a native of Orange and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Dooling Sr., reside at Compton.

CHEVROLET

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

There Was Plenty Of Fishermen, But The Steelhead Were Scarce

STEVENS

"Many are called, but few are chosen" rather aptly defines the weekend striving for steelhead trout in our coastal streams.

A thundering horde of avid anglers descended upon practically every coast stream from the Russian to the Eel. A few fish were taken in every stream, but the average steelhead per angler was extremely low. Those who made the grade were far and few between.

This is as I had expected—and one of the main reasons I wasn't casting my roeberry or lures into one of my favorite holes on the Garcia, Gualala or Navarro (the three streams I have favored for the past 30 years).

A few fish were taken on the Gualala River (the mouth was open), particularly at the long stretch above the bridge known as the Miner Hole; the Garcia (the mouth never closes) also saw fish landed (several nice salmon taken near the mouth, along with a very few steelies). The Noya and the Ten Mile rivers above Fort Bragg also witnessed a few fish, and the Navarro reported quite a few fish seen rolling, but not too many landed.

Perhaps the South Fork of the Eel registered with the most fish, and I was told, there were a number of lines and rods broken. An unofficial report claimed the salmon ran three to one over the steelies.

From what I could gather, many of the streams still were somewhat high and had too much color for prime condition. This was particularly true of the Russian. Incidently, the Russian River is always the last of all the coast streams to return to normal level and color—most of the streams take from four to six days to come back after a hard rain; the Russian needs seven to eight dry days to return.

Ihave no dope on what transpired on Wednesday or Saturday and Sunday on the streams to the south of the Gate (fishing is only allowed on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays on the south coast streams), so can't report on them.

OKAY, THE ICE has been broken. The runs of salmon have just about tailed off and the steelhead are coming in. Your chances are fair to good from now until Feb. 28.

I contacted the weather bureau Sunday and was told that not enough rain fell to the north to materially affect the leve land color of the streams. The mouths are all open, and the Weather Bureau advised that no immediate threat of rain was in the offing for at least the first three days of this week.

Of course a sudden shift in wind might blow some rain our way, but if it doesn't, and we have a continued spell of clear weather the rest of the week, I would say: Make a phone call to the stream you wish to fish (a private party, a resort or a motel or hotel in a nearby town) get the current weather and water conditions and then pack your waders and fishing gear in the old bus and drive to such a spot.

Pay no attention to the number of fish being caught. If weather and water are good, that's all you need to know.

Use roeberries if the water is still a bit on the milky side; spinners or lures if becoming fairly clear, and a bright colored fly if the water is very clear. Used frozen or bottled roe for your first hen steelhead and when you catch her, use the fresh eggs. If you are lucky enough to get more fresh roe than you can use on that one trip, fill a quart mason jar with powdered borax (about one-third filled) and place the made-up berries in it. The berries will stay fresh for weeks that way.

IF HISTORY repeats itself, steelhead fishing won't become really hot until the end of the month, but there have been years when December - from the 15th on has been sizzling. Above all, check on whether the mouth of the stream you wish to fish is open. If the bar is closed at the mouth, fishing just about comes to a close until it is opened.

And that's it for today.

Mrs. Heller will receive the sterling silver pin Sports Afield All-American Sporting Dog Award.

The Belvedere Ski Club, which numbers over a hundred local families in membership, is planning three skiing trips this season, according to spokesman Mrs. Benton B. Mathews.

In January, members will trek to the Heavenly Valley Red Carpet Inn, and to Squaw Valley by chartered bus in February. The Reno Ski Bowl Sky Tavern will be their destination in March.

L.A. Lakers Suffering 5-Game Losing Streak

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers will try to pull out of a five-game losing streak tonight as the face the St. Louis Hawks in the Sports Arena.

Coach Fred Schaus called a special meeting of his players yesterday to go over game plans. Elgin Baylor, top scorer, was absent. He was getting a shot of penicillin for a cold. Monday night the Hawks held him to 14 points, his low for the season.

Scribes Name Floyd Fighter Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and veteran sports writer Ned Brown are the winners of two of boxing's most important rewards.

Patterson, first man to regain the heavyweight title when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson last June 20, was awarded the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as "Fighter of the Year" by the Boxing Writers Assn.

Patterson became the second two-time winner of the Neil award, named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 while covering the Spanish Civil War. He won it first in 1956; the year he won the title the first time at the age of 21. Carmen Basilio, former welter and middleweight champ, was the winner in 1955 and 1957.

Brown, about 78, is employed by the North American News Alliance. He was boxing writer for the New York World from 1903 to 1931. A former president of the Writers' Assn., he handled publicity for some recent important title fights and did public relations work for Jack Dempsey. Brown won the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing."

SPECIAL AWARDS

The writers also voted special awards to Humbert "Jack" Fugazy, veteran promoter; Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission; and Dan Florio, who trained both the oldest man ever to win the heavyweight title, Jersey Joe Walcott, in 1951, and the youngest, Patterson in 1956.

Officers re-elected were Barney Nagler of The Morning Telegraph, president; Al Buck of the New York Post, first vice president; Jesse Abramson of The New York Herald Tribune, second vice president; Nat Fleischer of Ring magazine, secretary-treasurer; and Sam Taub, veteran boxing writer, recording secretary.

Patterson lost his championship to Johansson in 1959, but made ring history by knocking out the Swede in the fifth round in June. Negotiations for a third Patterson - Johansson match have been proceeding slowly. No date or site has been announced.

'Bama Rates As Favorite Over Texans

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The University of Alabama is a one-point favorite to beat the University of Texas in the second Bluebonnet Bowl football game here Saturday.

The bowl, which oddsmakers have established as the closest of the postseason matches, starts at 11 a.m. PST and will be televised nationally. Officials expect a sellout in Rice's 70,000-seat stadium.

The meeting of Darrell Royal of Texas and Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama figures to be a defensive battle between strong defenses and could easily be decided by a kicker's toe.

Royal's Longhorns lost two games this season on field goals and Alabama closed out its regular season with a 3-0 win over Auburn.

Wide Open Battle Expected Between Raiders, Broncos

Another wide open football game is on tap when the Oakland Raiders meet the Denver Broncs Saturday at Candlestick Park, San Francisco.

The Raiders (5-8) will be battling to stay out of the American Football League's Western Division cellar. Down there now are the Broncs (4-8-1)

Big Charley Powell, the Raiders' defensive end who injured a knee against the New York Titans last week, will be able to play. Flanker Alan Goldstein still has a tender ankle but will play, although he's not expected to start.

The Broncos feature a potent passing combination of Frank Tripucka and Lionel Taylor. Tripucka, a former Notre Dame quarterback and veteran pro performer, has passed for 2,905 yards. Taylor who didn't play in the Broncos' first two games, has 88 receptions for 1,199 yards.

The Broncos beat the Raiders 31-14 in the previous meeting in October.

GOLDEN GATE WINNERS

ALBANY (AP)—Gold Gallant ($21) and Challenge All ($10) finished in a dead heat for first in the Golden Gate Fields feature race yesterday.

Young Cleveland Fighter Stops Vince Martinez

CLEVELAND (AP) — At 22, Cecil Shorts is a young man in a hurry to reach two objectives he sets for himself: The world welterweight boxing crown and the big money purses available only at the top.

The Cleveland youth took a long stride toward those objectives last night by stopping Vince Martinez, Miami Beach, Fla., at 2:46 of the fourth round in their scheduled 10. He knocked the 31-year-old Martinez, a 6-5 favorite, down four times in that fourth round before the referee ended it.

"Shorts is ready for any of them," exulted the Cleveland scrapper's manager, Frank Ruskay, in the dressing room. "Don't forget, he's already beaten Benny Paret, the champion." That was two bouts before Paret won the title.

Martinez weighed 149, a pound more than Shorts.

Humboldt Expects A '61 Powerhouse

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Look for another powerhouse up Arcata way when Humboldt State's Lumberjacks unlimber their 1961 football muscles.

Coach Phil Sarboe said today that he expects to have 19 players back from the 33 who went to the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla., last week.

Lenoir-Rhyne of Hickory, N.C., took the 1960 NAIA football championship at St. Petersburg—but it took a last minute field goal to beat Sarboe's Lumberjacks 15-14.

The Tarheels ended a 20-game winning streak for Humboldt State. What now?

"Heck," says Carboe, "we'll just have to start another winning streak."

U.S. Davis Cuppers Rapped For 'Deplorable Conduct'

MELBOURNE (AP)—In my 36 years in tennis I have seen nothing like it," the president of the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia said today concerning the conduct of the U.S. Davis Cuppers in their interzone match with Italy.

"It is beyond my comprehension how they could have behaved so badly," Norman W. Strange told the Melbourne Herald on his return from Perth where Italy beat the United States 3-2 in the best of five series.

"I was disgusted at their conduct . . . I have never seen anything as bad. I did not see the final day, but the Americans' conduct on the two previous days was deplorable."

Strange said he was "sure American officials would have been amazed" had they seen the matches in Perth.

Earl "Butch" Buchholz and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Harry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, played for the United States in the matches.

Packer Star Eyes Rushing Championship

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crunching fullback, now rates a solid chance to win the National Football League ground-gaining title—something that has belonged to Cleveland's Jimmy Brown since he entered the league four seasons ago.

Taylor has rolled up 1,059 yards in helping bring the Packers to the brink of their first Western Division title since 1944. This is only 88 behind Brown, and each has a game to play.

But Brown must face the New York Giants this week, the league's stingiest team against the rush, while Taylor faces Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

Cleveland's Milt Plum still leads the league's passers with a 62.9 percentage, is first in average gain with 9.53 and in percentage of interceptions with .05, having had only one pilfered all year.

A Welcome Gift For Christmas— Casserole For The Marin Hostess

Here's a Christmas gift that would be doubly welcomed by any Marin hostess: a table centerpiece arranged in a handsome casserole dish. The casserole can be used afterwards for baking and serving.

This is one of the new items to be offered by the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross during its annual Christmas Greens Sale Friday from 6 to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Guy Manuel, chairman of the committee working on table arrangements, uses fresh greens combined with Christmas ornaments in some of her casserole centerpieces, and dried materials in others. Cones, candles and artificial fruits also are used.

Mrs. Manuel also offers these two recipes for holiday dishes which may be baked in the casserole after it has served as a table centerpiece:

CRAB CASSEROLE SUPREME

- 3 Tbsp. butter
- ¾ lb. fresh crab meat
- 2 small green onions, chopped
- ½ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. mustard
- Dash of Tabasco sauce
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Melt butter in a small, heavy frying pan. Add crab meat, onions, salt mustard, and Tabasco. Cook, stirring very gently, until onion and crab are lightly browned. Sprinkle with lemon juice and let stand about 20 minutes. Meantime make this sauce:

- 6 Tbsp. flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- Dash of freshly ground black pepper
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ cup heavy cream
- 2 eggs
- ¼ cup sherry
- 1 tsp. mono sodium glutamate
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter

Melt butter, over lowest heat, blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk and cream. Then cook slowly over low heat; stir constantly. (If desired, canned cream sauce may be used; thin it and season according to recipe.)

Remove cream sauce from heat, add small amount of sauce to well-beaten eggs, then gradually stir in remainder of eggs. Add sherry, then gently mix sauce with crab, being careful to leave any leg meat whole.

Pour into a well-greased casserole, cover with bread crumbs, dot with butter and dust with paprika. Bake in a 325 degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with lemon slices. Serves six.

BAKED CRANBERRY PUDDING

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt

Sift these ingredients together into a mixing bowl. Then briskly stir in the following:

- 1 cup milk
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter
- 2 cups raw cranberries

Pour into an eight or nine square-inch baking dish which has been lightly rubbed with butter or margarine. Bake in 375 degree oven about 45 minutes. Serve warm with butter or this

SHERRY SAUCE

- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ lb. butter or margarine
- ¾ cup cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Pinch of salt

Combine these ingredients in the top of a double boiler. Bring to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Then keep warm by placing sauce over simmering water in the lower part of the boiler. If desired, one or two teaspoons of sherry may be added just before serving. Serve sauce warm.

A GRAB FOR GRUB

"Careful marking, good display ends that hunt-and-seek dismay."

Those 10 words won Mrs. Bernice Smith of 41 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, all the groceries she can grab in five minutes from the shelves of the United Market at 100 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Smith was last week's winner in the "win a free shopping spree" contest sponsored by MJB Coffee Co. over KGO radio for the best 10-word statement on why listeners prefer a favorite market. She'll collect her prize at 1 p.m. Friday, with officials of United Markets egging her to take more—and the MJB company picking up the tab.

Previous winners of the "shopping spree" have grabbed groceries ranging all the way from a low $54 to a high of about $135 in five minutes, according to Art Abell, who conducts the contest on KGO.

Do You Qualify As A Holiday Pastry Waster?

Why be a pastry waster when it's so easy to use the scraps left over from making those holiday mincemeat and pumpkin pies?

Wrap the dough in waxed paper and store it in the refrigerator and you'll have the makings for these elegant pastry appetizers whenever yuletide guests drop in.

To make delicious cheese-flavored appetizers, just roll the dough out on a lightly floured board to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut into 2½-inch squares. Put a teaspoon of finely crumbled American blue cheese in the centter of each square. Bring pastry corners together over the cheese and pinch tightly. Bake at 425 degrees about 15 minutes.

A Perfect Pudding For The Holidays

This old fashioned pudding has grated raw carrots, potatoes and apples in it. It's reminiscent of those puddings the early residents of Fresno, in the heart of the raisinland, made for their families long ago.

FAVORITE HOLIDAY PUDDING

- 2 eggs
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1 cup seeded raisins
- 1 cup dark or gold raisins
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 2 cups grated raw apple
- 2 cups grated raw potato
- 2 cups grated raw carrot
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Beat eggs. Mix in brown sugar, raisins and lemon peel. Stir in flour sifted with salt, soda and spices. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Turn into well-buttered 2½-quart mold. Cover tightly with lid or aluminum foil. Place mold on rack in deep kettle. Add enough boiling water to come half way up side of mold. Cover kettle and simmer 3½ to 4 hours. Replenish boiling water as needed. Makes 12 to 16 servings. Serve hot with brandy hard sauce.

NOTE: For smaller pudding divide recipe in half and turn into well-buttered 5-cup mold. Steam 2 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

A STEAMED PUDDING fragrant with spice and laden with both dark seedless and seeded raisins is a majestic dessert for the end of a traditional holiday dinner. If you want a dramatic finale, bring it to the table steaming hot and flamed with brandy.

Wassail Recipe: Ten Love Apples, A Clutch Of Eggs

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 18th century recipe for wassail bowl called for "ten love apples, a clutch of eggs and a flagon of Spanish sherry."

But ale was the basis of the original recipe created some 1,500 years ago. Wassail was the first English toast. It means "be well." The proper Anglo-Saxon response, "drink hael," means "drink well."

A 20th century wassail bowl is made by dissolving ¼ to ½ cup of brown sugar (use smaller amount with dry sherry, large amount with sweet or cream sherry) in ½ cup water. Add 1 teaspoon of ginger and ½ teaspoon of nutmeg. For a spicier beverage, also add ½ teaspoon each of allspice and mace, 3 cloves and a small stick of cinnamon. Bring to boil, add 2 bottles of sherry and bring to boil again.

In a 2½-quart punch bowl, beat 6 egg yolks until lemon-colored. Fold in 6 stiffly beaten egg whites. Add hot spiced wine slowly, stirring constantly. Float 6 whole small baked apples on the foam, dust punch and apples with nutmeg and serve. Makes 18 cups.

Traditionally, toast instead of eggs was used in the wassail. Hot buttered toast can be served with the modern version.

Barbara Feiling Weds Lt. William Burnett

In a 3 o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, Barbara Alice Feiling of Kentfield became the bride of Lt. William Richard Burnett of Marysville.

Two large vases of white stock and white chrysanthemums were at the altar for the ceremony officiated by Rev. Wesley Baker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feiling of Kentfield. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burnett of Marysville.

Given in marriage by both her parents, the bride wore a gown of bouquet taffeta and Alencon lace. A circlet neckline and long sleeves fashioned the basque bodice of taffeta appliqued with lace. The belle skirt swept into a chapel train. Her tiered illusion veil was held by a coronet of imported orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses with a cascading spray of stephanotis.

Patricia Patton of San Carlos was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Rudolph of San Rafael; Margo Brown, Taft; Donna Prentice, Berkeley; and Ann Burnett of Sacramento, the bridegroom's sister and Bonnie Feiling of San Rafael, cousin of the bride.

They were gowned in sheaths of American beauty satin fashioned with scooped necklines, short sleeves and cummerbunds styled with roses and streamers. They had matching bandeaux and shoes and carried old fashioned bouquets of American Beauty carnations accented by white carnations.

Lt. Edward Collins acted as best man. Escorting guests to their seats were Messrs. Kenneth Kamp of Kentfield; Robert Dempsey, Marysville; Kenneth Meyers, Sacramento and Philip Spaulding, Santa Rosa.

Fore her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Feiling wore a Dior blue brocaded sheath with Dior blue velvet feathered hat and matching accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom chose an emerald green brocaded jacket sheath with matching accessories and white satin and feather hat. Both mothers wore white orchids.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a black and white wool tweed ensemble with black accessories and white fur hat.

The bride was employed with the San Rafael Recreation department and was graduated from Carlmont High School in Belmont. She was graduated from the University of California where she was a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority, Phi Beta Kappa and Nu Sigma Nu.

Her grandmothers are Mrs. Fred Kamphoefner of Menlo Park and Mrs. William Feiling of Union City.

The bridegroom was graduated from Marysville Union High School and the University of California. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. Now with the U.S. Air Force, he just completed training in Officers' Candidate School. Mrs. Viola Dickson of South Gate, Calif., is his grandmother.

The couple will make their home at Mather Air Force Base, Sacramento.

Military Academy Christmas Ball Planned Dec. 16

The San Rafael Military Academy Christmas Ball will be held on Dec. 16 from 9 p.m. to midnight. As this is an annual invitational affair there is great activity on the campus. Invitations are being sent out this weekend and the gymnasium is being transformed into a gay yuletide ballroom decorated in green and red wreaths with a massive 20-foot Christmas tree.

Cadet Chuck Taber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taber, is chairman of the dance committee, with Cadet Bruce Bostick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Bostick, and Cadet Robert Hamann, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hamann, also an academy alumni, are busy helping Cadet Taber with preparations.

Mrs. Howard Good, vice president of the Academy's Mothers' Club supervised the trimming of the tree among several donated by the Mothers.

Various dinner parties have been planned prior to the Ball, with supper to follow for the upper classmen and their dates. This is one of the academy's outstanding occasions of the year and many formal gowns are being planned for the evening. An orchestra has been hired for the dance. Refreshments will be served. Parents and Academy staff will chaperone.

At 2:30 p.m. on Dec. 16, parents and cadets are invited to attend the annual Christmas exercises. Rev. John D. Riley, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, will officiate.

Blythedale Lodge Elects New Officers

Mrs. Walter Meyers was elected to succeed Mrs. Eldora Clinton as noble grand of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 at its recent meeting in the Odd Fellows Temple.

Others elected to serve with Mrs. Meyers were Mesdames Tony Fontes, vice grand; Catherine Young, trustee for three years; Eva Frazier, financial secretary; Albert Hughes, treasurer; and Mr. Roy Wright, secretary.

Mrs. Clinton presided at the business meeting during which Mrs. John Robertson, district deputy president of District 61, was escorted to the rostrum by conductor Connie Ford.

Decor in the hall consisted of greens, begonias, fuchsias, marguerites and roses. And dining tables were decorated with green and white ivy and star shaped candle holders containing white candles and encircled at the base with tiny pink roses.

Climax of the evening was a shower for a recent bride, Mrs. John Zeides Jr., the former Mrs. Grace Woolridge. Mrs. Herbert Maxey presented Mrs. Zeides with her gifts from the lodge.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mesdames George Russo, chairman, and Ora Saunders, Wendell Williams and Fred Maydole.

Mrs. Clinton reminded members to bring exchange gifts for the Christmas party to be held at the next meeting.

Glamour Will Steal Scene At Fashion Focus Luncheon

The most magnificent furs ever seen in Marin, spectacular jewelry from the nation's eminent designer, Robert Lindemann of San Francisco, and holiday dresses to steal the scene will set the stage for Rickey's special Christmas week fashion luncheon on Tuesday when it says "Have a Gala, Glamourous Holiday."

The glow of Christmas candles, music by the St. Nicholas Boys Choir, and the Yuletide smorgasbord in the Garden Room with its twinkling light on the tree will add to the festivity of the day as the Officers Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base are welcomed as the holiday guest.

Eight of their attractive members will promenade through the Christmasy rooms in the majesty of mink; Cerulian, Silver-blue, ranch, showing the stunning, shoulder,hugging stole or a full length mink great coat as well as the most exciting versions of the glamourous fox, beaver, and stonemartens.

Young Stephen, impeccably garbed as the lackey of a southern mansion of Christmas past will exhibit the priceless collection of jewels on velvet trays as he walks among the tables so that their exquisite beauty may be seen at close range. Other distinctive Lindermann designs will be worn by the models to complement the mood of their fur fashion.

Perfect "little dresses" in black to go from Christmas into spring and a sequence of brilliant after-five looks in Christmas red, holly green and winter white have been gathered by Helen Gray as the festive finale with furs and jewelry.

Refreshments will be served by Miss Karen Andrews of the home making class.

Tuesday afternoon Tam Hi little sisters gave a tea for their big sisters following a Santa Lucia theme, an appropriate one since that day, Dec. 13, is the darkest day of the year in Sweden. Wearing colorful costumes Swedish children serve refreshments to their parents in the morning.

Saturday Nu Alpha Tau girls entertained Senior Citizens at county headquarters. They are also making plans for a "Toys for Tot" project in which toys collected from the student body will be turned over to the U.S. Marines.

Another project the girls are planning is to record names and addresses of people attending programs who do not have children in school. Their purpose will be to send them invitations to future programs.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

"You mean you actually design those things? . . . I thought they happened by accident."

Furniture Designed For 'Born' Hostess

CHICAGO (UPI)— Planning a holiday party? There's new party furniture on the market, designed to make you look like a "born hostess."

Newest is the buffet, which opens to reveal a series of molded plastic trays called the Stratapanel storage system. Fitted with special slots for glasses of all standard sizes, silverware and dinnerware, the trays slide out to carry right to the table or entertainment area. The glassware tray is particularly useful for this purpose. It holds eight glasses around a pitcher that's ready to fill at a moment's notice. The buffet, in a choice of walnut or teak finishes, has door of African zebra wood.

Snack tables, too, have a new look this year. In one manufacturer's line, they slide out of a corner table like drawers and unfold into full-height tray-tables. The 32-inch square surface of the corner table provides space for a coffee or tea service, and the white plastic tops of the tray-tables, imprinted with colorful butterflies, give the set its name—"social butterflies."

A cocktail table by the same manufacturer conceals four white plastic-topped snack tables in its baluster base. It is appropriately called a "multiplication table."

New for partying in the small apartment is a luau table with four wedge-shaped foam rubber cushioned seats that slide out from underneath. The table legs adjust to three different heights for use as a cocktail table, dining table or card table.

Square Dance Party For Beginners

Saturday evening, Dec. 21, all novice square dancers are invited to the Grand Christmas Square Dance Jamboree at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

This will be the fourth in a series of parties staged by the Marin County Square Dance Association. All have been enjoyed by the dancers, especially as they advanced in their weekday evening lessons, and became proficient enough to indulge in more complicated and faster figures.

The caller for this Saturday will be Joe Crumpler. His club, the Fiddle Footers of Novato, will be on hand, with other experienced dancers, to help the less experienced through the more intricate patterns.

In keeping with the occasion, all guests are asked to bring a small gift.

The committee for the Christmas dance consists of Arnesta and Joe Degard, Ina and Steve Stevenson, Clare and Vern Wheeler, Sally and Walt Craven, and Lucy and John Arms for the association beginners' class, Jack Lewis, president, and his wife, Grace, will represent the Fiddle Footers Club.

Childbirth Education Series Set

The Education for Childbirth program will offer a new series of classes beginning the first week of January. The afternoon class will start on Thursday, Jan. 5 from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and the evening class will start on the same date from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Weeks and Mrs. James V. Farley Jr., registered physical therapists, will be conducting the series at the physical therapy office of Mrs. Gunhild H. Brown, 711 D Annex, San Rafael.

The eight week course will include a program of exercises to help the expectant mother be more comfortable during pregnancy. Exercises for relaxation, posture training, and breathing techniques are practiced. Emphasis is given to understanding the periods of pregnancy and labor. A Parent's Class is given where prospective fathers attend and films are shown.

Doctor's written permission is required for enrollment. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Brown's office.

St. Hilary's To Honor New Pastor

Honored guest this year at St. Hilary's annual egg-nog party will be the new pastor Rev. John J. Murray. The party will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. All members of the parish are invited.

Rev. Murray has recently come to Tiburon from Pleasant Hills. He has been a priest for 31 years and was born in New York.

Women parish members from Bel Aire and members of the men's club will act as hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Robert Nadolski is general chairman, assisted by Mesdames Willis Bohn, Meridith Messer, Donald Perry, Robert Chiller and Eugene Murray.

William Gray and Eugene Murray will represent the Men's Club on the committee.

Nash Students Plan Christmas Recital

For the fourth year music for Christmas will be performed by the music students of Mrs. Stephen H. Nash on Sunday, Dec. 18 in the Nash home on the Tiburon Peninsula. Selections appropriate to the Christmas story will be played on the piano and the cello.

Piano students participating will be Perrin and Rusty Smith, Chris and Clay Olson, Richard Mills, Merrie Crandall, Nanette Black, Kathy, Karen and Kevin Kelly and Margaret and Julie Smetana. Christopher Brann will be the cellist.

CHILD'S PLAY

How To Dress Up Yule Gifts Fit To Be Tied

CHICAGO (UPI)—It's "child's play" to produce a Christmas package of beauty and a joy to behold.

Or, so says Carol Hubbard Thompson, a gift wrappings company official.

She may be right; children have a knack for this kind of thing. But their elders frequently prove less adept at turning ribbons into pompons, stars, roses, swirls and other fancy bows. What starts out to be a ribbon rose often winds up looking like spaghetti in the hands of a non-pro.

For those who don't like spaghetti, at least on gift packages, Mrs. Thompson suggested ready-made bows. One of the new ones on the market, a huge swirl of wide satin-like ribbon, is called a pinwheel for obvious reasons.

A smaller one, called a jewel bow, looks more like a three-dimensional star. Mrs. Thompson, who is with Tie-Tie, deftly turned two of these into a tree ornament by joining them back-to-back with rubber cement.

She used an ordinary roll of satin-type ribbon for another easy-to-make package ornament. Tightly rolling about six inches of the ribbon, she moistened the ends to keep it rolled and glued it to a package wrapped in Santa Claus print paper. Over the roll of ribbon, she mounted a Santa Claus cutout, snipped from a scrap of the paper. Several of these cutouts mounted on the package gave it a novel three-dimensional look.

Another ribbon trick turned a length of ribbon into tiny bells. The gift wrapper started each bell with a half-circle of ribbon. One side of the ribbon served as the straight side of the half-circle, and a 50-cent piece served as a pattern for cutting the circular edges. Again, self-adhesive, satin-type ribbon was used, and Mrs. Thompson stuck the two corners of each half-circle together, turning them into a cone or bell.

She threaded a string through the centers of the ribbon bells with a needle.

Another kind of holiday glitter for wrappings or homemade ornaments comes by the box, Mrs. Thompson said. It's a sand-like substance that glitters like rhinestones in gold, silver and a rainbow of colors. It sticks readily to rubber cement brushed lightly on assorted ribbons and paper.

Ski Fashions Incline To Beauty

This winter some two million women are enjoying their ups and downs with skis on their feet.

At the rate the sport's popularity is increasing with the supposedly weaker-ankled set, men skiers will be outnumbered before long.

Although the gracefulness of skiing and its outdoor setting may be primary lures, there's no denying colorful ski fashions have had a lot to do with its surge in popularity.

"Most women take to skiing right away," points out an expert. "A few, though, have no interest other than carrying their skis around on their back and looking glamorous. But with the sport being made enjoyable for beginners, and with so many safety devices available, there are actually few lodge skiers today."

A basic wardrobe includes ski pants, warm sweater, parka, boots, mittens, cap.

This year stretch pants are slimmer and more tapered; parkas longer. For weightless warmth are parkas of quilted nylon or dacron, or soft pile fabric. Novelty materials used with colorful effect are printed corduroy, jacquard weaves, cotton duck and poplin.

Heavy wool sweaters are plain figured. Brightly designed imports are especially popular this year.

A New Book On Game Of Bridge

A new book on the market makes a game of learning the game of bridge. It was writtne by Charles Goren for people who swear they can never learn to play.

This pessimistic sort of pupil reads page 1, then takes a quiz. If he replies that bridge is played with jokers in the deck, he is advised to read page 6. However, if he answers "52 cards, no jokers," he progresses to page 11. Those turning to page 2 are scolded and sent back to "go."

Purpose of this unusual teaching formula is to prevent skimming from page to page without understanding or making progress.

The book, "Elements of Bridge," was published by Tutor-Text.

Little Santa Will Charm The Family

Bewildered by the array of do-it-yourself decorations ideas which the gay holiday season brings? Here's a wonderfully versatile craft suggestion from a new little paper company leaflet. Quick as a wink to make, this inexpensive little Santa will charm family and friends in dozens of eye-catching ways.

You need:
4-in. plastic foam ball
white paper towel
toothpick
red water color or ink
black construction paper
red construction paper
red cranberry or gum drop artificial snow
glitter

1. Give plastic foam ball rosy color with water color or ink; let dry.
2. Paste on black eyelashes cut from construction paper.
3. Put chanberry or gum drop on end of toothpick and insert in ball for nose.
4. Shape 3½-in. x 5½-in. cone of red paper and paste on head for hat.
5. Make red collar for base in same way, same size cone.
6. Cut 2-in. from peak of collar cone and glue Santa's head in place on small end of cone.
7. Snip 1½-in. wide bias strips of towel in fringe ¼-in. wide, ¾-in. deep; curl strips.
8. Paste two rows of curls around lower edge of hat cone for fur.
9. Roll more curls into ball and paste on top of hat cone for pompon.
10. Shape additional curls under Santa's nose for beard.
11. Spray glitter glue on hat, beard and collar; sprinkle with artificial snow.

As a conversation piece wrapping for pretty gifts of perfume or hamemade fruit preserves, simply tuck bottle or jar inside Santa, then paste a circlet of cardboard to the base.

Perch Santa atop a cookie jar to steal the scene when the neighborhood smallfry stop by for nibbles.

Santa will brighten your mantel or hall table, and he will beckon a cheery greeting as a stairway decoration on a newel post.

For children's pre-holiday parties, Santa can serve as a whimsical table centerpiece. Shape smaller size Santas as take-home place favors to cover nut cups of jelly beans or peppermint.

THIS VERSATILE little Santa decoration can perch atop a cookie jar to invite the small fry for nibbles, or can be used as a jolly table centerpiece for children's pre-holiday parties. Made in a twinkling with just a plastic foam ball, construction paper and paper towels, Santa will delight family and friends alike.

Cookie Custom First Started In Days Of Roman Senators

NEW YORK (UPI) — A child who puts cookies out for Santa Claus on Christmas Eve is perpetuating a custom that predates the holiday itself.

The cookie custom first started when confections were served to Roman senators during the pre-Christian festival of Saturn, says the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

In Norway, Sweden and Denmark the Christmas snacks were originally offered to protect one's home from mischief by the gnomes who bring presents.

Sweden's modern Jultomten is a red-costumed, white-bearded little man, a congenial counterpart of Santa Claus. But legend says he once guarded Swedish farms, and had to be woed with a big bowl of porridge to guarantee the safety of farm buildings and productivity of farm animals for the coming year.

In pre-Christian days, nomadic Laplanders in northern Sweden made a sacrifice to Yuletide people who were believed to fly over the earth on Christmas Eve.

To ward off danger, the Lapps fasted that night. The food they would have eaten, plus bits of their Christmas day dinner, were but into a boat-shaped basket that was hung in a tree about a gunshot's distance from the family hut.

Denmark's gift-carrier is a gnome called Jule-nisse. He is left risengrod, or rice pudding, with an extra lump of butter, a favorite dessert of Danish children.

In southern Greece and the Tyrol, Christmas Eve snacks take on religious significance. In the former, special flat loaves of bread are left on the dinner table at night in the belief that Christ or St. Basil will come to eat. And in the Tyrol, a pan of milk is left out for the Christ child and His mother.

An old Czechoslovakian custom makes Christmas Eve a fast day for children who want to see the golden pigs. These legendary figures are shadows cast by flickering candlelight as the family sits down to a festive seven-course supper. Tradition also dictates that leftovers from this meal be fed to the pigs.

Other animals and birds are remembered with gifts of food in many other countries, including Belgium, Sweden, Hungary, Germany and Spain.

In southern Syria, legend says, children also left water and wheat for the gentle camel of Jesus, the youngest animal of those that carried the Wise Men to the Christ Child.

Make Your Yule Safe

Carelessness could turn a holiday wreath of happiness into one of grief.

Joining a nationwide campaign against such tragedies are four million youngsters, members of the Junior Fire Marshal Christmas safety program.

Here are the rules the 8 to 10 year old Junior Fire Marshals practice and preach:

1. Use gasoline powered airplane models out of doors, away from flame.
2. Exercise care in using chemistry sets, paying particular attention to directions in mixing chemicals.
3. Check with fire department officials regarding safety of missile sets before using.
4. Periodically check plug-in electrical toys for frayed wiring. Never set them up or use them under Christmas tree.

For tree safety: Stand tree in water or bucket of wet sand away from radiator, fireplace and doors. Use only fire resistant decorations checking lights for frayed wire, loose sockets. Turn off lights when leaving house. When needles begin to fall, take the Yule tree out of the house.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has a word of warning to parents buying toys: Avoid playthings with sharp edges and objects that break, leaving sharp edges,

Young Republicans Enjoy Glogg Party

The Young Republicans of Marin enjoyed their annual Christmas Glogg Party on Saturday evening in a patriotic setting of red, white and blue.

A white Christmas tree, trimmed with silver garlands and red and blue balls occupied the stage of the San Rafael Improvement Club, locale of the event, and vases of silver fir branches, hung with blue balls and red ribbon, stood on either side of the stage.

The decorations committee was in charge of Mrs. John Bozik of Mill Valley. Greeting the 125 guests at the entrance were Mrs. Thomas Moss of Mill Valley, Christmas party chairman; and Mrs. Gordon L. Ness of San Rafael, wife of the newly-elected president of the club.

The buffet table, draped in red and decorated with silver accessories by Mrs. David R. Cruz of Terria Linda, was centered with a miniature silver Christmas tree made by Mrs. Melvin Stidham of Terra Linda. Mrs. Thomas Elliott of Marinwood and the food committee served a buffet supper. Working with Mrs. Elliott were Mrs. Walter McGovern of Marinwood; Mrs. C. A. Gernster of Greenbrae, Mrs. John T. Schmitz of Glenwood and Mrs. Richard Calahan of Sausalito.

Mrs. William D. Keeler of Mill Valley, wife of the immediate past president, and Sidney Howard of Sausalito, a past president, supervised the mixing of the Glogg. Mrs. Donald G. Black of Terra Linda served the punch.

Prior to the musical entertainment by a group of local musicians, Gordon Ness, president, presented an engraved gavel to William D. Keeler of Mill Valley, past president.

Party Punch

At the small fry holiday party, serve "Frosty Fruit Punch." Combine a can of apricot whole fruit nectar with a little lemon juice and sugar. Stir in some vanilla ice cream or blend with ice cream in a blender.

What Better Time To Buy Equipment For Fireplace

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Yule log, children's stockings and years of tradition all combine to focus attention on the fireplace come Christmas. What better time to invest in some handsome fireplace equipment?

Screens, brass or black, now come ready-made in recessed as well as free-standing models and don't require professional installation. For those with a taste for the more unusual, there are screens bordered in mosaic, decorated with metal cutouts of trees or flowers or centered with a huge brass star.

Firesets remain generally traditional in shape, but a few of the black wrought iron ones now include such strikingly modern pieces as sharply triangular shovels and brushes.

Among the new log baskets is a brown leather one with a brass frame, trimmed with wood.

Most andirons still have the look of jumbo antique brass candlesticks, but a few now have modern curves and, in keeping with the recent revival of Federalist furniture, others are topped with the Federalist eagle.

For the hearth beside the fireplace, there's a wide choice of styles in brass coal pails. Try filling one with dried aromatic pine cones for the holiday season.

There's an even greater variety of ways to dress up the fireplace from above, with pottery mugs, tankards, cuckoo or other ornate clocks on the mantel, or plaques, prints or crests on the wall over the fireplace.

A stunning new candelabra, designed especially for the mantel, has a wooden log-type base. It comes in two sizes, one for three candles and a larger one for seven candles.

Foot-long fireplace matches, conversation pieces in themselves, will look more decorative in one of the new stamped brass matchboxes, about three times the size of the ordinary wooden boxes that hold penny matches.

Fireplace brooms, too, have gone decorative, with multicolored bristles in harvest or holiday color combinations. They're a bit impractical, but add a nice touch of whimsy to the hearth.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Industrial Foundation Leader Writes Of Community Growth

"The relationship between industrial growth and general community growth is a chicken and egg relationship."

The analogy was one used by Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation in an article that appeared in the November issue of the Residential Appraiser. It was made to emphasize how the community and industry are dependent upon each other for their existence.

Industrial development, he said, probably will not lower the tax rate because of increased services . . . however, it will probably bring about an increased community prosperity that will make higher taxes more tolerable and result in a certain amount of redistribution of the load. He listed other effects as expansion of existing businesses, confidence and civic pride.

The obvious contraposition, of course, is that industry itself must locate in areas where there is manpower available, or within a reasonable distance thereof, giving industry and community reciprocal benefits.

In looking at the changing pattern of populated areas, Enemark warned that there is likely to be a dislocation of services if industrial development does not follow established trends. Municipal and utility services may have to be aligned and schools may be in the wrong place. As an example, he cited Commerce High School in San Francisco on Van Ness Avenue, made obsolescent in the change of neighborhood from residential to non-residential.

He gave Sunnyvale as an example of pre-planned municipal services that attracted 37 industries between 1952 and 1959.

Something that should be watched, he said, is the conversion of marginal lands at unrealistic costs, creating barriers in the path of orderly development. A speculative rise in land values caused by people rushing in to purchase property and holding it serves only to drive industry and workers to establish their business elsewhere.

The article was intended primarily for appraisers, whom he cautioned not to measure values too far in the future during a period in which transition is occurring.

THIS STORY was told by wine expert John Melville in a recent speech before the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco:

A woman entered a wine shop and asked for a "blue" table wine.

"Lady," said the dealer, "we have red table wines, white table wines and pink table wines but there are NO blue table wines."

"Oh, no?" insisted the customer moving over to the shelves. "Here's one."

And she held up a bottle of Beaulieu Cabernet Sauvignon.

No wonder, said Melvile, that Beaulieu prefers to label its bottles BV.

Which reminds us that an acceptable Christmas gift in most quarters, and a comparatively inexpensive one at that, is a bottle of California vintage —whether it's red, white or blieu.

AND SPEAKING of Christmas, I am informed by sales manager Al Brusati of Coca Cola Bottling Co. in San Rafael that coupons are being given out with all carton purchases of Coca Cola in stores and supermarkets in Marin for a festive package of hi-fi phonograph records of Christmas carols and stories and New Year's songs. Only thing is—you have to send in the coupon for the records, and time before Christmas is growing short.

To get at milkweed nectar, an insect must became entangled in sticky, heavy masses of pollen. To leave, it must be strong enough to pull free and carry a sizable load of pollen to the stigma of the next flower visited.

Supervisors Unravel Tangle Of Bidding

Two unusual tangles over bids caused confusion, and two different decisions at yesterday's session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Only one bidder had offered on a total of eight automobiles and the board finally decided to call for new bids.

But two companies had tied in bidding to supply asphalt to the public works department, and after first voting to call for new bids in this matter the board reconsidered and decided to split its business.

In the car matter, the county had called for offers to supply six replacement cars for the sheriff and one police car each for Sausalito and Corte Madera. It turned out that only one dealer had bid.

His identity wasn't revealed but rejection was advised by the purchasing department.

Supervisor William Fusselman declared that "you're asking us to shoot in the dark if that sole bid was a good bid" and John Hettrich, assistant purchasing agent, replied that not only was it poor but it involved "a disappointing trade-in" on used cars.

One reason for this, discussion developed, was that dealers were now forbidden to set back speedometers "so they can't get as much on resale" as Fusselman put it. Chairman Walter Castro said all speedometers should be set back to zero, this being legal and involving no deceit.

Hettrick said that mileage on the six trade-ins actually ranged from 55,717 miles to 83,951. He added that several dealers has just "suffered from oversight" in not bidding and the board agreed to call for the new bids.

Public works director Marvin W. Brigham said that when bids on about $40,000 worth of liquid and emulsified asphalt were opened Dec. 6 it was found that while one was a little high, bids from American Bitumuls and Asphalt Co.—the present supplier—and Shell Oil Co. were identical.

A provision of law, Brigham said, seemed to call for awarding the contract by drawing lots between these two.

Representatives of both companies promised good service, Brigham said there was no apparent reason to expect either to be inferior, and one of the oil men said that if new bids were asked "there probably will be not two but four companies tied next time."

Confronted with this, Chairman Walter Castro withdrew a motion he had made to call for new bids and it was decided to let the two tied companies share next year's county business.

Board Opens Civic Center Grading Bids

An apparent low bid of $111,424 from the Rio Vista contracting firm of J. W. Richards was among nine bids opened by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday for grading and excavation at the county fair grounds and civic center.

It was indicated that no action would be taken for about two weeks, pending completion of some property exchange in the area.

High bid was widely divergent from the low figure, being $196,070 from Fredrickson and Watson of Alameda County. Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, said he had estimated around $130,000 for the work.

Assistant auditor - controller Michael Mitchell said the county has on hand "about $135,000" available from pari-mutuel funds from the state.

Drunken Driver Gets $263 Fine

George Francis Barberis, 56, of 109 Manor Road, Fairfax, must spend five days in jail and pay a $263 fine for his third drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Butterfield Road in San Anselmo on Nov. 30.

Barberis was previously convicted of drunken driving in Santa Rosa in 1959 and in San Anselmo in 1942.

Two Marin Men Carved Niches To Be Proud Of

Marin lost two men over the weekend who have carved their niches in our community.

Dr. Willis C. Lamott, 67-year-old seminary professor, died in a local hospital after a long illness.

George S. Menke, 78, retired Corte Madera town clerk, died in Sonoma County after a two-year bout with cancer.

Menke was for a quarter of a century a major force in the government of Corte Madera. He was its treasurer, assessor, tax collector, assistant fire chief and assistant police chief, as well as its clerk.

In the years just before his retirement late in 1957, he held strong reins on the community, although the speed of today's existence and the mushrooming growth of the town he served, threatened to overwhelm him.

We recall him sitting in front of the town council during their meetings, laboriously making notes with pen and ink, relying on his failing hearing to blot out requests or demands of councilmen for his attention until he had made a final period. Then he'd lift his head and say, "Now what was it you wanted?"

There are stories about him by the score; with his various hats on, he could see that things in town government were moving in the direction he thought best for the town. And, we must add, he wasn't often proven wrong.

Dr. Lamott brought to the county a wide experience in matters of the Far East and the church mission field. After graduating from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo in 1919, he went to Japan and laid the foundation for his lifetime work of missionary and teaching work.

He returned to the seminary 13 years ago and served as dean of students, director of admissions and professor of Christian missions at his alma mater.

In his community relationships he was always willing and effective in sharing his experience and experiences with the people of Marin. Besides being a good professor, he was a good neighbor and friend to many county residents.

Both of these men have left something behind of which their friends and families can be proud.

The Deadly Lull

Who has not been to a party, large or small, when for a moment all conversation ceases and the guests and host and hostess grope frantically for a subject which will start the talk pouring forth once again.

Everyone scratches his brain energetically to uncork the bottle of conversation. The results of such obvious attempts to fill the void of silence with noise are usually not very satisfying.

Perhaps our age is too filled with noise, with conversation, radio and TV, with words without thought for us to appreciate the need for a pause and thought collecting. We seem to have lost an appreciation of the value of silent communion.

Many of our most enlightening conversations, looking back, were not with the fast talking "brilliant conversationalist." They were with the fellow who thought before he opened his mouth, who usually had something worthwhile to say.

Small talk and party chatter have their places. But when everyone becomes absorbed in a question and the wheels are turning, there is only one thing more annoying than the deadly lull.

That is the well-intentioned icebreaker—"Did I ever tell you what our dog, Lulu, did?"

Big Snowstorm Really Thaws Out New York City, Makes It Friendly

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a blizzard to melt the cold, cold heart of the world's greatest city.

So, if you want to see America's leading metropolis at its friendliest, be sure to come here during a blinding snowstorm.

A human thaw occurs that turns sprawling Gotham into a small town of some eight million neighbors.

A 17-inch snowfall here this week proved that again. A big storm always does.

On ordinary days a stranger seeing Manhattan for the first time gets the eerie impression he has been set down in a vast civic madhouse.

Everybody seems to be in a tremendous rush to get from where he is to where he isn't. Each person acts as if he were carrying an important message to Garcia.

It is a city where folks don't really seem to have time for each other. It is a city where you start mumbling "G-bye" before you finish saying "H'lo."

To many visitors, awed by the pace here, New York appears less a city than a huge traffic problem—an intricate maze endlessly threaded by two-legged ants hopped up by pep pills.

But let five or more inches of snow fall, and all this magically changes.

The daily scramble to gain an edge on the other fellow is forgotten. The subway stare—that self-protective look of indifference—disappears.

THE CITY becomes a common white battleground on which the community forges a fresh unity.

Gallantry emerges. Men cheerfully break paths through the deepening snow, and old ladies follow in their footsteps. The bus driver no longer shuts his door in the face of a passenger.

ILL-TEMPER vanishes. Good nature reigns. An almost frolic atmosphere takes over. People share cabs who never shared cabs before.

It might make the big city a better place to live in if it were hit with a real blizzard at least once a month throughout the year—just so it could show its real human heart more often.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

After $1,500 worth of paving the west lot of the San Rafael courthouse was ready for parking. Supervisors talked of installing parking meters on both east and west lots as they didn't think there would be enough officials to snatch all the places. (Editor's Note: They wuz wrong.)

20 YEARS AGO

Five hundred soldiers invaded historic Drake's Bay where land on the Leland Murphy ranch had been obtained for use as a conditioning ground for foot troops.

Daily food costs at San Quentin Prison were reported up to 19½ cents per man from 17 cents the previous spring, when a major food riot occurred. Federal prison standards average 25 cents and the Army pays about 45 cents.

Housing Authority Vital To Marin

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

The many congratulatory contacts received over the news of my appointment to the Marin Housing Authority by the Board of Supervisors, perhaps calls for my statement on this vital project.

My investigation of the redevelopment and housing authority's functions, reveals the opportunity to engage in the practical field of redeveloping blight into new construction. The work to be done seems comprehensive and at a level in line with theoretical knowledge acquired in U.C. Course in "Urban Redevelopment and Planning."

The authority's problems and the corrective measures necessary for the satisfaction of all at least expense together with the contributions from the end result of either success or failure, are the vital points that interest me.

Forecasts of Marin's population increases, calls for positive thought and action in providing adequate housing at rental brackets to meet the limited income of new and young families starting out. Ths project seems to be a step in the right direction to meet our responsibility of helping limited income families in their transition to higher income and better Marin positions according to each one's ability to better themselves through practical knowledge of on-the-job training, as well as theoretical through the use of our education centers.

Efforts of the authority impresses me as being a necessary force to combat gradual development of blight throughout our county, for although it is now primarily concerned with Southern Marin, the authority's experiences will no doubt pave the way in helping other areas with the same conditions caused by the elements of time.

This concentrated effort in redevelopment is the answer to the many problems throughout the county that will bring in new aesthetic and economic values in keeping with the high standards we enjoy.

Concentrated housing for limited income families will strengthen our economy, for the earned dollar in Marin—will remain in Marin. My own experiences in the rental market reveals the need for lower rental housing as many have moved into neighboring counties while working within Marin for the dollar loss to our economy.

Of the hundreds of important segments involved in urban redevelopment, concentrated housing is a small part but important to planning and development of larger lots for houses in the next price bracket—to the ultimate of estate development of one or more acres on elevated sites for custom built, more expensive homes.

Such action and planning, providing parks and recreational facilities to breathe, together with transportation routes and methods, will prevent Marin from "choking" and help determine the "density scale of comfort" in accordance with what the topography will allow.

The Marin Housing and Redevelopment Authority seems to be working toward the solution of these vital problems and it is because of their comprehensive approach that I appreciate this opportunity to engage in the practical field of redeveloping blighted areas.

I wish to thank the Board of Supervisors for their considerations and appointment and will endeavor to work for solutions of the problems to the satisfaction of all.

Errors In Story About Brindel

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At this time of the year we can well understand your dismissing this letter. But be assured we write it not out of a sense of having been offended, but rather in the interests of accurate reporting and in the interests of helping you continue to do your good job in community public relations.

In your Nov. 26 edition under a two column article headlined "Parishes Castigated In Catholic Magazine," the following in accuracies occur:

Paragraph 4. The Novato writer, Paul Brindel, is referred to as the only layman writing in a certain issue of the Catholic Management Journal. This is simply not so. Three other laymen published by-line articles in the same issue of the Catholic Management Journal.

Paragraph 6: Mr. Brindel's charge that certain county officials were uninvited must be based on his own private and thorough survey, because only the pastor—in this particular case—knows who was invited and who was not invited to the parochial school's ceremonies.

Also paragraph 6: Mr. Brindel's complaint about the absent director of public relations seems to me to be bad public relations in itself, since Mr. Brindel has no idea of the busy schedule of the director, nor exhibits little understanding of what the director (who is an an editor) thinks is significant news of interest to a wide area audience.

Paragraph 7: This paragraph includes the charge that the diocesan weekly did not cover the dedication of a parish school. This is absolutely false. As a matter of policy, that we attend to religiously, The Monitor covers, usually in advance, all church, school, and convent building dedications with lengthy articles and photographs.

We understand the problem you have of checking on the accuracy of charges and complaints that come out of local stories. We just wanted to remind you that the Independent-Journal's reputation for good reporting is not helped when your columns are exploited in Mr. Brindel's manner.

A man home from his first European vacation — Paris, Rome and London in nine days—boasted to his bar mates, "And plus everything else, I learned to speak French. Get a load of this: Si, si, Signor!" "You stupid cluck," jeered a friend. "That is not French, that's Italian." "What do you know," marveled the tourist. "You mean I can speak Italian too?"

County Groups Could Improve Night Meetings With Few Hulas

What Marin County's night meetings need is the hula.

I speak on a basis of ripe experience. Having been subjected to the task of reporting night meetings for more years than I care to tote up, let me say that the old-time Honolulu product was world's ahead of Marin.

Both places, a lot of people (not including myself) love to wrench loose from their little grass shacks and go off to some sort of public meeting come nighttime.

WHAT HAPPENS at such meetings in Marin? Just a lot of yak, yak, yak.

What used to happen in Hawaii? Hulas!

They tell me that nowadays TV has taken the place of a lot of night entertainment in the islands, just like everywhere else. Most likely Henry Kaiser is to blame.

But back when I was hale and hearty, doing a good day's work for a poor day's wage and working night assignments without overtime, there was plenty of fun in night meetings, especially when it came to political meetings.

The candidate would make speeches in English, Japanese, Chinese and of course, Hawaiian, and quite likely Portugese. Ukeleles would strum, boys would sing, and some pretty little brown wahine as limber as a snake would show the ancient hula with all modern improvements.

THAT WAS LIFE for a young lad from Montana. Or for a young lad from anywhere.

After a while I became so expert on Hawaiian politics that my lawyer friend, Roy Vitousek, let me run his campaign for the territorial legislature.

We made his name into "Wekuke" for the benefit of the Hawaiian voters but neglected to provide any hulas. By concentrating on his intellectual qualifications I nearly got Roy licked at the polls.

He did squeak through, and there was plenty of hulas in his later campaigns. By and by he rose to be speaker of the House of Representatives in spite of his intellectual qualifications.

WITH THIS information in my system I'll bet I could run a winning compaign in Marin County.

Anyhow, I'd certainly brighten up those night meetings of ours.

It might totally dispose of the whole yak problem.

People like to hear themselves talk, and that is why they go to the night meetings unless they work on the I-J and being driven to the meetings by unfeeling bosses.

BUT THE BIG thing is, few people care to hear other people talk.

For the hula, I'll bet even some of the champion long-distance speechifiers would forego some of the gab. We could import a few shapely experts and train the local talent.

There is no law against letting candidates and officials do the hula themselves if they have inclination and talent. Maybe this is the way to get more women to run for public office.

And Supervisor Bill Fusselman would be a natural.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Let's Not Pretend New Communist Manifesto Is A Peace Document

WASHINGTON — The new Communist manifesto, just signed and sealed in Moscow by the Communist parties from 81 countries at a conference which Premier Khrushchev recently pretended was not taking place, is marked by all the customary vagaries of a U. S. political platform.

It promises something to everybody—preferably a revolution. It guarantees nothing to anybody. It does not commit Red China to practise peaceful co-existence. It does not prevent the Soviet Union, while talking peaceful co-existence, from using force "when necessary."

It is well phrased to serve its purpose—to whip up the cold war by every means.

AT NO PLACE, in spirit or in substance, does it point a road to peace. It is a menacing challenge to every non-Communist nation. If we fail to recognize it as such, it is doubly menacing.

The manifesto is a tactical Soviet victory over the dissident Chinese Communists. It was won not by Red China being persuaded to love "peaceful co-existence," but because it saw that only by accepting Moscow's formula of words could it be sure of continuing to get what it now most needs, Soviet military, economic, and technical aid in large supply.

But how valuable is this Communist manifesto to the Communist cause? It seems to me it is valuable only if the free nations are fooled by it.

THE MANIFESTO stepped up the Communist attack on President de Gaulle. It renewed the barrage against Chancellor Adenaur. It makes hostility to the United States its cardinal tenet.

It retracted everything Khrushchev has said in the past about America being a "peace-loving nation." It brands the U. S. as the "chief enemy of the peoples of the world," the "bulwark of imperialism," and as "preparing a new war of aggression."

If Khrushchev believes these fantasies or wants other to believe them, he is the last statesman with whom an American president can properly deal.

Of course, it is possible that Mr. K. wants only to use the summit to intensify the cold war, not to help resolve it. He may be pressing for a third summit conference only to turn it into another propaganda carnival as he did in Paris last May. If so, he is going to find that President John Kennedy isn't going to play, isn't going to get caught.

KENNEDY HAS SAID explicitly that he will attend no unprepared summit. He has defined preparation as not merely agreeing upon an agenda, but as sufficient preliminary agreement to assure that a summit meeting will have a real chance of success.

This was President Eisenhower's own formula, but he gave in to pressure to attend an unprepared summit and the Paris fiasco was the inevitable result. I doubt if the President of the United States will again yield to this fateful temptation.

THE NEW manifesto sounds a dozen warnings against it.

The whole import of the manifesto shows that it is a new declaration of cold war on the free world and a directive to the 81 Communist parties to conduct it with renewed fury.

Let's not pretend otherwise.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 14, the 349th day of the year with 17 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1799, George Washington, the first president of the United States, died at Mount Vernon.

In 1819, Alabama entered the union as the 22nd state.

In 1861, Prince Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, died.

In 1895, Albert Frederick Arthur George, later King George VI of Great Britain, was born.

In 1911, Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen discovered the South Pole.

A thought for today: American President George Washington said: "Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire,—conscience."

TIME AND TIDE

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

U.S. Bomber Makes Record Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command B-52 bomber today completed a 10,000-mile, nonstop flight to shatter two world records, the Air Force announced.

The jet bomber took off from this desert base at 7:07 a.m. (PST) yesterday and returned this morning after completing the closed-circuit course in 19¾ hours without refueling.

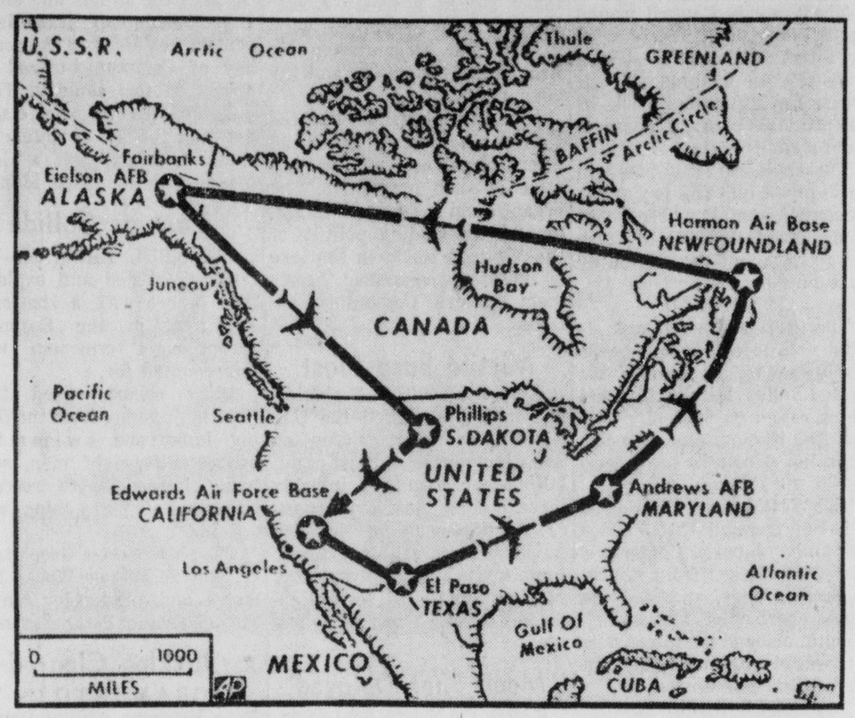
The B-52, from SAC's "combat ready" alert forces, was flown by a crew from the 5th Bombardment Wing at Travis Air Force Base.

Previous closed-circuit distance records were set by a B-29 propeller-driven bomber from MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., that flew 8,854 miles in August, 1947, and a jet-powered B-52D from Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D., that covered 6,233 miles in September, 1958.

In topping these records today, the SAC bomber flew over El Paso, Tex., Andrews Air Force Base, Md., Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, Elson Air Force Base, Alaska, Philip, N.D., and returned here shortly before 3 a.m. (PST) today.

The 650-mile-an-hour bomber was commanded by Lt. Col. Thomas R. Grissom, 36, Rapid City, S.D. and carried a seven-man crew. The plane was from the 23rd bomber squadron of the 15th Air Force.

The Air Force said the flight "dramatically demonstrated the "intercontinental reach of SAC's bombers."



HISTORIC FLIGHT ROUTE — Map outlines the air route of the Air Force B-52G jet bomber which landed today at Edwards Air Force Base, its starting point, after a 10,000-mile nonstop flight without refueling. The eight-jet bomber and its seven-man crew were aloft 19 hours and 45 minutes. (AP Wirephoto)

Committee Told Of California Education Gap

Testimony Given On Citizens Advisory Report

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — California schools were called "some of the best and some of the worst in the nation" today in the Citizens Advisory Commission on Education testimony regarding its recently submitted report.

William M. Buckman of Klamath River, a former member of the State Board of Education, told the Legislature's joint interim committee on education that wide discrepancy had been found in schools of the state. But many things already have been improved because "they saw the light of day" when the commission delved into problem areas, he said.

Buckman said he believes a statewide testing program, proposed in the commission's 104-recommendation report, would do away with some of the inequalities.

Other commission members took different looks at the schools' "situation."

Mrs. Janet L. Allen of Sutter Creek, one of three signers of a controversial minority report, was absent but sent a long letter declaring that "the only hope" for youth to obtain an education "is provided in a private school." The Amador school teacher said she drives 100 miles per day so her two children can receive private schooling.

Dr. William V. Lawlor of Glendale, chairman of the commission, reviewed the recommendations. He said the mem-

Son Overthrows Ethiopian Ruler

Crown Prince Seizes Throne Of Selassie

LONDON (UPI) — The Ethiopian Foreign Ministry announced today in a radio broadcast that Crown Prince Asfa Wosen had led a peaceful revolt against the government of his father, Emperor Haile Selassie.

The announcement reported the "peaceful change" in the government while the 69-year-old emperor was on a state visit to Brazil.

In another broadcast monitored in London by the British Broadcasting Corp., the crown prince said the revolt had the support of "myself, the armed forces, the police, the educated youth, the whole people of Ethiopia."

The coup prince ended 30 years of rule by Selassie, who once fought invasion by Italian troops, and who still ruled it like a feudal monarch from his palace in Addis Ababa.

The Addis Ababa broadcasts made no mention of the emperor.

"A peaceful change has taken place in the government under the leadership of the crown prince," the Ethiopian Foreign Ministry announcement said.

The broadcast said the announcement was handed to all embassies, legations and consulates at Addis Ababa.

The overthrow of the 69-year-old emperor had been reported earlier in diplomatic reports reaching London, Paris and Washington.

The reports reaching Washington did not mention any civil disorder in the African nation where Selassie had ruled since Nov. 2, 1930.

Selassie, who had appealed unsuccessfully to the defunct League of Nations to save him from invasion by Benito Mussolini's Italian troops in 1935, was able to fight off the invaders for many months before fleeing to London. British troops finally liberated Ethiopia during World War II.

Paris Presses Plan In Algeria Crisis

COMBINED AP & UPI

PARIS — President Charles de Gaulle conferred today with Premier Michel Debre on urgent measures to end the bloodshed in Algeria and keep the great territory linked somehow with France while granting it semi-independence.

He also called Louis Joxe, his minister for Algerian affairs, back to Paris to set in tomorrow morning on a full cabinet meeting. Soon afterward de Gaulle is expected to address the nation by radio, using his great personal prestige to woo support for his plan.

Troubles continued in Algeria after five days of bloodshed that took a toll of dead which French officials announced as 118. Unofficial sources said it was as high as 128. Today's trouble centered in Algiers' casbah where Moslems rioted and were put down with "a number of casualties."

De Gaulle's troubles were multiplied by the fact the Moslem population of Algeria has for the first time in six years of armed rebellion come out openly against the French settlers in a series of bloody clashes in the major cities.

In Algiers French gendarmes fired warning shots today over the heads of thousands of Moslems gathered near the casbah shouting slogans of the rebel forces.

Swarms of Moslems went through the twisted streets of the casbah shouting "Abbas to power"—rebel Premier Fehrat Abbas—and "Moslem Algeria."

It was one of the wildest demonstrations ever to rock the casbah. It centered around the Jewish synagogue which was looted Monday. Some Moslems began looting stores. The crowds swayed back and forth in emotional abandon.

School Merger For Bolinas, Stinson Voted

Unionization of the Bolinas and Stinson Beach school districts was overwhelmingly approved yesterday, by 168-28 vote of residents.

The tally in Bolinas was 82-20 and in Stinson Beach 86-8 for the merger.

This will combine the two into a union district next July 1, permanently merging two districts which have been running a combined program since September, 1959.

A new union district governing board must be elected April 18 to replace two boards which will go out of existence next June 30. Candidates must file before next March 17 at the office of the Marin County superintendent of schools.

In the combined program, to be continued under unionization, pupils of the first, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will go to the Bolinas school while Stinson Beach will handle those in the second, third and fourth grades.

Without unionization, the inter-district agreement would have had to terminate next spring, as there is a two-year limit imposed by the State Department of Education.

Determination of a new tax rate will be tackled by the new board probably in May or June. Present rates are: Bolinas, $1.01 basic per $100 valuation with eight cents override, total $1.09; Stinson Beach, $1.19 basic with six cents override, total $1.25.

Stinson Beach's $25,000 bond payoff, running to 1968, won't be assumed by Bolinas without a special election.

Pro-West Laotians Battle For Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan battled their way slowly toward the center of Vientiane today against stiff resistance of Capt. Kong Le's Russian-supplied leftist forces.

The fighting centered around army headquarters and the ministry of defense and at one point Phoumi's artillery set fire to the army headquarters building. But Kong Le's Red-kerchiefed fighters held firm.

Phoumi's right-wing forces, identified by the white armbands they were wearing, sent armored cars and infantry into the area but were met with heavy fire from mortars and machine guns flown in earlier by Russian planes.

The battle for the administrative capital of this tiny kingdom was bringing Southeast Asia to the crisis point and threatened to draw outside Western and Communist military forces into the civil war.

The fighting broke out Tuesday when Phoumi's troops launched an attack from the eastern fringes of the city and moved into the center of Vientiane. Kong Le's Red troops retook the central portion of the city during the night.

Fighting swirled back and forth but neither side appeared to have a decisive advantage.

Communist North Viet Nam accused South Viet Nam today of armed intervention and collusion with the pro-Western Laotian forces, the North Viet Nam news agency reported. It said many South Viet Nam officers and men were fighting alongside Phoumi's forces and warned that the action was undermining peace throughout Indo-China.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the right-wing forces were "unable" to occupy the city. It quoted the rebel Pathet Lao radio as saying the defenders "destroyed in fierce battles a large contingent of rebel troops and captured more than 100 officers and men and much equipment."

Busy Round Of Talks Held By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy held another busy round of conferences today as he sought to complete his cabinet.

Kennedy said he will not announce any further appointments at least until tomorrow.

Kennedy spoke with newsmen when Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) left his home after having lunch with the president-elect.

He said Mrs. Green, a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, had discussed minimum-wage legislation and aid to education. Both rank high on Kennedy's legislative priority list.

JUST FOR KICKS?

'Broken Home' Prank Hits Fairfax Family

There's a happy family of five at 100 Chester Avenue in Fairfax—no "broken home," despite classified advertising to the contrary.

Mrs. Marion O. Vanni, wife of a San Francisco paint store operator and mother of three, disclosed today some prankster with a distored sense of humor had placed classified advertising in the Independent-Journal and two San Francisco dailies, listing a dozen articles for sale under the heading "broken home forces sale."

The telephone has been ringing for a week with inquiries about the items, said Mrs. Vanni. Several persons have called at 100 Chester Avenue in hope of buying.

The same prankster, she said, apparently was responsible for a string of calls by salesmen and service men.

The first was last Wednesday, when Mrs. Vanni answered the doorbell to find a floor polisher ready to start doing her home. When she said she had not ordered her floors polished, the man produced an order bearing her name, address and telephone number.

Next morning, a Salvation Army truck arrived to take away articles which someone had telephoned were to be picked up at the Chester Avenue address. Mrs. Vanni had made no call for such a pickup

Mrs. Vanni said she complained to Fairfax Police Chief Clifton Cordes about the annoyances but was told there was nothing police could do for her.

"Someone has used their brains on this," said Mrs. Vanni, "but I can't understand where they're getting their kicks."

Winds Rake Bay Area; 5 Days Of Rain Seen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Small craft warnings flew along the coast today and the Weather Bureau predicted southeast winds of 17 to 34 m.p.h. would blow more rain tonight into Northern and Central California.

Five drizzly days were forecast for the Bay Area.

Gov. Brown Sees 'Big' Bond Issues

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today that California "will probably have some good, big whacking bond issues on the ballot in 1962."

The governor made the remark as the State School Bond Finance Committee authorized sale of another 95 million dollars in school bonds—the last of the 220 million dollars approved by the voters in the 1958 election.

The bonds will be offered for sale Jan. 11.

Brown said the state school building bonds, including 300 million dollars approved by the voters in this year's June primary election, probably will be exhausted by September 1962.

"We'l probably have to have a bond issue for state colleges, too," Brown said.

The state is faced with a necessity of spending 150 million dollars a year for construction in the next 20 years, not counting elementary schools, Brown said.

'Circle' Plan Broached For Hub Exchange

A landscaped "circle" at the Hub intersection in San Anselmo, to permit smoother flow of traffic and a more pleasing appearance, may be set up on a trial basis if the townspeople go for it.

The San Anselmo City Council last night decided to circulate sketches of the plan to merchants, the chamber of commerce and other organizations and individuals to see what the reaction would be.

The plan calls for a circle at the Hub, where the Miracle Mile forks off toward Fairfax and toward Ross. Stop signs would be eliminated. Outside the planted circle, cars would move in a counter-clockwise circle, peeling off toward Fairfax, Ross or San Rafael.

William Roe, city public works director, presented a rough sketch of the plan, which had been suggested by Councilman John M. Reichmuth.

"Under the present situation, we're losing shoppers," Reichmuth said. "At least, this would improve the appearance."

Councilmen agreed it is worth a try, but first, they decided to publicize the plan and get public reaction.

Boston Tea Party Planners Leaf Through U.S. History

BOSTON (UPI) — When angry colonists dumped tea into Boston harbor 187 years ago in protest against King George's taxes, Henry Purkitt, a young apprentice, was given the job of tramping the tea into the mud flats.

As each of 342 chests was opened and heaved overboard, Purkitt was showered with tea. His mother shook enough tea from his clothes to fill a jar which she stored on an attic shelf.

A century later, Henry Purkitt Kidder of Milton, Mass., gave it to Jeff Parker, editor of the Boston Bee, who showed it in the newspaper window. In 1944, Parker turned the jar over to historian Edward Rowe Snow. It now is preserved in the home of Sidney Stewwart, president of the Needham, Mass., Historical Society.

On Friday, anniversary of the Boston Tea Party, the Daughters of the American Revolution will give a tea party, using some of the tea. Those allowed to drink it will be descendants of the 119 original tea heavers and members of the Boston Tea Party chapter of the DAR.

MISSILE MIGHT — These models of a train designed to shuttle Minuteman missiles across the northern half of the nation were shown in Seattle yesterday to rail executives. When trains are moving, as at left, the missiles will lie horizontally inside the cars. When the 6,000-mile range missiles are to be fired, the train will stop and the missiles will rise to vertical firing position, as at right. (AP Wirephoto)

HE'LL LOSE $3 MILLION

McNamara Explains Why He Took Job

DETROIT (AP)—Why would a man be willing to lose some three million dollars in exchange for $25,000 a year and the title of secretary of defense?

Because, says Robert Strange McNamara, "Personal considerations must be subordinated to the responsibility to serve the president of the United States and the public on request."

McNamara announced yesterday that he was going to leave his job as president of the Ford Motor Co.—a post he has held for slightly more than a month — to join President-elect John F. Kennedy's Cabinet as defense secretary.

McNamara, 44, said he planned to get rid of his 24,705 shares of Ford stock and the options he holds on 30,000 other shares.

"I will forego profit of about three million dollars over the next three to four years," he said.

All this for a $25,000 a year and the tremendous responsibilities of a job offered by a Democratic president-elect to a man who describes himself as a Republican, who votes as a political independent, and who refuses to say whether he voted for Kennedy because "my vote is my own affair."

McNamara, an Air Force veteran, appeared on the automotive scene in 1946 with the postwar reorganization of Ford. He and nine other experts who pioneered the complex job of setting up statistical controls for the Air Force took themselves to Ford as a package and asked for a chance to put their talents to work for the giant auto company.

Henry Ford II, company president then, took the 10 on, and in a short time they had undertaken a sweeping shakeup in company policy.

McNamara, a native of San Francisco, studied at the University of California. He looks and dresses like the school teacher he once was.

He; his wife, Margaret, a son, Robert Craig, 10; and a daughter, Kathleen, 16, live at nearby Ann Arbor. Another daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, 19, attends Stanford University.

Five-Generation Family Reunion Due On Christmas

The first full get-together in 12 years of a five-generation family will take place on Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Smith, 20 Shelley Drive, Mill Valley.

Mrs. Mary Bauer, 88, from Robinsdale, Minn., her daughter, Mrs. Esther Smith, 67, from Glendive, Mont., her granddaughter, Mrs. Gretchen Schlauch, 49, of Missoula, Mont.; her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Marlene Owens, 28, of the Presidio of San Francisco, and her great-great-granddaughter, Kathy Owens, 9, will all be at the Christmas dinner table with their families.

Jerome A. Smith is Mrs. Bauer's grandson.

T. W. Smith, of Santa Rosa, Mrs. Esther Smith's son, will also be present, along with her granddaughter Mrs. Chet Geyer, San Jose, and her great grandson, 9-month-old Thomas Charles Geyer.

Ex-Marinite In Choir

Pfc. Camillo M. (Benny) Mello, formerly of Woodacre and San Rafael, has been selected as a member of the Fort Richardson, Alaska, Men's Choir. The Choir will go on a tour of Alaskan bases during the holidays.

Rail Men Get Preview Of Missile Train

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A long blue train may pull onto a siding in your town some night, and suddenly your neighborhood becomes a prime target area—until the train pulls out.

In the 10-car train are four or five windowless cars. Each car carries a glistening white missile ready to rocket a nuclear warhead 6,000 miles.

The missile, 58 feet long and 6feet in diameter at its base, is the Minuteman.

Solid-fueled and storable indefinitely, it can be jostled around on the nation's railroads for months or even years —then launched on a minute's notice.

Fifty of the country's top railroad executives yesterday got their first look at a full-scale mockup of a Minuteman train in a big hangar at the Boeing Airplane Co. plant here.

Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, conceded at a news conference that spies might with great effort learn where Minuteman trains of the future were parked each night. "But by the time they can get their information to Moscow," he said, "the trains will have gone on to other points on the nation's thousands of miles of railroads."

SOUTHWEST LASHED

Business Socked By Storm In East

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slowly, painfully, the eastern United States, still gripped by an unrelenting arctic cold, dug itself out today from the worst autumn storm in its history. As it did so, a new storm hit New Mexico and spread across the Southwest.

The toll of storm-related deaths passed 220, and the cost in lost business and in the expense of snow removal ran into millions of dollars.

WIND MENACE

The cold, which ranged into the below-zero regions in some areas, had a cruel companion: the wind. It stung the faces of motorists trying to dig out from streets still littered with abandoned vehicles; it blew the snow's fine powder into electric-train engines and stalled motors, and it covered ordinary objects with drifting snow and turned them into strange, white shapes.

As millions chopped at ice and shoveled snow, it was no comfort to read that in Moscow, normally one of the icebox cities of the world, the citizens were complaining because unseasonable warmth had ruined the usual skating and skiing.

GUARD ORDERED OUT

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered out the State National Guard to help clear abandoned vehicles from New York City's snow-clogged streets.

In the southwest, up to 12 inches of snow fell in the high mountains of New Mexico, and snow was general in a belt across West Texas from the panhandle to the Big Bend country. In the flatlands the fall was generally six inches or less and in some places was mixed with sleet and rain. The big eastern storm had started in the southwest.

On the eastern seaboard no relief from the subnormal cold was in sight, although some moderation was predicted today and tomorrow.

New York City and the other great Christmas shopping centers of the east suffered grevi-ously from a lack of customers. New York counted the loss in several millions, and department store managements said they doubted they could recoup the lost sales before Christmas Day.

Fairfax Planner Vacancy Filled

William L. Blair of 597 Cascade Drive, assistant personnel manager of Standard Oil Co. of California has been appointed to fill the vacancy on the Fairfax Planning Commission by Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar.

Blair has been a member of the board of reviews in Fairfax for 10 years. He has also been a deputy police officer for 12 years.

Blair and his wife, along with their two sons, 14 and 17, have been residing in Marin County for 13 years.

The city council also gave the go-ahead to the planning commission to elect one of the commission members as secretary, in January, and each odd-numbered year thereafter.

Idaho Frees Ten Eyck Death Girl

GOODING, Ida. (UPI)—A 19-year-old woman, whose association with a now-condemned killer resulted in two murder charges against her, was released from jail here yesterday.

Both charges were brought against Mary Katherine Hampton, of Sandy Hook, Ky., as the result of statements by Emmett Spencer, 29, who is now awaiting execution in Florida on another murder conviction.

Spencer named the girl as his accomplice in the California murder of former University of California basketball star Perry Ten Eyck in 1959. He also claimed that she and Rodger Hall, 22, of Crescent City, were with him when Dr. John Hunt of Portland, Ore., was murdered in Idaho the same year.

Murder charges against Miss Hampton were dropped by Idaho authorities when she agreed to testify against Hall at his trial for the Hunt killing. Hall was acquitted, but Miss Hampton was charged with murder by authorities at Ukiah, in connection with Ten Eyck's death.

The Kentucky woman was jailed again Thursday on a telegraphic warrant from sheriff Reno Bartolomie at Ukiah. However, District Attorney Frank S. Peterson of Mendocino County notified authorities here yesterday that "we aren't going to extradite."

Bartolomie said the fugitive warrant against Miss Hampton and plans to extradite her were being dropped temporarily. He said investigation of the case would continue.

Congo Debate Flops, Goes To Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Security Council wound up its Congo debate early today by killing off rival East-West proposals for dealing with the crisis. Ceylon pulled back its compromise plan to spare it from a similar fate.

The explosive issue now will be dumped into the lap of the General Assembly where weary delegates are striving to finish the first half of the session by next Tuesday.

92ND VETO

The Soviet Union cast its 92nd veto to defeat a Western resolution by Argentina, the United States, Italy and Britain which called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to continue his efforts to restore order in the Congo.

The West in turn voted down a Soviet demand that Patrice Lumumba, deposed Congo premier, be released from imprisonment at once, and that the Congo army chief, Col. Joseph Mobutu, disband his forces. The vote was two in favor with eight against and one abstention.

ATTEMPT DEFEATED

The Soviet Union and Poland voted for the proposal, Ceylon abstained.

A Soviet attempt to change drastically the wording of the Western resolution with a series of amendments was roundly defeated.

A last-minute resolution by Poland which merely called for the freeing of Lumumba was defeated by a vote of three in favor, six against and two abstentions.

The marathon session which wound up at 3:41 a.m. ended with a bitter clash between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Greyhound Given Rate Hike Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday granted temporary fare increases on long distance trips to five bus companies including Western Greyhound lines.

The commission order permitted Greyhound increases on trips of 250 miles or more which would produce $70,000 a month in new revenue. Commute fares are not affected.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Economic Treaty

PARIS (AP) — The United States and 19 Western nations today signed a treaty closely linking their economies within the new Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

It was the first time that the United States had joined an international economic cooperative of such magnitude. The organization is designed to harmonize the trading policies of the Western world in the face of increasing economic threats from Eastern Communist nations.

Missile Base Blast

Moon Shot Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technical trouble today forced a one-day postponement of an attempt to launch an American space craft toward an intended orbit about the moon.

A 388-pound space craft is intended to become the first electronic equipment is designed to make the most extensive study yet attempted of the moon's environment.

To Adopt Africans

PARIS (UPI) — Louis Armstrong, emerging from a gruelling 20,000-mile musical swing around troubled Africa, told newsmen, "Man, it was just like I expected."

"African cities are not any different from Chicago or New Orleans," the famed trumpet player said. "I loved them all." In fact, Armstrong said he was so pleased with his trip and the people he met that he decided to adopt two African babies from Cameroun.

Riots In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI)—Mobs dragged the United States flag through the streets and stoned U.S.-Ecuadorean friendship centers yesterday in the second day of Communist-tinged disorders in this country. There was no report of new clashes between police and rioters like those in which half a dozen persons were injured Monday.

Tankers Collide

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Two tankers collided and exploded into flames with a shattering roar today in the Bosporus. Twenty-eight crewmen were unaccounted for.

Many sailors saved their lives by jumping from the flaming hulks and swimming ashore. Fifty-eight men, some badly burned, were rescued. Captains of both ships were missing.

The ships were a Greek tanker, the 20,000-ton World Harmony, and a Yugoslav tanker, the 25,000-ton Peter Zeranich.

Backlog Cleared

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The State Veterans Affairs Department has cleared up a backlog of 12,000 applications on file a year ago for Cal-Vet farm and home loans.

The reason, the department said yesterday, is because of its institution last summer of a plan under which veterans learn quickly after application whether they qualify for a state loan.

Checkup For Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is in Walter Reed Army Hospital, completing the second phase of his annual medical checkup.

Eisenhower entered the hospital last night.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the president feels fine but wants to finish his physical examination. The first phase of the checkup was Sept. 15 and 16. Eisenhower is expected to stay in the presidential suite at Walter Reed until sometime tomorrow.

Deer Park School Program Planned

Parents and pupils will combine efforts in presenting the Christmas sale and program at Deer Park School in Fairfax at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Each classroom will present specially prepared songs and acts. Bruce McDonald, principal, will direct singing of Christmas carols. Refreshments will be served by second grade mothers.

Deer Park Parent-Teacher Assn. will sponsor the Christmas sale, which will offer many handmade items, according to Mrs. James Jenkins, chairman.

Santa Claus will arrive at the school on a fire engine Friday for parties in classrooms during which the children will exchange small gifts.

Gallinas School Program Friday

There'll be the sound of Christmas emanating from the Gallinas School in Santa Venetia on Friday.

Unless the weather is too bad, first through sixth graders will join in 20 minutes of singing outside the building, starting at 1:15 p.m. Kindergarten youngsters will do their singing in the halls.

Short programs and class parties, with refreshments served by Parent-Teacher Assn. members, will follow the Christmas songfest.

Organ Society Plans Election Of Officers

The Hammond Organ Society of Marin will elect officers at a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller, 18 Edgewater Avenue, Mill Valley.

A Christmas party will follow the business meeting. Christmas carols will be sung, and refreshments served.

Strawberry Rips Plans By Neider

Objections were raised at a meeting of the board of the Strawberry Property Owners' Assn. Monday over Samuel R. Neider's Strawberry Point project for "tower apartments," on the basis it will change the character of the area and of the whole county.

Board members and property owners voiced objections to Lloyd Flood of Belvedere, architect and promoter of the project.

Board members fear the urbanizing of a rural area plus traffic congestion on East Strawberry Drive, Stephen A. Kaupmann, board member, said.

PROPOSED FOR TERRA LINDA—Architect's drawing shows one of the 19 cooperative apartment houses proposed by developer Calvin B. Wheeler which would be located in Terra Linda Meadows at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway. Each would have individual patios and car ports. Terra Lindans protested Wheeler's application to rezone the area at a public hearing before the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Apartment Project Zoning Protested

Irate Terra Lindans jammed the San Rafael City Council chambers last night to protest developer Calvin C. B. Wheeler's plans for a six-million-dollar cooperative apartment project at the end of Manuel Freitas Parkway.

More than 70 persons—several lined against the walls—listened to and participated in the hour and one-half public hearing held by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Wheeler has applied for rezoning 16 acres of uninhabited land called Terra Linda Meadows from unclassified to garden apartments. The land is bordered on the north by an extension of the Freitas Parkway and on the east by Montecillo Road.

A 566 signature petition from nearby home owners was filed in protest to the rezoning. Seven individual letters also protested the plan.

Among opponents of the rezoning were the Terra Linda Community Services District board of directors, who filed a letter signed by director Michael J. Franzblau, and the Terra Linda Oaks No. 9 Home Owners Assn. (The community services district is outside the city, and Terra Linda No. 9 is outsides the services district and outside the city.)

They argued that development of aparmtents would invade privacy, represent piecemeal development in direct violation of the 1957 county master plan for the area which specifies a single-family community and lower property values.

The protestants also warned of overflow traffic conditions and overcrowded schools if the apartments were built.

Commissioners set the second public hearing for Jan. 10 at the request of San Rafael architect Rolland B. Hammond, who represents Wheeler.

In a 50-minute speech, Hammond outlined the plan for the apartment project.

(Wheeler also developed the cooperative Terra Linda Garden apartments near Highway 101 in Terra Linda.)

The project would consist of 19 apartment buildings containing about 178 units. He estimated about 530 people would live in the apartments.

Units of 750 to 1,500 square feet would be mostly two-bedrooms (47 per cent), with 33 per cent three bedrooms and 20 per cent one bedroom. Because they would be cooperative and the occupants would buy into the corporation, Hammond said, the normal rapid turnover of tenants would be eliminated.

Planned in the project are a community building with swimming pool, a one-acre park site and a smaller park. All would be maintained by the project residents, he said.

Hammond said the developer planned to spend $120,000 on landscaping.

The apartment buildings would be one and two story structures with enclosed individual patios and carports.

Hammond said the project would boost San Rafael's assessed valution by $3,115,000, twice the value of a single-family development in the area.

He denied there would be any school children from the apartment project than if the land were developed as single-family residences.

Wheeler submitted a tentative single-family subdivision map for 70 lots on the land in 1959, but it was turned down by the planning commission because he would not agree to extend and improve Manuel Freitas Parkway fronting on his property. Hammond presented maps showing Freitas Parkway would be extended along the north edge of the apartment project. The main outlet for the apartment occupants would be a north-south road opening onto the parkway.

Reed Students Plan Operetta

Reed School seventh and eighth graders will present an operetta, "Christmas For Others," at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school auditorium.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade choruses will sing before the performance and the advance band and orchestra will play. Eighth grade students will narrate. Operetta leads will be played by Steve Bunker, Kathy Bramante, Daniel Boffi, Rhonda Esplin, William Swigart, Wendy Poling and Elizabeth Love.

Planners Approve Addition For San Rafael Seminary

The San Rafael Planning Commission approved a $300,000 chapel-convent building for the Marist Fathers and a new office for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults last night.

Both use permits were granted quickly and unanimously.

The T-shaped building at St. Peter Chanel Seminary (Marist Fathers) at 1675 Grand Avenue is part of a five-year $500,000 expansion project.

Very Rev. Edward Donze, S.M., provincial of the Marist Fathers in this area, said it would almost double the present capacity of 70 students. Some 120 young men could then attend the six-year course through high school and junior college, he said.

Architects Wilton Smith and Associates of San Francisco have planned a two-story building which would include a chapel, library, convent, and housekeeping quarters. Construction is expected to begin in June, according to Father Donze. Partial occupancy is expected by the end of next year.

The Crippled Children's Society was granted permission to renovate an old five-room house at 629 Mission Avenue. Society president Frank J. Keaton said it will make possible putting all its activities in one building for the first time in the organization's 20-year history.

He said the financing will be from the society's Easter Seal funds. The society hopes to move into the new offices by the end of January, he said.

Telephone Company Pays County Tax: $444,043

The state's and Marin's largest taxpayer, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., turned over a $444,043.58 check this week to the county as its first installment payment of 1960-61 Marin County taxes.

This, plus taxes to cities that collect their own (Fairfax and San Anselmo), brings PT&T's total first installment payment to $450,935.21. The company's tax for both installments this year is $899,390.13.

This year's payment by PT&T is an increase of $74,645.33 over last year's $824,744.80.

First installment checks, paid to the county by various utility companies this week, are as follows:

PT&T — $444,043.58; Pacific Gas and Electric Co. — $407,106,03; Southern Pacific—$55,229.17; Radio Corp. of America —$35,025.50; Western California Telephone Co.—$31,879.26, and American Telephone—$6,248.34.

Library Board Chairman Quits

Robert H. Menzies, president of the San Rafael Library Board since 1925, officially resigned from the board Monday night.

The 84-year-old Menzies has been confined to a local convalescent hospital for almost five months.

Board members accepted his resignation and expressed gratitude for his long years of service. He has been a member of the library board since 1914 — six years after the library was built.

Menzies was reappointed by the mayor last year for a four-year term. Mrs. Eleanor G. Murray has been serving as acting president.

The fastest animal in America is the pronghorn, an antelope with bursts of speed up to 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Marindale School Classrooms Planned

Two additional classrooms at the Marindale School for handicapped children in Terra Linda will be finished by next September, it was announced at the meeting of the Marin County Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children last week.

The group will meet again Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. in the Marin General Hospital annex.

THREE GENERATIONS AT GROUNDBREAKING

Cost By Foot Of Road Work Told Council

Widening of a portion of Center Road in Novato will probably cost residents $6 to $7 a foot, city councilmen heard last night.

Councilmen officially named Center, between Diablo and Tamalpais Streets, as the first section for city road work.

The 60-foot right of way required would result in about 42 feet of actual street, councilmen noted. Total cost of the project was estimated at $69,000. It would be borne 50-50 by residents and the city. City Administrator J. Julien Baget noted that the project probably would require formation of an assessment district.

Center Road residents, who have plumped for road improvement for months, patiently sat until the matter came up at midnight.

"Is it possible to get this Center Road discussion a little earlier in the night," plaintively asked Jack A. Seely of 1613 Center Road, on hearing that a further report is expected on costs and resident participation.

In other business last night, the council:

1. Agreed to payment of the $500 budgeted to the Novato Chamber of Commerce, to cover the $506.52 cost of printing 3,000 city maps and 2,000 brochures. Councilmen turned down a request for another $358.16 for printing a sales letter pointing out a coming sale and city benefits from the sales tax.
2. Set a special meeting for 8 p.m., Tuesday, for consideration of the pending business license ordinance.
3. Approved a bicycle ordinance setting a 50-cent fee for a license for the life of the bike.
4. Set for Jan. 3 a hearing on a proposed electrical code.

NOVATO KIDS SOON MAY GET A JET PLANE

Novato ..may ..have a jet plane sitting in its front yard soon for children to clamber on.

City councilmen last night agreed to consider requesting a plane from the Air Force, after Maj. L. D. Sorenson of Hamilton Air Force Base told them they could get a surplus plane at little or no cost.

The plane might be placed temporarily on the grounds of one of the schools in the Novato Unified District until the city has a park. School officials, also meeting last night, agreed to the move if the city would foot any bills.

Sorenson suggested Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, as a possible arrival date for the plane, to be christened "The City of Novato." The type of plane would depend on available surplus aircraft.

School Plan For Summer Recommended

Larkspur School District's first summer school program, in 1961, should include both "enrichment" and remedial courses, the citizens advisory committee told the district board last night.

The district principals already have recommended that such a program be set up, and plans are under way.

The citizens committee recommended a small fee be charged pupils to help defray expenses.

The board heard the text of a letter to be sent to parents, outlining conduct expected of pupils when riding school buses.

A warning will be given for a first violation; riding privileges will be removed for a week for a second violation, and for the rest of the year for a third violation.

The board also:

1. Heard that the contract for purchase of the new school site in Mariners Cove will be ready for signing as soon as county counsel makes some changes in the phrasing.
2. Asked that a committee of Parent-Teacher Assn. and Dads' Club members be formed to consider a name for the new school.
3. Told Supt. Vaughn Seidel to accept applications from any persons within or outside the district for the positions of summer school principal and principal of the new school.
4. Discussed a salary schedule for non-teaching personnel. Mervin Gootherts, principal of Hall School, will present a tentative schedule at the next meeting.
5. Heard Dr. Seidel report trees in front of Larkspur-Corte Madera school are cracking the sidewalk.

Master Plan Study Backed In Novato

Novato city councilmen voted last night to back a restudy of the North Marin Master Plan.

They renamed Harley McAskill to the city planning commission, which will direct the study. McAskill, chairman of the commission, and other commission members had drawn lots less than a year ago after their appointment following city incorporation. McAskill and building inspector Fred Westfall drew on-year posts. McAskill's reappointment last night is to a four-year term. Westfall declined reappointment, saying his other duties were too pressing. City councilmen agreed to consider other residents for the post and choose one in a future closed executive session.

Councilmen authorized the planning commission to concentrate on a review of the present and future location and needs of the city's main business section, following a review of population, and establishment of residential densities.

Other study points would include land use, quantity of commercial and industrial land, conservation, community design, streets and highways.

The council also approved a list of citizens' committees which would study Novato's present and possible future problems, from recreation to finance. Mayor Wayne Womack noted that volunteers for the committes still are needed. Thirty-two have volunteered; there are 70 openings.

Councilmen turned down a proposal for rezoning from limited agriculture to three-family residential, part of a long, narrow strip of land on the west side of Highway 101.

Councilmen doubted the safety of two direct accesses to the highway and the advisability of such zoning in the area, located just south of the Safeways Stores property. Owner Richard Stockton had planned a motel, restaurant and cocktail lounge.

The vote to deny the rezoning request was 4-1, with Councilman Charles R. Johnson voting in favor. The council noted that rezoning might be reconsidered if Stockton found better access routes.

In other planning matters, the council:

1. Provisionally approved the final map of Villa Maria subdivision of builder John Novak can come to agreement with city officials on the work needed on Center Road near the subdivision.
2. Sent back to the planning commission for further consideration the proposal of Jack Caristi to build a doughnut shop at Second Street and Industrial Way. The planning commission had denied the request because of substandard parking planned. Caristi now has new plans.
3. Approved a 20-square foot overhanging sign for Harold's shoe store on Grant Avenue, and asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget for a recommendation on a sign ordinance which would eliminate a hearing on each sign overhanging the sidewalk.
4. Approved a 62-by-24 foot doughnut shop at the Nave Shopping Center, facing South Novato Boulevard. The action overrode the planning commission turndown of the plan.

Michigan State University has started an African Language and Area Center, where African languages are taught.

Safeway May Delay Novato Store Work

The Safeway supermarket in Novato, promised for construction beginning next May 1, will not begin to rise until at least two months later.

William A. Landtbom, representing Safeway interests, appeared before the Novato City Council last night to point out the "possibility of delay."

Landtbom promised councilmen that the store, planned as part of a shopping center at the intersection of Highway 101, Diablo Avenue and Novato Boulevard, will be constructed. But Safeway interests had assumed that an agreement "was imminent" between the City of Novato and the State Division of Highways on a route for an ultimate eight-lane freeway, he said.

Landtbom said that since grades and final highway plans had not been decided, no plans for the shopping center could be fully worked out.

Fire Commission Meets Tonight

The San Rafael Fire Commission will consider tonight whether to repeal the regulation that firemen must reside within the city limits.

The Joseph Sauer Fire Station No. 3, now under construction across Highway 101 from Terra Linda, will be in an area closer to many homes in unincorporated Marin than to most of those in the city. Fire Chief Vance Trivett said today the location of the station will simplify manning problems if firemen are allowed to reside outside the city limits.

The meeting is set for 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

Septic Tank Meeting

William Desmond, sanitation chief for the Marin County Health Department, will discuss septic tank problems at a meeting of the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan Committee at the Woodacre Improvement Club at 8 o'clock tonight.

Education, Recreation Increase For Aged Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two ways to ease the recreation problems of the aged were proposed yesterday by Elmer Aldrich, chief of the State Division of Recreation.

Aldrich, testifying before a state senate subcommittee on housing and recreation for the elderly, urged financial support of adult education classes be increased, and fees for the use of recreational facilities by the elderly be reduced.

He said the cheapest way of easing the recreational problem of the aged would be to cut fees for them at park facilities, on hunting and fishing licenses, for adult education courses, and on public transportation during non-peak hours.

A State Department of Education official said adult education courses help cut down physical, intellectual and emotional decline in older people. The official, Lawrence Koehler, said more than 50,000 adults aged over 60 enroll each year in California schools.

This demand will require more classes especially tailored for the aged, he said.

Planners In Larkspur Delay Zoning Debate

Larkspur Planning Commission, by a 3 to 2 vote last night, decided it wanted to consider rezoning the marshland property along Magnolia Avenue to something other than single-family residential. The matter will be discussed at the Dec. 27 meeting.

The property, which stretches between Doherty Drive and Bon Air Road, is now zoned for business. It is owned by A. B. Copeland and American Agency.

Commissioner S. W. (Bud) Eason and chairman Price Hall voted against rezoning consideration.

By a 4-to-1 vote, the commission decided against a single residential zoning for the property. Vaughn Marker was the dissenter.

The commission granted a request from Norman Clark for a lot split in the Marshland along Corte Madera Creek, near Magnolia and Doherty. The split will break the property into two 50-foot wide lots, each 200 feet deep.

Novato Club To Meet On Loan Request

Members of the Novato Community Club will meet tonight to vote on whether to allow the club to borrow $6,500 to $7,500 for clubhouse repair.

An injunction against the meeting, hinted by San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich, will not be requested of Marin Superior Court. But Weissich did not dismiss the possibility of a future injunction against spending the funds.

Weissich is attorney for club member Alfred Bowman, who has filed a suit seeking to force the club to give is property at 906 Machin Street to the City of Novato.

The meeting tonight will be to vote on whether to change the by-laws to allow the club to go over its present $500 debt ceiling to bring the old house up to fire and safety standards.

Panel To Debate Tower Apartments

"Should Tower Apartments be Permitted in Marin County?" will be discussed from 9 to 10 a.m. on radio station KTIM's "Sounding Board" by a panel including four participants in recent controversy over the Harbor Point rezoning project before Marin County planners and supervisors.

Wtih Kitty Oppenheimer as moderator, the panel will consist of Bryan R. McCarthy, attorney for Samuel R. Neider, the Strawberry developers; Lloyd Flood, architect for the towers and associated development intended to follow rezoning; planning director Mary Summers, and Rolland B. Hammond, Strawberry architect who has opposed the rezoning.

Questions from listeners will be answered. The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday from a tape recording.

Yule Program Set By School

Sun Valley School's all-school Christmas program will be given at 11:15 a.m. tomorrow.

After season's greetings by third graders, the first and second grades will share Christmas Tree Elves and Awakening of Toys. "The Presepio" will be given by the sixth grade as part of its Italian language study.

Choir selections will include a Christmas enactment by the fifth grade. Several classes have composed their own words and music for the program.

Accompanists and choir directors will be Mrs. Ruth Sempell, Mrs. Roberta Smith and Miss Alice Tobin.

The Sun Valley kindergarten presented its Christmas program today.

bers had "discovered many things calling for praise at all levels of education."

He called "important" the insistence that teachers have the right to appeal to the school board dismissal or complaints. At least one school district, he indicated, dismisses any teacher who appears before the school board or has other citizens appear on his behalf.

Salaries should keep teachers both in the classroom and in the profession, he said.

"There is some advantage in a teacher being familiar with the subjects she is teaching," he declared.

The commission also is recommending more study time on basic subjects, student achievement reports from higher to lower schools, less intensified physical education program, multiple adoption of textbooks, and placing of state heads of school divisions on a contractual rather than civil service basis.

Mrs. Irmgard B. Beard of Glennville, Kern County, a former teacher and another of the three signers of the minority report, objected to the educational philosophy of "life adjustment and running with the group."

Joseph Genser of El Cerrito, attorney for the State Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO), declared the "two most important" recommendations are the statewide testing program and multiple adoption of textbooks.

Normal C. Hayhurst, Glendale Savings and Loan Assn. president, urged in a letter a 20 per cent increase in bonding capacity of school districts. He was one of four signers of a minority opinion objecting to a proposed state testing program.

Dr. Joel H. Hildebrand, chemistry professor emeritus at University of California in Berkeley, gave lengthy support to the majority's recommendations.

He said he was forced to "present the case for the classroom teachers" because only 11 of some 250 witnesses were teachers.

Novato residents may donate blood until 7 o'clock tonight at Trevitt hall.

Body Washes Up On Coast Of Marin

The body of a Coast Guardsman, missing since a rescue mission on Thanksgiving Day, may have washed ashore near the Radio Corp. of America station at Point Reyes this morning.

Sheriff's Deputy William S. Christensen headed for the coast south of the RCA station today after getting reports that a body had been sighted in the area.

Hugh James McClements, 19, of Cotati has been missing since he and Anthony E. Holmes, 24, left the Point Reyes Lifeboat Station to tow in a disabled boat in Bodega Bay. Their Coast Guard boat was found with its motor still running, grounded on the beach near the life station. Holmes' body washed ashore a few days later.

Lagunitas School Gets State Loan

The State Allocations Board yesterday allocated a $213,400 school building loan to the Lagunitas School District for construction of a multi-purpose room and five classrooms.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye said the addition should be finished by next September.

Frye estimated that the building will cost between $280,000 and $290,000. The state funds will be added to an $80,000 bond issue that passed at the polls last September, Frye said.

The building program calls for the erection of sixth, seventh and eighth grade classrooms with a possible fifth grade room and a multi-purpose room, Frye reported.

IN MEMORIAM

PASQUINUCCI, Alfred R. — In loving memory of my wonderful father, Alfred R. Pasquinucci on the sixth anniversary of his passing.

I no longer cry as I mention your name
Nor visit your grave in despair
For I have learned, my dearest Dad,
The healing comfort of prayer.

There is nothing that I can do
To bring you back to earth to me
So I pray to God each day of my life
To grant you peace in eternity.

DUE LEGISLATURE

School Finance Program Detailed

A county equalization program for schools will be presented to the State Legislature by the California Department of Education.

Its purpose, Supt. Frank L. Lucas told the San Rafael Board of Education last night, is to equalize educational benefits among all school districts within a county—which is also one of the purposes for proposed consolidation of school districts on a county-wide basis.

But its effect, Lucas contended, would be to make California taxpayers bear an additional 21 million dollars of the expense of operating schools out of real property taxes.

Lucas said he is opposed to the program. Two of the board members, Willard Vernon and Harold H. Fulkerson, were inclined to favor it.

The state now assists in the support of school districts to a "base" or minimum outlay per child in attendance. For high school districts, the base is $324 per student.

Of this, the state grants all school districts $125 per student provided in the state constitution. Each high school district must allot the proceeds of a 40-cent tax rate to add to that $125. If that does not bring the total to $324, the state makes up the difference.

The new proposal would up the minimum to $340 per student—or $350 if the state gets additional funds which will be sought in another bill.

It also provides that the district must allot the proceeds of a 50-cent tax rate toward the basic $340—10 cents more than at present.

To equalize the distribution, the assessed valuation behind each child—plus whatever federal subsidies are received by districts for educating children living on federal lands or whose parents are in federal employ — would be figured county-wide. Then the state would make up the difference, if any, between the $125 basic grant plus the proceeds of a 50-cent tax rate and federal subsidies, and the $340 figure.

In Marin County, said Lucas, this would work out so that San Rafael High School District, which receives no state aid this year beyond the $125 basic grant per child, would get an additional $30 per student.

But Novato Unified District, which now gets $43.98 in additional state aid per high school student, would receive just $1 per student.

Tamalpais High School District, which now receives $38.35 per student, would get $33, he said.

The differences arise because Novato has only $26,700 assessed valuation for each high school student, but has many federal employees (at Hamilton Air Force Base) so receives federal aid totaling $39 per student. San Rafael High School District has $35,600 assessed valuation behind each student, but gets federal aid totaling only $8 per student. And Tam District, with $37,000 in assessed valuation for each student, gets federal aid totaling only $5 each.

Thus San Rafael would benefit considerably by the scheme, but Novato would lose heavily.

Lucas said he considers the formula unsound. He noted also that the $340 per high school student is little more realistic as applied to actual educational costs than the $324 in the present state aid formula. A list of California high school districts with enrollments between 1,000 and 2,000 showed that the amount spent per child ranges from a low of $375 in Lompoc to a high of $964 in Taft.

A similar formula would be applied to elementary school districts under the proposed bill, but Lucas said he had not yet worked out its application to districts in Marin.

Novato Horsemen Set Yule Dinner

The annual installation and Christmas dinner of the Novato Horsemen will be Saturday. Cocktails at 7 p.m. will be followed by dinner at 8 p.m.

Officers to be installed are Ralph "Doc" Briggs, president; Neil Cullins, vice president; Mrs. Alfred Cazzaniga, secretary; Oliver Mauch, treasurer. Directors to be installed are Orville Petersen, Stanley Scott, Robert Farina, and A. N. (Ad) Schwindt, and past president Edward Allen Jr.

The installation program will include dancing and a visit from Santa Claus. Cullins is chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. Ralph McGrath and Mrs. Donald Cuneo.

Shrine Club Plans Christmas Party

Christmas carols, Santa Claus and dancing featured the weekend Christmas party of the Marin County Shrine Club.

The party was staged at the Meadow Club in Fairfax, with Roy D. Bailey, Shrine Club president, in charge. Bailey presented his corps of officers and the illustrious potentate of Islam Temple, Harold W. Stelling, with his divan officers.

Pediatrics Post

A Tiburon physician, Dr. Hulda E. Thelander, 40 Seafirth Place, has been elected to membership in the new specialty section on child development of the American Academy of Pediatrics, Dr. E. H. Christopherson, executive director, announced today in Evanston, Ill.

Hearing Set On Giving Planners More Control

First public hearing on a proposal to give the San Rafael Planning Commission architectural control powers over every new building in the city except single-family homes and duplexes will be held Jan. 24.

Only manufacturing and commercial buildings and East San Rafael apartments are now subject to architectural approval by the commissioners.

Commissioners, in the proposed amendment presented last night, declared that the move was an "endeavor to provide that architectural and general appearance of . . . buildings and grounds be in keeping with the character of the neighborhood and . . . not be detrimental to the orderly and harmonious development of the city."

Commissioners last night postponed until Dec. 27 consideration of use permits for a beauty shop, two unidentified shops, an office, storage rooms and a restaurant in Commonwealth Development Co.'s light industrial subdivision and Marin Professional Center, across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Both were protested by Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center on Professional Center Parkway. He asked the commission to delay any action until City Planner Donald Newmark presents a recommendation for rezoning the area, which is now unclassified.

Acting on the orders of the city council, the commission last night also revoked a use permit granted Parker A. Archer of Belvedere for a 42-unit apartment house on Professional Center Parkway. It also had been protested by Dr. Neal.

Developer Harry Heifetz and Commissioner Carl Brown argued unsuccessfully for action on the commercial development last night.

"We better straighten out this hodge-podge of classifications and decide just what can go in there," declared Commissioner Nicholas Dollwet.

In other action, the planning commission:

1. Granted a use permit for a Northgate Shopping Center sign on Manuel Freitas Parkway, after chopping it down from 35-by-17 feet to 15-by-12 feet.
2. Approved a use permit for Wyman McClure to move his real estate office from 711 D Street to 313 First Street.
3. Heard a no-protest first public hearing on rezoning Seaview Estates No. 1 and 2—containing 143 lots on either side of Glenwood—from planned community to a special single-family residential. Second hearing is set for Dec. 27.
4. Because of the lengthy agenda, continued many items until the Dec. 27 meeting.

College Trustees Hire Firm To Draw Up Master Plan

College of Marin trustees last night hired Falk and Booth, architectural firms of San Francisco, to draw up a master plan for the college.

The architects, whose services also include engineering, were hired without opposition after the board had spent several months interviewing architects. The board spent a day last month in the offices of the architects.

No estimate was given of the amount of work to be done, which would include plans for new buildings and an estimate of the use value of existing buildings. The architects will charge on a basis of work performed.

The board instructed Dr. Stephen E. Epler, director of the college, to call for bids on the 1961-62 catalog. It is expected the 128-page catalog will be ready for distribution in March. The contract will call for 4,000 copies to be printed.

Approval was given Dr. Epler to attend an American Junior College Assn. convention in Washington, D. C. from Feb. 27 to March 8. Voting against the expense-paid trip were trustees George G. Washburn and Robert E. Oliver. Dr. Epler, former head of Reedley Junior College before coming to College of Marin this year, said he had attended the annual conference for the past five years.

Other field trips and conferences for faculty members were approved unanimously by the board.

In other action, the trustees:

1. Approved employment of Margaret Huffman as a multilith operator at $2.25 an hour.
2. Hired Caroline Witt as an accompanist for a new evening class in music at $3.50 an hour.
3. Approved employment of Douglas Smith as an assistant in the computor laboratory at $1.25 an hour.

Holiday Customs Of Other Lands Told At Meeting

"Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me."

That was the theme of the Ross Valley 4-H Club's weekend Christmas program, featuring American Field Service exchange students in Marin County.

The guest speakers, who told of holiday customs of their families at home, were Victoria Geneteau of Panama, living with the Charles Leisures of Terra Linda; Roger Smeets of Belgium, living with the Robert Evjus in San Rafael; Jacques Delacroix of France, residing with the Arvid Kruths of Novato; Charles Katungi of Uganda, living with the family of Judge Richard M. Sims in Tiburon; Jacqueline Marterer of France, who lives with the William Gilberts of Corte Madera, and Ricardo Szekely of Chile, living with the family of Dr. Edwin Boero in San Anselmo.

During the potluck supper, club members presented $29.36 to the UNICEF program.

Lorelyn Youngclaus was program chairman.

Reed Students Will Give To Needy

Reed School fourth through eighth graders will contribute to needy families and overseas charitable organizations instead of exchanging Christmas gifts, according to school Principal Robert B. Gaw.

The seventh and eighth grade student council decided on the project, which will benefit CARE, the Junior Red Cross and the National Sharecroppers Fund.

'City Family' Losing 2 In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo City Council last night accepted the resignation of one member of the city's official family, and learned that it will lose another next month by retirement.

Accepted with regret was the resignation from the planning commission of its chairman, Mrs. Mary E. Donnelly.

She announced she is quitting at the end of this year because of pressure of her other duties.

City fathers voted her a letter of commendation for her 10 years of service on the commission, and decided to postpone the appointment of her successor until next month.

Mayor William Franchini suggested that each councilman think about possible candidates for the planning commission and bring in suggestions on Jan. 10.

Officer James F. Farmer of the police department will retire on Jan. 31 because he will be 65 years old, Chief Raymond Buchignani announced. City councilmen authorized an examination to be held on Jan. 7 to create an eligible list from which to pick a new policeman.

Other actions taken by the council last night:

1. Councilmen will visit the lot of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ralphs at the extension of Millbrae Avenue Sunday. The Ralphs want to subdivide the lot into two, but the lot has no frontage road. Only access is a 20-foot easement from Millbrae Avenue. A decision will be made at a short special meeting set for 8 p.m. Tuesday.
2. Warren P. Landon, San Anselmo's representative to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District, will be contacted to see if he would serve another two-year term.
3. Approved a final payment of $2,928 to former City Engineer John Oglesby for survey work done on the Sorich property.
4. Approved change order that raises the city hall remodeling cost by about $600, to a total of $25,683.
5. Introduced an ordinance that would integrate city civil defense with the county's. Only other cities not integrated with the county are Larkspur and Sausalito, the administrator reported.
6. Call for bids to expand the recreation building at Memorial Park behind Isabel Cook School. Bids will be opened on Jan. 10.
7. Bought 170 new police shoulder insignias at $2.30 per pair.
8. Bought a mimeograph machine for $140.
9. Set Jan. 17 as date for a public discussion of improving San Anselmo Avenue from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Florence Avenue. Administrator Flautt reported that the street is only 24 feet wide. The state requires 24 feet of unobstructed street if state funds are to be used for improvement. This means parking must be abolished on that strip, if state money is used.

Two Hub City Firemen Promoted To Captain

San Anselmo firemen Richard McLaren and William Rawlins won promotions to captain last night by 3-to-2 city council vote.

McLaren and Rawlins passed their examinations in one-two order in October. The vote split occurred because Fire Chief Nello Marcucci had recommended McLaren and William Souza as captains. The fire chief had suggested that Rawlins and Robert Beedle be made lieutenants.

City fathers decided that lieutenants' posts would not be created now because that would make the "brass" top-heavy.

Councilmen Carleton G. E. Little, John M. Reichmuth, and Mayor William Franchini voted for McLaren and Rawlins on the basis of examination results. Administrator Douglas Flautt reported that Souza's long experience (about 30 years) as fireman had been taken into account in the examination.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted "no," insisting that the fire chief's choice of Souza over Rawlins should be accepted, especially because of Souza's long service. Councilman Robert E. Rouse said he had no way of knowing whether to accept Chief Marcucci's recommendation or the examination results and therefore sought a postponement so he could talk to the candidates personally. Unable to get the postponement, he also voted "no."

The new captains will get a one-step pay increase, which means about $300 per year, the administrator reported.

Councilmen asked the administrator to recommend the hiring of two new firemen to help man the second firehouse, which will open on Butterfield Road next month. This will raise the fire department force from 14 to 16 men. The two new firemen will be picked from an eligible list of six announced in October.

Flautt disclosed that only two or three eligible men remain out of the original six because the rest have been disqualified medically or taken other jobs. He promised to submit two names at a special meeting set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Councilmen authorized purchase of the following items for the new firehouse: Six beds and miscellaneous furniture from California Corrections Industries; a refrigerator from Ongaro Plumbing Co., and a stove from Braverman Furniture Co. Total cost will be under $1,500.

Sanitary District Still Negotiating

Directors of the Novato Sanitary District will continue negotiation of an easement through the Richard Stockton property, they agreed at a meeting Monday.

Probable cost of the easement is $1,275, district manager A. H. Tresch reported. The property is on the west side of Highway 101, south of the Safeway Stores property. Stockton, of Mill Valley, plans a motel on the property.

Directors approved two annexations to the district: a lot on Center Road near Eucalyptus Avenue and one on Virginia Avenue, between Simmons and Grant Streets.

1,500 CHILDREN PHONE SANTA'S HELPERS HERE

More than 1,500 youngsters telephoned Santa Claus last night to place orders to fill their Christmas stockings.

In San Rafael, 1,004 boys and girls dialed the telephones manned by junior chamber of commerce members in the Independent-Journal office, and 549 boys and girls placed calls in the Novato area.

Tonight is the final night youngsters will have a chance to use the special Christmas service provided for the third year by the Independent-Journal and the junior chambers of commerce of Novato and San Rafael.

Children in North Marin may call TW 2-6600 and those living in South and Central Marin may dial GL 4-3020 between 7 and 9 o'clock tonight to speak to Santa person to person.

Artists' Works Brighten Home

San Rafael's Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital was brightened for the holidays yesterday by the first of a series of art exhibits to be provided by local artists, according to Mill Valley artists Elsie Pomeroy of 33 Elm Avenue.

Mrs. Pomeroy provided the first one and Dorothy Williams of Kentfield will do the second.

"We hope to make this a regular project," Mrs. Pomeroy said," with exhibits to be changed about every three months." She asked that any artist interested in participating in the plan call her.

Jewish Culture Club Will Meet Tomorrow

The first meeting of the Jewish Culture Club will be held at the Marin Jewish Community Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Members of this group will meet monthly to discuss Jewish books, listen to music and sponsor social activities. An understanding of Yiddish is necessary for participation. The group is open to the entire community.

Penalty Decision Delayed By Board

San Rafael Board of Education members were undecided last night whether to assess contractor Ray I. Johnson $50 per day penalty for the 42 days he ran beyond the contract limit on the $1,240,000 job of building Terra Linda High School.

The board accepted a notice of completion of the new school, filed Nov. 30. The deadline for contract compliance was Oct. 18. The contract provided a penalty of $50 per day beyond that deadline.

Board member Rex Silvernale said he agreed a penalty was in order "despite extenuating circumstances." He suggested it should be in the amount of actual additional cost to one district.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas said he had not tabulated actual additional costs and did not know of any beyond paying the inspector for the additional time —"maybe $700 to $800."

Architect Carl Gromme said he considered the "extenuating circumstances" cited by Johnson "mostly something he just pulled out of the air."

At suggestion of board member Willard E. Vernon, the board directed that Johnson file a list of the "extenuating circumstances" he thought should cancel out the penalty—which at most would total $2,100.

In another building matter, the board authorized Gromme to proceed with plans for the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School on the basis of a revised plot plan which he presented last night. He was directed also to work up plans for drainage of the site, which Lucas said might be carried out in cooperation with the City of San Rafael, now installing a new storm sewer and pumps in the area of the school site on Woodland Avenue.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson reported Hamilton Air Force Base had made available 15 seats on buses going to parochial schools for students from Capehart Housing and Raphael Village attending San Rafael High School, which "puts us just about even" in providing bus transportation for all students.

2. Lucas reported a teacher's heel "went through the floor of Coleman School," resulting in a termite inspection by Williams Termite Control, which reported $1,400 worth of work needed to correct termites and fungus at the school. The board directed that he also get estimates from other companies.

3. The board voted 3-to-2 to permit the Junior Symphony of Marin to have pupils take home material on its concert series. Vernon urged the distribution be allowed, with Lucas and chairman C. Paul Bettini arguing against it. Lucas pointed out that the policy has been to allow pupils to take home only that material put out by the schools themselves, the Parent-Teacher Assns. and the city recreation department. Bettini and board member Harold H. Fulkerson voted "no" on the Junior Symphony permission as possibly opening the door to use of the schools to distribute other promotional material.

4. The board approved adoption of "Foundations of Life Science" by Mark Groubard as a text for high school science departments.

5. John Ely, supervisor of transportation, submitted his resignation, advising that he is going into business for himself.

Board Approves Loan To Terra Linda High

The San Rafael High School student body has the city board of education's blessing for offering an interest-free loan to the Terra Linda High student body—but the board members think part of the money should be a gift.

The board last night received a resolution by the San Rafael High Student Council offering the Terra Linda High Student Council a $1,000 loan, to draw no interest, and to be repaid at not less than $100 per year with the first payment in June, 1964.

While praising the generous terms of the loan, board members suggested that some 150 Terra Linda students formerly attended San Rafael High "and part of the money rightfully belongs to Terra Linda."

To a motion approving the loan, board member Roderick P. Martinelli added a recommendation that the San Rafael students "give serious thought to the question of equity" in granting the Terra Linda student body an outright gift of whatever amount is in the San Rafael student treasury from students now attending Terra Linda High.

Brown Bids For Winter Capital

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown disclosed yesterday he had invited President-elect John F. Kennedy to establish his winter capital in California.

The governor didn't get a positive yes, but his bid drew a special nod from Kennedy for the Monterey peninsula.

SPIKE HEEL WEARERS CAUSE $617 OUTLAY

Unplanned things are happening at the Marin County Planning Commission.

For one, women visitors with spiked heels are getting stuck in the floor.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, who called "a dangerous condition" in the planners' chambers to attention of the board of supervisors yesterday, privately confessed that his own offices are underneath and he feels personal apprehension.

His letter said the floor "is deteriorating to where it is considered dangerous," being of soft pine boards. It has worn, he said, "to where women with high heels have had their heels caught in the slivered sections."

He recommended laying plywood panels with floor tile on it, at cost estimated at $617.36.

The supervisors promptly approved this repair.

Kennedy Aide May Challenge State Results

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Court action may be taken this week in an attempt to stop certification of California's 32 electoral votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles, co-director of President-elect John F. Kennedy's Southern California campaign, said yesterday he had two investigators looking into the results of the Nov. 8 election.

Unruh did not charge fraud in the count of the state's votes, but he said he was concerned about the possibility of errors in the tally.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

County Board Forms Water Advisory Unit

A resolution to establish a Marin County Water Advisory Committee was adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday on recommendation of Administrator Alan Bruce.

Bruce presented letters of approval from William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District, and Jerome B. Gilbert, in the same capacity for North Marin Water District.

Each district is to be represented by one member. The remainder of the committee will be made up of one each from the county planning department and the administrator's office, and one other to represent the area outside the two major water districts.

A letter from the Bolinas Public Utility District was received by the board, expressing readiness to provide a member on a basis of more than 30 years of service to its area, and Bolinas was awarded the other seat.

Each of the groups involved is to select its own representative.

The supervisors also:

1. Authorized payment of $1,500 to Paul Kalustyan-Cornell for damage to his home at 613 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, from construction of a storm water lift station adjacent. The Bertram Andersons, neighbors, had obtained a similar amount by filing suit.
2. Learned of state plans to prohibit left turns from South Knoll Road when Tiburon Boulevard is made four-lane, and asked the planning commission to review this against the master plan.
3. Learned that average daily population at Juvenile Hall during November was 39 youngsters.
4. Approved a right of way contract for $12,740 with Thomas A. and Isabel Nunes to acquire 1.8 acres for Lucas Valley road extension, to be carried past the county farm and through the newly acquired property next spring.
5. Decided their earlier suspicions of a $30 calculator desired by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos from Civil Defense surplus weren't justified, and authorized its purchase.
6. Ordered suspension of electrical service to the Bob Beban home at 241 California Street, Mill Valley, until its wiring is made safe.
7. Received with chuckles and filed a letter from J. Warnock Walsh Jr. of 221 Emerystone Terrace, Marinwood, applauding its burning of Marin City buildings and declaring that the objecting Bay Area Air Pollution Control District during three years had "proven itself a parasitic and worthless appendage to the body politic."
8. Heard that nine recommendations by the State Bureau of Hospitals relative to improvement of conditions at the county hospital and farm have mostly been met by improvements.

County Fair Fund For Three Years Approved By State

Marin's county fair appropriations for three years ahead have received approval of State Finance Director John Carr, County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board of supervisors yesterday.

He said Carr has sent a report which he plans to give to the State Public Works Board next Monday, asking it to accept in principle a five-year program for capital outlay allocations to county and district fairs and specifically to approve allocations for 1960-61 fairs.

"We are pleased to note," said Bruce, "that although the 1960-61 amounts requested statewide have been reduced from over 13 million dollars to just under two million dollars, Marin County's request of $115,000 for 1960-61 is recommended in full by Mr. Carr. Marin County's requested amounts for 1961-62 and 1962-63 are also recommended by Mr. Carr." Bruce said the request is for $105,000 each year.

NO DECISION YET

Tower Apartment Hearing Lengthy

By RANDALL GOULD

A special session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors played the eighth rendition of the "Strawberry Point tower apartments" melodrama before a packed house until early today but left the punch line to be delivered next Tuesday afternoon.

The public hearing was officially terminated about 12:30 a.m. The supervisors decided to come to final grips with the Samuel R. Neider rezoning at 3 p.m. Dec. 20.

That will be the day before a deadline Neider's attorney said was set by New York financiers for putting up money to start the purportedly 20-million-dollar project, which its supporters say could return $250,000 tax money to the county annually.

More than 100 Strawberry residents were unhappy at this anticlimax. But they had plenty to interest them, including a midnight declaration by Supervisor Vera Schultz that County Counsel E. Warren McGuire had turned up legal reason for questioning the whole proceeding.

Special piquancy was lent this situation by the fact that spokesman for the opposition last night was attorney Leland H. Jordan, who was county counsel — and McGuire's chief—until a month ago.

The proceedings were enlivened by applause and interjections from the opposition, admonitions by Supervisor William B. Fusselman that the audience must behave, an inquiry from the audience as to whether Fusselman wouldn't like to disqualify himself, and Fusselman's disputed reply that any such suggestion was "ridiculous."

Because the supervisors' chambers couldn't hold the crowd, the hearing was moved to Judge N. Charles Brusatori's courtroom, which promptly filled to overflowing.

Attorney Bryan R. McCarthy, representing Neider, suggested this was "an hour of decision in Marin County as to whether we are to go forward or backward."

He introduced Belvedere architect Lloyd Flood, partner with Ralph T. Walters in preparing the project.

In showing colored slides of luxurious towers, town houses, and other amenities, Flood stressed that tax return as against use of the land for houses would return a $225,000 tax profit" to the county each year.

For the opposition, Jordan introduced six speakers in turn and then summarized. His group included architect John Lord King for the Richardson Bay Foundation and Dr. David Steinhart for the Marin Conservation League as well as previously heard Strawberry group representatives.

Summarizing, Jordan stressed such points as possible congestion and the remoteness of the debated area. He charged the type of project proposed could effect "a total change in our living—it represents a complete change in the philosophy of the zoning of the past."

Like architect Rolland B. Hammond, who said the idea was to "build a city atmosphere in Marin," he emphasized deviation from the Tiburon Master Plan and the large-scale community resistance.

"Tonight we have seen an effort to 'talk to death' through two hours and 15 minutes," McCarthy led off in rebuttal.

McCarthy said that the opposition "wants to scare you and make you think it's the end of the world." He charged that specific opponents sought to create monopoly in concessions they had obtained.

Fusselman at 11:45 p.m. expressed anxiety that he'd been in process of "being hypnotized." "There should be a limit to all things," he declared.

Then in a lengthy, often emotional talk with several references to the finish of her supervisorial service this month," Mrs. Schultz sprung her legalistic surprise. She said "human error" had been made—"we haven't proceeded properly" and called on McGuire to tell why.

McGuire's explanation was complicated. In effect, it was that rezoning should be initiated either by planning commission or supervisors, rather than by private action.

But, he said, maybe the action of the board Nov. 29 in referring the matter back to the planners without recommendation on basis of the Flood-Walters project could be construed as such initiation.

"I question whether this is properly before you," he concluded.

At Fusselman's urging the supervisors decided to delay decision.

The men who pilot tourists over the fast rapids of the jungle rivers of Surinam are said to be the world's most expert canoists.

SINGER DIES—John Charles Thomas, 68, operatic baritone, died of cancer at his Apple Valley home yesterday. One of America's most beloved singers, he had been ill for months. He was still sought for concert appearances although he retired in 1953. He was a featured radio singer, and appeared on many Telephone Hour programs. Born in Pennsylvania, he made his debut in Canada in 1912, and was a star at the New York Metropolitan Opera for years. Funeral services will be Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

New Fairfax Bank Ceremony Planned

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled at 11 a.m. tomorrow on the site where a new Bank of America building will rise in Fairfax.

Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar and County Supervisor William D. Fusselman are scheduled to turn over the first spadefuls of dirt, announced Joe C. Crean, Bank of America's Fairfax branch manager.

I. E. Weisenburg, San Rafael contractor, has scheduled completion next April of the building adjoining the bank's present quarters at Broadway and Bank Street.

Twice the size of the present branch home, the new 5,330 square feet building will accommodate three more officers and nine additional tellers. It will have customer parking and night depository facilities not now available.

Bank of America has operated in Fairfax since 1925 when it acquired the former Fairfax Bank, established four years earlier.

Shade Seems Right

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—An official of a downtown bank erecting a new skyscraper building here had queries about the shade of green paint being used to cover the steel girders. The paint, he replied is currency green.

FOR A FEW, BUT DEMOCRATIC

Education Of Gifted Child Explained To County Board

A special educational program for the gifted child is democratic, even though it appears to give special advantage to a few, because "equality means equality of opportunity to become educated."

That was the report to the Marin County Board of Education by Richard H. Hinze, assistant superintendent for educational services.

Dr. Hinze, Dr Mildred B. Barnard, assistant San Rafael superintendent for elementary education, and Mrs. Adele S. Alpers, a member of the county board and of the State Advisory Committee on the Gift Child, reported Monday night on "Controversies Over Gifted Child Education."

Dr. Hinze said there is no controversy as to the fact that all children should be educated "to the maximum of their ability," but the great problem is defining and identifying the gifted child.

Education should differ for various children, depending upon their abilities he went on. There is a need to identify the gifted child as early as possible so that the most can be made of his abilities.

Dr. Barnard called it "wasteful and dangerous" for the schools to neglect the top 2 to 5 per cent of the students who have outstanding abilities. It is the duty of the schools to "foster adults for the world of tomorrow," to "foster the kind of thinkers who can be the leaders of the world of tomorrow," she said. The schools must develop their competence, leadership, talents and appreciation of art. The major question is, how to do it?

The four ways most often propounded are:

1. An "enrichment" program for the gifted children in their classrooms with the other students. This is the easiest, Dr. Barnard said, and has many advantages. But it also has disadvantages such as average teaching because a teacher has all types to contend with, development of a superiority feeling in the gifted few, the fact not all teachers can handle gifted children.

2. Acceleration of the gifted child, moving him faster than his normal class. This can take place anywhere from kindergarten through college, by skipping grades, taking advanced courses or additional classes. This has the advantage of hastening a youth into his productive period, shortening his school time and thus the expense of his schooling, and of keeping him in groups of his own ability level. However it rarely solves the real problem, Dr. Bernard said, because it neglects social and and personal development and causes the gifted child to miss opportunities for leadership.

3. Grouping by ability and intelligence an opportunity for students of greater interest or ability to work together; stiff competiion between them stimulates greater effort. However, this sets up a group of "elite" in the schools, removes the stimulous of the gifted child from the regular classroom, and requires more classrooms and teachers.

4. Segregation, Dr. Barnard said, is quite similar to grouping practices and has similar advantages and disadvantages. In such systems the gifted child spends, for example, half a day in the regular classroom and half a day in special workshops of seminars.

Whatever method is undertaken, she went on, there are four steps necessary in any program for gifted children: You must (1) locate them, (2) identify them, (3) motivate them, and (4) evaluate them.

In addtion, there must be adequate guidance plans not only for the gifted child, but for the community as well, so that the program will be understood and accepted, said Dr. Barnard.

Mrs. Alpers discussed the three-year study of programs for gifted children which was just completed by the advisory committee.. The final report has not yet been made public, but will be handed to the legislature early next month.

She said an arbitrary line of a 130 intelligence quotient (I.Q.) was adopted by the committee to define the gifted child. Programs in school districts which varied from 450,000 to 19 in average daily attendance were studied.

A total of 929 children in special programs were involved, Mrs. Alpers reported. "There is no question of a doubt but that all of the students who received the special training benefitted."

She passed out a draft of proposed legislation which, in some form, will be presented to the state legislature in January. It calls, she noted, for identification of the "upper two per cent" of the students "as determined by individual psychological examinations." The state would then provide funds up to $250 per year per student for special programs. She noted this is less than the state provides for the mentally retarded.

"If it's good for the top two per cent, why isn't it good for the rest?" Mrs. Alpers asked herself.

"It is good," she answered, "and there's nothing in the legislation to prevent a school district from expanding the program as far as it wishes." The state will pay for only the top two per cent, however.

One thing on which the committee insisted is flexibility in the program, she went on: it must work just as well in a large school district as in a small district with only one such gifted child.

Dr. Hinze concluded the presentation by pointing out that while there is criticism of the gifted program as presented, there is "no controversy on the proposal to improve the quality of the program for the gifted" He said the only controversy is who is to be in the program, what is to be done and how it is to be done."

Board member Howard Chadd said he would like to hear "the other side of the story" at some future meeting.

Dixie Trustees To Meet Tonight

A series of reports are scheduled for tonight's meeting of the Dixie School District board at 8 o'clock at 4775 Redwood Highway.

Reports will cover the testing program at the fifth grade level, work of the speech therapist, progress of a committee working on district capitalization, and the library program.

Discussion of standards for tenure also is scheduled, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Contest Planned By Community

Prizes in the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Club's Christmas decoration contest will be placed Dec. 20 between 7 and 10 p. m.

Four awards will be made for the best window decorations, one for the best lighting, and one for the best Christmas scene using cut-out figures. Rules state that last year's winners must change their decorations to be eligible for prizes this year.

Judges will be Gen. and Mrs. R. E. Mittelstaedt of Greenbrae and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Phillips of Belvedere.

Civic Leaders Plead For Integration

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Civic leaders pleaded with New Orleans residents to accept integration today, but only eight white students trudged through a cold rain to attend an integrated school.

The total of nine students in William Frantz School remained firm for the fourth day. The eight white children were attending school with a lone Negro girl. At the other integrated school, McDonogh 19, three Negro girls are all alone.

The dismal weather again kept bystanders and hecklers away when federal marshals brought the children to school.

One hundred of the city's civic and business leaders today issued a statement urging an end to violence and threats against whites bucking the boycott at the two schools.

Oratorical Contest Plans Announced

Marin posts of the American Legion announced today that entries are being accepted for the Legion's 24th annual national high school oratorical contest.

The winner in Marin County will compete in the district contest at Vallejo, Feb. 26. The winner of the national finals will receive a $4000 scholarship and the runner-up will be awarded a $2500 scholarship.

Scholarships of $1000 and $500 will be awarded to the third and fourth place finners.

1961 Officers Elected To Tiburon Chamber

William S. Johnstone was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday, to succeed Robert A. Sterling.

Johnstone, a real estate broker with offices in the Raccoon Strait Maritime Center, resides at 601 Ridge Road in Hillhaven.

Elected to serve with Johnstone for 1961 were Mrs. Elva T. Paske, vice president; Howard E. Langford, treasurer, and Fred C. Hannahs, secretary.

Elected to two-year directorships are David Allen, George J. Bitter and Sterling.

The chamber plans to sponsor a children's Christmas program of cartoon movies and refreshments on Dec. 23 at 11 a.m. at the Tiburon Playhouse.

Members voted $100 to the Elephant Rock Memorial Fishing Platform Fund for Marin County children. Langford, treasurer of the platform fund, reported $346 had been donated for construction of the circular fishing platform around the rock. Chairman Fred G. Zelinsky said "total construction cost is expected to be between $2,000 and $2,500 and contributions are urgently solicited." They may be sent to Langford, First National Bank, Belvedere-Tiburon branch.

Members argued over support of the coordinating council's opposition to rezoning the Strawberry Point acreage, and after two votes, decided to leave the matter alone. The second vote was six against, five in favor of support. The first vote was a tie, 4-4.

Parking authority committee chairman Felix M. Warburg reported that of 15 property owners to be within the proposed district, seven were in favor. He added that four were against, two had no opinion and two had not been reached. At the presiding meeting, on a motion by Zelinsky, major district property owner, the chamber voted to drop the campaign to form the district.

Garden School Sets Christmas Program

Children of the Dominican Garden School will present their traditional Christmas program at 3 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Choir boys will present six Christmas greeting scenes, Christmas angels will be featured in six scenes before the crib.

JORDAN MARTINELLI JR.
New chamber leader

Martinelli New Chamber Chief In San Rafael

Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., assistant manager of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., was elected 1961 president of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The 36-year-old native of San Rafael is a son of former Marin County Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli. He was second vice president of the chamber of commerce this year.

Martinelli, who lives at 205 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, has been a Bolinas cattle rancher and a San Anselmo city councilman.

ON COMMITTEE

He served on the chamber's legislative affairs committee and was chairman of the farm-city dinner last year.

He was elected by the chamber's new board of directors at a luncheon meeting in Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Other officers elected yesterday—all for one-year terms—are: First vice president, Irving Chapman of Chapman's Shoe Store; second vice president, Edward Morphy of Tamarin Associates, real estate firm, and treasurer, Richard Tyler, accountant.

The board also appointed three directors-at-large for one-year terms: Frederick Acciari of Marin Products Inc., Robert Williams of Borden Co. and Jack Yelverton of Fairchild Semiconductor Corp.

FIRST MEETING

Although the new officers will not be installed until the annual membership dinner during the third week in January, the new board will hold its first meeting Jan. 10.

The board appointed Frank George and Walter Castro Jr. to make arrangements for the annual dinner meeting and named Richard Cuthbert as chairman of the audit committee to go over the chamber's books for the annual audit.

The board approved a resolution recommending that the San Rafael City Council urge the State Division of Highways to begin planning the route of the proposed east-west freeway (Route 69) immediately.

Evening Course Open

Registration for the Tuesday and Thursday afternoon courses in upholstery at the Tamalpais Adult Evening School is now open, principal Harry G. Russell announced. The classes meet from 1 to 4 p. m. at Drake High School in San Anselmo, beginning Jan. 3. Information may be obtained from Russell at the Drake campus.

Ailing 'Slip' Madigan Recalled As Dynamic Coach Of Galloping Gaels

CONNOLLY

Time out for "Slip" Madigan, former St. Mary's College football coach, now fighting a life and death battle, after a severe heart attack.

I had a hand in the movement which resulted in Madigan's appearance at St. Mary's following a 127-0 gridiron defeat at the hands of the University of California.

I watched Madigan rise to glory—and St. Mary's go into the hands of the receiver. I never could agree when people asserted Madigan enabled St. Mary's to move from a "brickpile" in Oakland to its present lush Moraga campus, because I happen to know that St. Mary's had planned the Moraga move years before Madigan was ever heard of but couldn't make it until its Oakland properties were sold. Slip had nothing to do with the sale of those properties.

It was, I believe in 1921, when a tall and skinny Irishman named Madigan came down from Columbia College in Portland to take over the football chores at St. Mary's.

ST. MARY'S was considered a small boarding and day school college with about 70 students. It played California and Stanford and occasionally other big colleges.

But soon after Madigan arrived the Oakland collegians began to climb the football ladder of fame.

As an example of the drawing power of Madigan and his tiny St. Mary's College teams, I'll remind you of an occasion in New York when they were playing Fordham.

On the same day, Georgetown, undefeated in two years, whipped New York University before 17,000 at the Yankee Stadium.

Tulane, playing Columbia drew 22,000 fans.

BUT MADIGAN and his colorful band of gridders from little St. Mary's drew 34,800.

And the biggest game in the east on the same day, Yale vs. Princeton, drew 30,000.

The magic of Madigan prevailed wherever his teams played. He outdrew most of the big games, bucking them on the same day.

I remember distinctly, looking at my old book, that a national weekly magazine devoted several pages to Madigan and his St. Mary's College pigskinners. The article, and I quote, said:

"Madigan had the organizational skill of a Farley, the ingratiating manner of a Roosevelt and the guile of a serpent, circulating among the natives in the early days and selling them the game of football.

"The Pied Piper of Pigskin never overlooks a silver dollar unless it is nailed to the floor, and for this emergency Madigan always carries a chisel and a hammer."

MADIGAN RAN the gamut of football fame and while doing it made many enemies. But Slip was a philosopher and often was quoted as saying, "I have enemies, yes; but I also have friends, and they are the enemies of my enemies."

Even his enemies admitted the Magnificant Madigan was one of the game's leading exponents of defensive strategy. They went so far as say he was the most dynamic, impetuous, explosive, close-to-genius football had seen since Knute Rockne.

For 20 years Madigan ruled the roost at St. Mary's. He began in the days when Warren Harding was president of the United States; when Andy Smith was the cock of the walk at the University of California and Enoch Bagshaw was developing the thunderbird players at the University of Washington.

FROM ST. MARY'S College, Slip collected a sizeable fortune, known as the highest paid coach in college football. Later he coached a short spell at Iowa, then to pro football, then to racetrack management and finally to home building in Oakland where we understand he has been doing quite well in recent years.

Slip Madigan, whether in victory or in defeat, always came up smiling, and we hope that this heart attack will slide by him and that before long he will again be up laughing and joking and pouring out 12-year old Scotch for his newspaper pals.

Yankee Pitchers Top Draft Selections

BOSTON (UPI) — Pitcher Eli Grba was the first player picked by Los Angeles and pitcher Bobby Shantz by Washington today in an unprecedented baseball draft to stock the rosters of the American League's two newest teams.

The two new clubs each selected a total of 28 players costing $75,000 apiece. The total cost for both clubs was $4.2 million.

The selection of the players took two hours in the office of American League President Joe Cronin.

Shantz and Grba were both picked from the roster of the New York Yankees. Shantz, the veteran lefthanded relief pitcher, had a 5-4 record and an earned run average of 2.78 with the Yankees this year while Grba, a righthander, won six and lost four while compiling a 3.68 era.

Some of the other outstanding players chosen by Los Angeles were Eddie Yost of Detroit, Ted Kluszewski of Chicago, Ken Aspromonte of Cleveland, Ned Garver of Kansas City and Duke Maas of New York.

Among those chosen by Washington were Dick Donovan of Chicago, Gene Woodling of Baltimore, Willie Tasby of Boston, Dale Long of New York and Johnny Klippstein of Cleveland.

General Manager Fred Haney and Manager Bill Rigney made the selections for the Los Angeles club while General Manager Ed Doherty and Manager Mickey Vernon picked for Washington.

BASKETBALL

Novato Whips Tomales; S.R., Redwood Lose

Novato's Hornets, surprise third place finishers in last week's Marin Athletic League Christmas Tournament, kept up their winning ways yesterday with a ridiculously easy 51-15 rout of Tomales Braves in one of three local high school basketball contests.

Elsewhere, the San Rafael Bulldogs bowed to Jefferson of Daly City 49-43 and the Redwood Giants suffered a heartbreaking 37-35 loss to Harry Ells High of Richmond.

Novato Coach Dick Paynter used all his reserves in an effort to hold down the score, but the Hornets could do no wrong. After taking a 14-5 first quarter lead, Novato held Tomales scoreless in the second stanza and went ahead 24-5 at halftime. Tomales scored only four points in the third period and six in the final.

Moe Sparrow led Novato scorers with 10 points while Joe Kolfer, Don Scribner and Bill Tuel each tallied six. All 13 Hornets had a hand in the scoring.

John Bianchi led Tomales with nine.

Novato clouted Tomales in the Class B game, 40-10, as Novato's Nick Williard personally matched Tomales' total score.

San Rafael matched basket for basket with Jefferson—each made 18 field goals—but the Bulldogs could sink only 7 of 22 foul shots while the Jeffs were collecting 13 charities to provide the winning margin.

PETRINI STARS

San Rafael got an excellent 19-point performance from Randy Petrini while Rich Curry contributed 12 markers to the Bulldog total. Chris Yaeger hauled down eight rebounds, tops in that department.

Jefferson held quarter scores of 12-11, 24-21 and 37-36.

Redwood Coach Dick Hart said his Giants "played their best game of the year—we're really coming along fine." Redwood outscored the Richmonders 13 field goals to 11, but "once again we just fouled too much," said the coach.

Redwood's Mike Kavanaugh snagged 13 rebounds and tallied 8 points for the leading performance. Rich Brear, also with 13 rebounds and 7 points, was runnerup. Roger Siemens tallied 6 points and Mike Hoffman and Herb Schrieber 5 each in a well-balanced effort.

Redwood's B team blew a 23-19 halftime lead and succumbed by a 47-38 margin. Grant Stephenson's 10 points led the little Giants.

Only Marin game on tap today was Lowell at Drake.

Carbo Refuses To Testify At Senate Boxing Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Racketeer Franky Carbo, brought from a prison cell to testify, flatly refused to tell Senate boxing investigators today anything about his alleged role as the underworld czar of boxing.

He pleaded the Fifth Amendment.

Carbo, accompanied by his attorney and two U. S. marshals who brought him from prison, gave only hs name, age (56) and address (970 Northeast 111th Street, Miami, Fla.).

Carbo, when asked other questions, read monotonously from a sheet of paper: "I cannot be compelled to be a witness against myself."

His attorney, Abraham H. Brodsky of New York City, protested to Chairman Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.), that Senate investigators should get their information "from somebody else who is under suspicion."

Kefauver's Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee is trying to determine whether underworld elements have a strangle-hold monopoly on boxing.

Kefauver told Carbo that he was "not on trial" and that the hearing was set to learn whether new legislation was needed to protect the sport.

"Whatever your purpose," Brodsky argued, "it does not give my client protection from prosecution."

But Kefauver said that previous testimony on Carbo's activities in boxing indicated he could qualify as an "expert witness."

The senator said his investigators would "lean over backwards" not to ask questions which had even a remote relation to an upcoming trial on the west coast which involves Carbo.

Carbo is under indictment in Los Angeles for an alleged extortion conspiracy in connection with the purses of fighter Don Jordan. Included in the same indictment are Truman K. Gibson Jr., former president of the International Boxing Club, and Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia numbers king.

Divorcee Charges Kirkland Father Of Her Child

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Kirkland, ex-Giants outfielder now the property of the Cleveland Indians, was charged yesterday by a 31-year-old divorcee with being the father of her unborn child.

The paternity suit was filed here by Mrs. Margaret L. Edwards, who has three small children by her previous marriage.

Mrs. Edwards said she has known Kirkland since 1959. She expects the child in May.

She said that she talked to Kirkland by telephone in October and in person last Saturday and when Kirkland disclaimed any responsibility she filed the suit "as the only thing left to do."

Kirkland was unavailable for comment.

Gunshot Accident Kills Top Jockey

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Edgar Dooling Jr., 26, fourth ranked jockey this season at the Agua Caliente race track in nearby Tijuana, Mexico, died of a gunshot wound last night.

Deputy Coroner Glenn Sanders said Dooling's wife, Florence, told officers her husband was handling a frontier-type revolver when it discharged accidentally.

Dooling was found near death in the couple's trailer home in suburban Chula Vista.

Dooling had ridden 150 winners since launching his turf career at Tanforan in the summer of 1959. He had brought in 43 winners since January at Caliente.

He was a native of Orange and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Dooling Sr., reside at Compton.

Rams Ready Defenses For Crucial Game With Packers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Green Bay Packers have one of the soundest ground games in the National Football League, but the Los Angeles Rams hope to upset them here Saturday and scramble the Western Conference race.

If the Packers win, they are divisional champions and face the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL playoff. If they lose, there will have to be a play-off, with the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Green Bay in the picture.

Green Bay leads the parade now with a 7-4 record, but Baltimore, San Francisco and Detroit all are 6-5. Baltimore faces San Francisco Sunday, and Chicago is at Detroit.

Green Bay was better in the mud than San Francisco last Sunday, but the Rams upset Baltimore, playing superlative defensive football.

"We're getting our defense set for the Packers," said Line Coach Don Paul. "Jim David and I figure on using somewhat the same defense we employed against Baltimore—lots of hard tackling and a hard charge."

David, defensive backfield coach, said Ollie Matson, veteran ball carrier, will be called upon again for defensive duty. Matson's play against Baltimore was instrumental in crimping Johnny Unitas' passing.

Head Coach Bob Waterfield is convinced that the Rams are going to be winners in another year or so, but he is pessimistic about the Green Bay game. He says that quarterback Frank Ryan, ends Del Shofner and Gene Brito and tackle Lou Michaels are sidelined and that the physical condition of the team is the "worst it has been all year."

Middle guard Les Richter says Green Bay's strong running game, spearheaded by Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, is working because of the great work of blocking guards Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer.

"They're the best guards we've seen all season," says Richter. "Their performance last Sunday against San Francisco was the big equalizer in that mud. I don't want to take anything away from Hornung and Taylor, but they get going behind some really fine blocking. We want to spoil things for the Packers, though, because we owe them nothing."

Celtics Suffer Fifth Loss In Last 7 Games

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston Celtics, who have been a power in the National Basketball Assn. since 1956-57, may not be coming apart at the seams.

But the world champions lost their second straight game to the lowly New York Knickerbockers last night 117-115, their fifth defeat in the last seven games.

It came in the final seconds when the Knicks' player-coach Carl Braun heaved a long pass to set up the winning goal.

Boston now is in second place in the NBA's Eastern Division, 1½ games behind Philadelphia.

It was the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader, with the Syracuse Nationals hanging on to whip the Cincinnati Royals 107-105 in the opener.

Syracuse now has won eight of its last 10 games, and remains in third place 5½ games behind the Philadelphia Warriors, who also put on a fast finish at College Park, Md., to beat the Detroit Pistons 110-108.

49ers Still Cling To Hopes Of Title

How are ya fixed for cliches?

Two old saws describe the attitude of the San Francisco 49ers today as they prepare for Sunday's game with the Baltimore Colts here.

One oft-repeated is, "Where there's life, there's hope."

And Coach Red Hickey is singing:

"We did it before and we can do it again!"

Both 49ers and Colts are rooting for the Rams to knock off the Green Bay Packers in Los Angeles Saturday. If the Packers win or tie, they clinch the National Football League's Western Division title.

After studying films of last Saturday's loss to the Packers, Hickey declared:

"We've got to get back to fundamentals, blocking and tackling."

Hickey is not a man for excuses. "The mud and the rain was just as bad for the Packers as it was for us," he says, "but they played better football. That's why they won."

Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Colts finds it difficult to explain how his world champions suffered three consecutive upsets—to the 49ers, the Detroit Lions and the Rams.

He shrugs off suggestions that the Colts might be succumbing to age.

"We've been pretty hard hit by injuries," he allows. "It was a blow when we lost our fullback, Alan Ameche, a couple of weeks ago, and it was a blow when Raymond Berry was hurt in the Ram game last week."

Both coaches say team morale is high. And both will tell you in any number of ways that Sunday's game is the one for all the marbles, all or nothing, the big, big one, etc. . .

But Mr. Hickey and Mr. Ewbank also add, with a sigh, "Let's hope those Rams beat Green Bay."

Chamberlain Leads Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Oscar Robertson, each a former college All-American, are running one-two-three in the National Basketball Assn. scoring race, the latest figures released today revealed.

Chamberlain, the Philadelphia Warriors' star, heads the list with 975 points and a 37.5 average. He's followed by Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers with 951 points and a 35.2 average and Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals with 805 and 28.7.

Chamberlain was an All-America in 1957 and '58 at Kansas, Baylor with Seattle in 1958 and Robertson with the University of Cincinnati in 1958, '59 and '60.

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

CHEVROLET

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

There Was Plenty Of Fishermen, But The Steelhead Were Scarce

STEVENS

"Many are called, but few are chosen" rather aptly defines the weekend striving for steelhead trout in our coastal streams.

A thundering horde of avid anglers descended upon practically every coast stream from the Russian to the Eel. A few fish were taken in every stream, but the average steelhead per angler was extremely low. Those who made the grade were far and few between.

This is as I had expected—and one of the main reasons I wasn't casting my roeberry or lures into one of my favorite holes on the Garcia, Gualala or Navarro (the three streams I have favored for the past 30 years).

A few fish were taken on the Gualala River (the mouth was open), particularly at the long stretch above the bridge known as the Miner Hole; the Garcia (the mouth never closes) also saw fish landed (several nice salmon taken near the mouth, along with a very few steelies). The Noya and the Ten Mile rivers above Fort Bragg also witnessed a few fish, and the Navarro reported quite a few fish seen rolling, but not too many landed.

Perhaps the South Fork of the Eel registered with the most fish, and I was told, there were a number of lines and rods broken. An unofficial report claimed the salmon ran three to one over the steelies.

From what I could gather, many of the streams still were somewhat high and had too much color for prime condition. This was particularly true of the Russian. Incidently, the Russian River is always the last of all the coast streams to return to normal level and color—most of the streams take from four to six days to come back after a hard rain; the Russian needs seven to eight dry days to return.

Ihave no dope on what transpired on Wednesday or Saturday and Sunday on the streams to the south of the Gate (fishing is only allowed on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays on the south coast streams), so can't report on them.

OKAY, THE ICE has been broken. The runs of salmon have just about tailed off and the steelhead are coming in. Your chances are fair to good from now until Feb. 28.

I contacted the weather bureau Sunday and was told that not enough rain fell to the north to materially affect the leve land color of the streams. The mouths are all open, and the Weather Bureau advised that no immediate threat of rain was in the offing for at least the first three days of this week.

Of course a sudden shift in wind might blow some rain our way, but if it doesn't, and we have a continued spell of clear weather the rest of the week, I would say: Make a phone call to the stream you wish to fish (a private party, a resort or a motel or hotel in a nearby town) get the current weather and water conditions and then pack your waders and fishing gear in the old bus and drive to such a spot.

Pay no attention to the number of fish being caught. If weather and water are good, that's all you need to know.

Use roeberries if the water is still a bit on the milky side; spinners or lures if becoming fairly clear, and a bright colored fly if the water is very clear. Used frozen or bottled roe for your first hen steelhead and when you catch her, use the fresh eggs. If you are lucky enough to get more fresh roe than you can use on that one trip, fill a quart mason jar with powdered borax (about one-third filled) and place the made-up berries in it. The berries will stay fresh for weeks that way.

IF HISTORY repeats itself, steelhead fishing won't become really hot until the end of the month, but there have been years when December from the 15th on has been sizzling. Above all, check on whether the mouth of the stream you wish to fish is open. If the bar is closed at the mouth, fishing just about comes to a close until it is opened.

And that's it for today.

The Belvedere Ski Club, which numbers over a hundred local families in membership, is planning three skiing trips this season, according to spokesman Mrs. Benton B. Mathews.

L.A. Lakers Suffering 5-Game Losing Streak

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers will try to pull out of a five-game losing streak tonight as the face the St. Louis Hawks in the Sports Arena.

Coach Fred Schaus called a special meeting of his players yesterday to go over game plans. Elgin Baylor, top scorer, was absent. He was getting a shot of penicillin for a cold. Monday night the Hawks held him to 14 points, his low for the season.

Scribes Name Floyd Fighter Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — World heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and veteran sports writer Ned Brown are the winners of two of boxing's most important rewards.

Patterson, first man to regain the heavyweight title when he knocked out Ingemar Johansson last June 20, was awarded the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as "Fighter of the Year" by the Boxing Writers Assn.

Patterson became the second two-time winner of the Neil award, named in memory of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1938 while covering the Spanish Civil War. He won it first in 1956; the year he won the title the first time at the age of 21. Carmen Basilio, former welter and middleweight champ, was the winner in 1955 and 1957.

Brown, about 78, is employed by the North American News Alliance. He was boxing writer for the New York World from 1903 to 1931. A former president of the Writers' Assn., he handled publicity for some recent important title fights and did public relations work for Jack Dempsey. Brown won the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing."

SPECIAL AWARDS

The writers also voted special awards to Humbert "Jack" Fugazy, veteran promoter; Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission; and Dan Florio, who trained both the oldest man ever to win the heavyweight title, Jersey Joe Walcott, in 1951, and the youngest, Patterson in 1956.

Officers re-elected were Barney Nagler of The Morning Telegraph, president; Al Buck of the New York Post, first vice president; Jesse Abramson of The New York Herald Tribune, second vice president; Nat Fleischer of Ring magazine, secretary-treasurer; and Sam Taub, veteran boxing writer, recording secretary.

Patterson lost his championship to Johansson in 1959, but made ring history by knocking out the Swede in the fifth round in June. Negotiations for a third Patterson-Johansson match have been proceeding slowly. No date or site has been announced.

'Bama Rates As Favorite Over Texans

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The University of Alabama is a one-point favorite to beat the University of Texas in the second Bluebonnet Bowl football game here Saturday.

The bowl, which oddsmakers have established as the closest of the postseason matches, starts at 11 a.m. PST and will be televised nationally. Officials expect a sellout in Rice's 70,000-seat stadium.

The meeting of Darrell Royal of Texas and Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama figures to be a defensive battle between strong defenses and could easily be decided by a kicker's toe.

Royal's Longhorns lost two games this season on field goals and Alabama closed out its regular season with a 3-0 win over Auburn.

Wide Open Battle Expected Between Raiders, Broncos

Another wide open football game is on tap when the Oakland Raiders meet the Denver Broncs Saturday at Candlestick Park, San Francisco.

The Raiders (5-8) will be battling to stay out of the American Football League's Western Division cellar. Down there now are the Broncs (4-8-1)

Big Charley Powell, the Raiders' defensive end who injured a knee against the New York Titans last week, will be able to play. Flanker Alan Goldstein still has a tender ankle but will play, although he's not expected to start.

The Broncos feature a potent passing combination of Frank Tripucka and Lionel Taylor. Tripucka, a former Notre Dame quarterback and veteran pro performer, has passed for 2,905 yards. Taylor who didn't play in the Broncos' first two games, has 88 receptions for 1,199 yards.

The Broncos beat the Raiders 31-14 in the previous meeting in October.

GOLDEN GATE WINNERS

ALBANY (AP)—Gold Gallant ($21) and Challenge All ($10) finished in a dead heat for first in the Golden Gate Fields feature race yesterday.

Young Cleveland Fighter Stops Vince Martinez

CLEVELAND (AP) — At 22, Cecil Shorts is a young man in a hurry to reach two objectives he sets for himself: The world welterweight boxing crown and the big money purses available only at the top.

The Cleveland youth took a long stride toward those objectives last night by stopping Vince Martinez, Miami Beach, Fla., at 2:46 of the fourth round in their scheduled 10. He knocked the 31-year-old Martinez, a 6-5 favorite, down four times in that fourth round before the referee ended it.

"Shorts is ready for any of them," exulted the Cleveland scrapper's manager, Frank Ruskay, in the dressing room. "Don't forget, he's already beaten Benny Paret, the champion." That was two bouts before Paret won the title.

Martinez weighed 149, a pound more than Shorts.

Humboldt Expects A '61 Powerhouse

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Look for another powerhouse up Arcata way when Humboldt State's Lumberjacks unlimber their 1961 football muscles.

Coach Phil Sarboe said today that he expects to have 19 players back from the 33 who went to the Holiday Bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla., last week.

Lenoir-Rhyne of Hickory, N.C., took the 1960 NAIA football championship at St. Petersburg—but it took a last minute field goal to beat Sarboe's Lumberjacks 15-14.

The Tarheels ended a 20-game winning streak for Humboldt State. What now?

"Heck," says Carboe, "we'll just have to start another winning streak."

U.S. Davis Cuppers Rapped For 'Deplorable Conduct'

MELBOURNE (AP)—In my 36 years in tennis I have seen nothing like it," the president of the Lawn Tennis Assn. of Australia said today concerning the conduct of the U.S. Davis Cuppers in their interzone match with Italy.

"It is beyond my comprehension how they could have behaved so badly," Norman W. Strange told the Melbourne Herald on his return from Perth where Italy beat the United States 3-2 in the best of five series.

"I was disgusted at their conduct . . . I have never seen anything as bad. I did not see the final day, but the Americans' conduct on the two previous days was deplorable."

Strange said he was "sure American officials would have been amazed" had they seen the matches in Perth.

Earl "Butch" Buchholz and Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Harry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, played for the United States in the matches.

Packer Star Eyes Rushing Championship

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crunching fullback, now rates a solid chance to win the National Football League ground-gaining title—something that has belonged to Cleveland's Jimmy Brown since he entered the league four seasons ago.

Taylor has rolled up 1,059 yards in helping bring the Packers to the brink of their first Western Division title since 1944. This is only 88 behind Brown, and each has a game to play.

But Brown must face the New York Giants this week, the league's stingiest team against the rush, while Taylor faces Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

Cleveland's Milt Plum still leads the league's passers with a 62.9 percentage, is first in average gain with 9.53 and in percentage of interceptions with .05, having had only one pilfered all year.

A Welcome Gift For Christmas— Casserole For The Marin Hostess

Here's a Christmas gift that would be doubly welcomed by any Marin hostess: a table centerpiece arranged in a handsome casserole dish. The casserole can be used afterwards for baking and serving.

This is one of the new items to be offered by the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross during its annual Christmas Greens Sale Friday from 6 to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Guy Manuel, chairman of the committee working on table arrangements, uses fresh greens combined with Christmas ornaments in some of her casserole centerpieces, and dried materials in others. Cones, candles and artificial fruits also are used.

Mrs. Manuel also offers these two recipes for holiday dishes which may be baked in the casserole after it has served as a table centerpiece:

CRAB CASSEROLE SUPREME

- 3 Tbsp. butter
- ¾ lb. fresh crab meat
- 2 small green onions, chopped
- ½ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. mustard
- Dash of Tabasco sauce
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Melt butter in a small, heavy frying pan. Add crab meat, onions, salt mustard, and Tabasco. Cook, stirring very gently, until onion and crab are lightly browned. Sprinkle with lemon juice and let stand about 20 minutes. Meantime make this sauce:

- 6 Tbsp. flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- Dash of freshly ground black pepper
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ cup heavy cream
- 2 eggs
- ¼ cup sherry
- 1 tsp. mono sodium glutamate
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter

Melt butter, over lowest heat, blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk and cream. Then cook slowly over low heat; stir constantly. (If desired, canned cream sauce may be used; thin it and season according to recipe.)

Remove cream sauce from heat, add small amount of sauce to well-beaten eggs, then gradually stir in remainder of eggs. Add sherry, then gently mix sauce with crab, being careful to leave any leg meat whole.

Pour into a well-greased casserole, cover with bread crumbs, dot with butter and dust with paprika. Bake in a 325 degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with lemon slices. Serves six.

BAKED CRANBERRY PUDDING

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt

Sift these ingredients together into a mixing bowl. Then briskly stir in the following:

- 1 cup milk
- 3 Tbsp. melted butter
- 2 cups raw cranberries

Pour into an eight or nine square-inch baking dish which has been lightly rubbed with butter or margarine. Bake in 375 degree oven about 45 minutes. Serve warm with butter or this

SHERRY SAUCE

- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ lb. butter or margarine
- ¾ cup cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Pinch of salt

Combine these ingredients in the top of a double boiler. Bring to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Then keep warm by placing sauce over simmering water in the lower part of the boiler. If desired, one or two teaspoons of sherry may be added just before serving. Serve sauce warm.

A GRAB FOR GRUB

"Careful marking, good display ends that hunt-and-seek dismay."

Those 10 words won Mrs. Bernice Smith of 41 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, all the groceries she can grab in five minutes from the shelves of the United Market at 100 Redhill Avenue, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Smith was last week's winner in the "win a free shopping spree" contest sponsored by MJB Coffee Co. over KGO radio for the best 10-word statement on why listeners prefer a favorite market. She'll collect her prize at 1 p.m. Friday, with officials of United Markets egging her to take more—and the MJB company picking up the tab.

Previous winners of the "shopping spree" have grabbed groceries ranging all the way from a low $54 to a high of about $135 in five minutes, according to Art Abell, who conducts the contest on KGO.

Do You Qualify As A Holiday Pastry Waster?

Why be a pastry waster when it's so easy to use the scraps left over from making those holiday mincemeat and pumpkin pies?

Wrap the dough in waxed paper and store it in the refrigerator and you'll have the makings for these elegant pastry appetizers whenever yuletide guests drop in.

To make delicious cheese-flavored appetizers, just roll the dough out on a lightly floured board to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut into 2½-inch squares. Put a teaspoon of finely crumbled American blue cheese in the centter of each square. Bring pastry corners together over the cheese and pinch tightly. Bake at 425 degrees about 15 minutes.

A Perfect Pudding For The Holidays

This old fashioned pudding has grated raw carrots, potatoes and apples in it. It's reminiscent of those puddings the early residents of Fresno, in the heart of the raisinland, made for their families long ago.

FAVORITE HOLIDAY PUDDING

- 2 eggs
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 1 cup seeded raisins
- 1 cup dark or gold raisins
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 2 cups grated raw apple
- 2 cups grated raw potato
- 2 cups grated raw carrot
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Beat eggs. Mix in brown sugar, raisins and lemon peel. Stir in flour sifted with salt, soda and spices. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Turn into well-buttered 2½-quart mold. Cover tightly with lid or aluminum foil. Place mold on rack in deep kettle. Add enough boiling water to come half way up side of mold. Cover kettle and simmer 3½ to 4 hours. Replenish boiling water as needed. Makes 12 to 16 servings. Serve hot with brandy hard sauce.

NOTE: For smaller pudding divide recipe in half and turn into well-buttered 5-cup mold. Steam 2 hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

A STEAMED PUDDING fragrant with spice and laden with both dark seedless and seeded raisins is a majestic dessert for the end of a traditional holiday dinner. If you want a dramatic finale, bring it to the table steaming hot and flamed with brandy.

Wassail Recipe: Ten Love Apples, A Clutch Of Eggs

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 18th century recipe for wassail bowl called for "ten love apples, a clutch of eggs and a flagon of Spanish sherry."

But ale was the basis of the original recipe created some 1,500 years ago. Wassail was the first English toast. It means "be well." The proper Anglo-Saxon response, "drink hael," means "drink well."

A 20th century wassail bowl is made by dissolving ¼ to ½ cup of brown sugar (use smaller amount with dry sherry, large amount with sweet or cream sherry) in ½ cup water. Add 1 teaspoon of ginger and ½ teaspoon of nutmeg. For a spicier beverage, also add ½ teaspoon each of allspice and mace, 3 cloves and a small stick of cinnamon. Bring to boil, add 2 bottles of sherry and bring to boil again.

In a 2½-quart punch bowl, beat 6 egg yolks until lemon-colored. Fold in 6 stiffly beaten egg whites. Add hot spiced wine slowly, stirring constantly. Float 6 whole small baked apples on the foam, dust punch and apples with nutmeg and serve. Makes 18 cups.

Traditionally, toast instead of eggs was used in the wassail. Hot buttered toast can be served with the modern version.

Marin Women

Barbara Feiling Weds Lt. William Burnett

In a 3 o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, Barbara Alice Feiling of Kentfield became the bride of Lt. William Richard Burnett of Marysville.

Two large vases of white stock and white chrysanthemums were at the altar for the ceremony officiated by Rev. Wesley Baker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feiling of Kentfield. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burnett of Marysville.

Given in marriage by both her parents, the bride wore a gown of bouquet taffeta and Alencon lace. A circlet neckline and long sleeves fashioned the basque bodice of taffeta appliqued with lace. The belle skirt swept into a chapel train. Her tiered illusion veil was held by a coronet of imported orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses with a cascading spray of stephanotis.

Patricia Patton of San Carlos was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Rudolph of San Rafael; Margo Brown, Taft; Donna Prentice, Berkeley; and Ann Burnett of Sacramento, the bridegroom's sister and Bonnie Feiling of San Rafael, cousin of the bride.

They were gowned in sheaths of American beauty satin fashioned with scooped necklines, short sleeves and cummerbunds styled with roses and streamers. They had matching bandeaux and shoes and carried old fashioned bouquets of American Beauty carnations accented by white carnations.

Lt. Edward Collins acted as best man. Escorting guests to their seats were Messrs. Kenneth Kamp of Kentfield; Robert Dempsey, Marysville; Kenneth Meyers, Sacramento and Philip Spaulding, Santa Rosa.

Fore her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Feiling wore a Dior blue brocaded sheath with Dior blue velvet feathered hat and matching accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom chose an emerald green brocaded jacket sheath with matching accessories and white satin and feather hat. Both mothers wore white orchids.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a black and white wool tweed ensemble with black accessories and white fur hat.

The bride was employed with the San Rafael Recreation department and was graduated from Carlmont High School in Belmont. She was graduated from the University of California where she was a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority, Phi Beta Kappa and Nu Sigma Nu.

Her grandmothers are Mrs. Fred Kamphoefner of Menlo Park and Mrs. William Feiling of Union City.

The bridegroom was graduated from Marysville Union High School and the University of California. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. Now with the U.S. Air Force, he just completed training in Officers' Candidate School. Mrs. Viola Dickson of South Gate, Calif., is his grandmother.

The couple will make their home at Mather Air Force Base, Sacramento.

Military Academy Christmas Ball Planned Dec. 16

The San Rafael Military Academy Christmas Ball will be held on Dec. 16 from 9 p.m. to midnight. As this is an annual invitational affair there is great activity on the campus. Invitations are being sent out this weekend and the gymnasium is being transformed into a gay yuletide ballroom decorated in green and red wreaths with a massive 20-foot Christmas tree.

Cadet Chuck Taber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Taber, is chairman of the dance committee, with Cadet Bruce Bostick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Bostick, and Cadet Robert Hamann, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hamann, also an academy alumni, are busy helping Cadet Taber with preparations.

Mrs. Howard Good, vice president of the Academy's Mothers' Club supervised the trimming of the tree among several donated by the Mothers.

Various dinner parties have been planned prior to the Ball, with supper to follow for the upper classmen and their dates. This is one of the academy's outstanding occasions of the year and many formal gowns are being planned for the evening. An orchestra has been hired for the dance. Refreshments will be served. Parents and Academy staff will chaperone.

At 2:30 p.m. on Dec. 16, parents and cadets are invited to attend the annual Christmas exercises. Rev. John D. Riley, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, will officiate.

Blythedale Lodge Elects New Officers

Mrs. Walter Meyers was elected to succeed Mrs. Eldora Clinton as noble grand of Mill Valley's Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 at its recent meeting in the Odd Fellows Temple.

Others elected to serve with Mrs. Meyers were Mesdames Tony Fontes, vice grand; Catherine Young, trustee for three years; Eva Frazier, financial secretary; Albert Hughes, treasurer; and Mr. Roy Wright, secretary.

Mrs. Clinton presided at the business meeting during which Mrs. John Robertson, district deputy president of District 61, was escorted to the rostrum by conductor Connie Ford.

Decor in the hall consisted of greens, begonias, fuchsias, marguerites and roses. And dining tables were decorated with green and white ivy and star shaped candle holders containing white candles and encircled at the base with tiny pink roses.

Climax of the evening was a shower for a recent bride, Mrs. John Zeides Jr., the former Mrs. Grace Woolridge. Mrs. Herbert Maxey presented Mrs. Zeides with her gifts from the lodge.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mesdames George Russo, chairman, and Ora Saunders, Wendell Williams and Fred Maydole.

Mrs. Clinton reminded members to bring exchange gifts for the Christmas party to be held at the next meeting.

JR. LEAGUE STYLE SHOW ON FEB. 1

Models have been selected for the spring fashion show of the Junior League of San Francisco to be held on Feb. 1 at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco. Marin members modeling will be Mrs. Clarence O. Amonette Jr., Mrs. Robert Mellon Daiss, Mrs. William Byron Wallace and Mrs. Leonard E. Weisenburg. Most of them are familiar with the runway, having done the modeling stint many times before. Glamorous styles will be modeled at a luncheon. Mrs. Paul A. Maccaulay Robinson, fashion show chairman, announced.

The models were chosen by a panel of judges.

General admission tickets will go on sale Jan. 4 and may be obtained from the catering department of the hotel. Sponsors tables may be reserved with Mrs. Arch Monson of San Francisco.

Old Mill School Program Tomorrow

Parents, teachers and children of Old Mill School, Mill Valley, will gather at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. to hear the school chorus sing Christmas music.

Following the main program Kathy Wood will play the piano and Bill Pleasants will lead the group in community singing. Candy canes for the children and Christmas cookies and punch made and served by room mothers will put the final touch to the party.

Glamour Will Steal Scene At Fashion Focus Luncheon

The most magnificent furs ever seen in Marin, spectacular jewelry from the nation's eminent designer, Robert Lindemann of San Francisco, and holiday dresses to steal the scene will set the stage for Rickey's special Christmas week fashion luncheon on Tuesday when it says "Have a Gala, Glamourous Holiday."

The glow of Christmas candles, music by the St. Nicholas Boys Choir, and the Yuletide smorgasbord in the Garden Room with its twinkling light on the tree will add to the festivity of the day as the Officers Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base are welcomed as the holiday guest.

Eight of their attractive members will promenade through the Christmasy rooms in the majesty of mink; Cerulian, Silver-blue, ranch, showing the stunning, shoulder hugging stole or a full length mink great coat as well as the most exciting versions of the glamourous fox, beaver, and stone-martens.

Young Stephen, impeccably garbed as the lackey of a southern mansion of Christmas past will exhibit the priceless collection of jewels on velvet trays as he walks among the tables so that their exquisite beauty may be seen at close range. Other distinctive Lindermann designs will be worn by the models to complement the mood of their fur fashion.

Perfect "little dresses" in black to go from Christmas into spring and a sequence of brilliant after-five looks in Christmas red, holly green and winter white have been gathered by Helen Gray as the festive finale with furs and jewelry.

Reservations to enjoy the special Christmas week luncheon honoring the Officers Wives Club, and relax from the hurry and scurry of preparations may be made by calling Rickey's.

Garden Section Yule Tea Party Set Tomorrow

The Outdoor Art Club's Garden Section chairman, Mrs. Wayne Bingham, announces the section will hold a Christmas tea party tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Mills Calahan. Mrs. Elvira Becker is assisting Mrs. Calahan with party preparations.

Those planning to attend are requested to call Mrs. Calahan.

At a recent meeting of the section Mrs. Charles Ayers gave a report on the highlights of the Oakland Home Show in which she exhibited. Also on the program was a series of colored slides of the varied flora and scenery of the West, shown by Martin B. Knox. They were taken on a trip he and Mrs. Knox made through Arizona, Montana, California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Tamalpais High Festivities Climax With Library Party

Climax of Christmas festivities at Tamalpais High School will be the party sponsored by the Library Club to be given on Dec. 16 after school in the library.

The faculty will participate with Edward Bode, chairman of the English department, presenting a Christmas reading, and Pittenger, head of instrumental music, in charge of singing.

Refreshments will be served by Miss Karen Andrews of the home making class.

Tuesday afternoon Tam Hi little sisters gave a tea for their big sisters following a Santa Lucia theme, an appropriate one since that day, Dec. 13, is the darkest day of the year in Sweden. Wearing colorful costumes Swedish children serve refreshments to their parents in the morning.

Saturday Nu Alpha Tau girls entertained Senior Citizens at county headquarters. They are also making plans for a "Toys for Tot" project in which toys collected from the student body will be turned over to the U.S. Marines.

Another project the girls are planning is to record names and addresses of people attending programs who do not have children in school. Their purpose will be to send them invitations to future programs.

CHILD'S PLAY

How To Dress Up Yule Gifts Fit To Be Tied

CHICAGO (UPI)—It's "child's play" to produce a Christmas package of beauty and a joy to behold.

Or, so says Carol Hubbard Thompson, a gift wrappings company official.

She may be right; children have a knack for this kind of thing. But their elders frequently prove less adept at turning ribbons into pompons, stars, roses, swirls and other fancy bows. What starts out to be a ribbon rose often winds up looking like spaghetti in the hands of a non-pro.

For those who don't like spaghetti, at least on gift packages, Mrs. Thompson suggested ready-made bows. One of the new ones on the market, a huge swirl of wide satin-like ribbon, is called a pinwheel for obvious reasons.

A smaller one, called a jewel bow, looks more like a three-dimensional star. Mrs. Thompson, who is with Tie-Tie, deftly turned two of these into a tree ornament by joining them back-to-back with rubber cement.

She used an ordinary roll of satin-type ribbon for another easy-to-make package ornament. Tightly rolling about six inches of the ribbon, she moistened the ends to keep it rolled and glued it to a package wrapped in Santa Claus print paper. Over the roll of ribbon, she mounted a Santa Claus cutout, snipped from a scrap of the paper. Several of these cutouts mounted on the package gave it a novel three-dimensional look.

Another ribbon trick turned a length of ribbon into tiny bells. The gift wrapper started each bell with a half-circle of ribbon. One side of the ribbon served as the straight side of the half-circle, and a 50-cent piece served as a pattern for cutting the circular edges. Again, self-adhesive, satin-type ribbon was used, and Mrs. Thompson stuck the two corners of each half-circle together, turning them into a cone or bell.

She threaded a string through the centers of the ribbon bells with a needle.

Another kind of holiday glitter for wrappings or homemade ornaments comes by the box, Mrs. Thompson said. It's a sand-like substance that glitters like rhinestones in gold, silver and a rainbow of colors. It sticks readily to rubber cement brushed lightly on assorted ribbons and paper.

Ski Fashions Incline To Beauty

This winter some two million women are enjoying their ups and downs with skis on their feet.

At the rate the sport's popularity is increasing with the supposedly weaker-ankled set, men skiers will be outnumbered before long.

Although the gracefulness of skiing and its outdoor setting may be primary lures, there's no denying colorful ski fashions have had a lot to do with its surge in popularity.

"Most women take to skiing right away," points out an expert. "A few, though, have no interest other than carrying their skis around on their back and looking glamorous. But with the sport being made enjoyable for beginners, and with so many safety devices available, there are actually few lodge skiers today."

A basic wardrobe includes ski pants, warm sweater, parka, boots, mittens, cap.

This year stretch pants are slimmer and more tapered; parkas longer. For weightless warmth are parkas of quilted nylon or dacron, or soft pile fabric. Novelty materials used with colorful effect are printed corduroy, jacquard weaves, cotton duck and poplin.

Heavy wool sweaters are plain figured. Brightly designed imports are especially popular this year.

NOTICE!

The sheriff reports some warmints have been smugglin' in tough, hard-to-chew pop corn that's full of scratchy hulls.

He calls on brave, honest folks to outwit 'em with ever-lovin', ever-tender, easy-eatin' JOLLY TIME POP CORN. It's hulless and pops faster 'n any six gun you ever seen on TV. Help the sheriff. Aim fer the best—Jolly Time Pop Corn.

'Christmas In Poetry, Song' L-CM's Program Tonight

"Christmas in Poetry and Song" will be the theme of Larkspur-Corte Madera Elementary School's annual Christmas program to be held tonight at 7:30, in the Henry C. Hall All-Purpose Room. Hosts for the evening will be the P-TA and family and friends of the student body are invited to attend.

The program will open with songs of the holiday season sung by the school chorus which is composed of sixty-five, 6th, 7th and 8th graders and is directed by faculty member Mrs. Jaequeline Palmer. The chorus was just organized this year and this will be their first major performance.

Next presentation will be an original play, "The Spirit of Christmas", produced by Mrs. Jody White, director of LCM's After-School Experimental Theatre Group.

Special guest performers will be the Neil Cummins After-School Creative Dramatics Group, also directed by Mrs. White. They will pantomime four favorite stories.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs William M. Ford, assisted by Mesdames Bernard Kaplan, Bruce Goecker, David Shew, Preston Smith and Fred Hafer, as well as the mothers of the 2nd and 3rd grade students, will provide and serve refreshments following the dramatic portion of the evening's entertainment.

A New Book On Game Of Bridge

A new book on the market makes a game of learning the game of bridge. It was writtne by Charles Goren for people who swear they can never learn to play.

This pessimistic sort of pupil reads page 1, then takes a quiz. If he replies that bridge is played with jokers in the deck, he is advised to read page 6. However, if he answers "52 cards, no jokers," he progresses to page 11. Those turning to page 2 are scolded and sent back to "go."

Purpose of this unusual teaching formula is to prevent skimming from page to page without understanding or making progress.

The book, "Elements of Bridge," was published by Tutor-Text.

Furniture Designed For 'Born' Hostess

CHICAGO (UPI)— Planning a holiday party? There's new party furniture on the market, designed to make you look like a "born hostess."

Newest is the buffet, which opens to reveal a series of molded plastic trays called the Stratapanel storage system. Fitted with special slots for glasses of all standard sizes, silverware and dinnerware, the trays slide out to carry right to the table or entertainment area. The glassware tray is particularly useful for this purpose. It holds eight glasses around a pitcher that's ready to fill at a moment's notice. The buffet, in a choice of walnut or teak finishes, has door of African zebra wood.

Snack tables, too, have a new look this year. In one manufacturer's line, they slide out of a corner table like drawers and unfold into full-height tray-tables. The 32-inch square surface of the corner table provides space for a coffee or tea service, and the white plastic tops of the tray-tables, imprinted with colorful butterflies, give the set its name—"social butterflies."

A cocktail table by the same manufacturer conceals four white plastic-topped snack tables in its baluster base. It is appropriately called a "multiplication table."

New for partying in the small apartment is a luau table with four wedge-shaped foam rubber cushioned seats that slide out from underneath. The table legs adjust to three different heights for use as a cocktail table, dining table or card table.

Square Dance Party For Beginners

Saturday evening, Dec. 21, all novice square dancers are invited to the Grand Christmas Square Dance Jamboree at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

This will be the fourth in a series of parties staged by the Marin County Square Dance Association. All have been enjoyed by the dancers, especially as they advanced in their weekday evening lessons, and became proficient enough to indulge in more complicated and faster figures.

The caller for this Saturday will be Joe Crumpler. His club, the Fiddle Footers of Novato, will be on hand, with other experienced dancers, to help the less experienced through the more intricate patterns.

In keeping with the occasion, all guests are asked to bring a small gift.

The committee for the Christmas dance consists of Arnesta and Joe Degard, Ina and Steve Stevenson, Clare and Vern Wheeler, Sally and Walt Craven, and Lucy and John Arms for the association beginners' class, Jack Lewis, president, and his wife, Grace, will represent the Fiddle Footers Club.

Rev. Murray has recently come to Tiburon from Pleasant Hills. He has been a priest for 31 years and was born in New York.

Women parish members from Bel Aire and members of the men's club will act as hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Robert Nadolski is general chairman, assisted by Mesdames Willis Bohn, Meridith Messer, Donald Perry, Robert Chiller and Eugene Murray.

William Gray and Eugene Murray will represent the Men's Club on the committee.

Little Santa Will Charm The Family

Bewildered by the array of do-it-yourself decorations ideas which the gay holiday season brings? Here's a wonderfully versatile craft suggestion from a new little paper company leaflet. Quick as a wink to make, this inexpensive little Santa will charm family and friends in dozens of eye-catching ways.

You need:
4-in. plastic foam ball
white paper towel
toothpick
red water color or ink
black construction paper
red construction paper
red cranberry or gum drop artificial snow
glitter

1. Give plastic foam ball rosy color with water color or ink; let dry.

2. Paste on black eyelashes cut from construction paper.

3. Put chanberry or gum drop on end of toothpick and insert in ball for nose.

4. Shape 3½-in. x 5½-in. cone of red paper and paste on head for hat.

5. Make red collar for base in same way, same size cone.

6. Cut 2-in. from peak of collar cone and glue Santa's head in place on small end of cone.

7. Snip 1½-in. wide bias strips of towel in fringe ¼-in. wide, ¾-in. deep; curl strips.

8. Paste two rows of curls around lower edge of hat cone for fur.

9. Roll more curls into ball and paste on top of hat cone for pompon.

10. Shape additional curls under Santa's nose for beard.

11. Spray glitter glue on hat, beard and collar; sprinkle with artificial snow.

As a conversation piece wrapping for pretty gifts of perfume or hamemade fruit preserves, simply tuck bottle or jar inside Santa, then paste a circlet of cardboard to the base.

Perch Santa atop a cookie jar to steal the scene when the neighborhood smallfry stop by for nibbles.

Santa will brighten your mantel or hall table, and he will beckon a cheery greeting as a stairway decoration on a newel post.

For children's pre-holiday parties, Santa can serve as a whimsical table centerpiece. Shape smaller size Santas as take-home place favors to cover nut cups of jelly beans or peppermint.

THIS VERSATILE little Santa decoration can perch atop a cookie jar to invite the small fry for nibbles, or can be used as a jolly table centerpiece for children's pre-holiday parties. Made in a twinkling with just a plastic foam ball, construction paper and paper towels, Santa will delight family and friends alike.

Cookie Custom First Started In Days Of Roman Senators

NEW YORK (UPI) — A child who puts cookies out for Santa Claus on Christmas Eve is perpetuating a custom that predates the holiday itself.

The cookie custom first started when confections were served to Roman senators during the pre-Christian festival of Saturn, says the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

Christmas Eve snacks are traditional in many lands, either for Santa and his animals or their counterparts.

In Norway, Sweden and Denmark the Christmas snacks were originally offered to protect one's home from mischief by the gnomes who bring presents.

Sweden's modern Jultomten is a red-costumed, white-bearded little man, a congenial counterpart of Santa Claus. But legend says he once guarded Swedish farms, and had to be woed with a big bowl of porridge to guarantee the safety of farm buildings and productivity of farm animals for the coming year.

In pre-Christian days, nomadic Laplanders in northern Sweden made a sacrifice to Yuletide people who were believed to fly over the earth on Christmas Eve.

To ward off danger, the Lapps fasted that night. The food they would have eaten, plus bits of their Christmas day dinner, were but into a boat-shaped basket that was hung in a tree about a gunshot's distance from the family hut.

Denmark's gift-carrier is a gnome called Jule-nisse. He is left risengrod, or rice pudding, with an extra lump of butter, a favorite dessert of Danish children.

In southern Greece and the Tyrol, Christmas Eve snacks take on religious significance. In the former, special flat loaves of bread are left on the dinner table at night in the belief that Christ or St. Basil will come to eat. And in the Tyrol, a pan of milk is left out for the Christ child and His mother.

An old Czechoslovakian custom makes Christmas Eve a fast day for children who want to see the golden pigs. These legendary figures are shadows cast by flickering candlelight as the family sits down to a festive seven-course supper. Tradition also dictates that leftovers from this meal be fed to the pigs.

Other animals and birds are remembered with gifts of food in many other countries, including Belgium, Sweden, Hungary, Germany and Spain.

In southern Syria, legend says, children also left water and wheat for the gentle camel of Jesus, the youngest animal of those that carried the Wise Men to the Christ Child.

Make Your Yule Safe

Carelessness could turn a holiday wreath of happiness into one of grief.

Joining a nationwide campaign against such tragedies are four million youngsters, members of the Junior Fire Marshal Christmas safety program.

Here are the rules the 8 to 10 year old Junior Fire Marshals practice and preach:

1. Use gasoline powered airplane models out of doors, away from flame.

2. Exercise care in using chemistry sets, paying particular attention to directions in mixing chemicals.

3. Check with fire department officials regarding safety of missile sets before using.

4. Periodically check plug-in electrical toys for frayed wiring. Never set them up or use them under Christmas tree.

For tree safety: Stand tree in water or bucket of wet sand away from radiator, fireplace and doors. Use only fire resistant decorations checking lights for frayed wire, loose sockets. Turn off lights when leaving house. When needles begin to fall, take the Yule tree out of the house.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has a word of warning to parents buying toys: Avoid playthings with sharp edges and objects that break, leaving sharp edges.

Young Republicans Enjoy Glogg Party

The Young Republicans of Marin enjoyed their annual Christmas Glogg Party on Saturday evening in a patriotic setting of red, white and blue.

A white Christmas tree, trimmed with silver garlands and red and blue balls occupied the stage of the San Rafael Improvement Club, locale of the event, and vases of silver fir branches, hung with blue balls and red ribbon, stood on either side of the stage.

The decorations committee was in charge of Mrs. John Bozik of Mill Valley. Greeting the 125 guests at the entrance were Mrs. Thomas Moss of Mill Valley, Christmas party chairman; and Mrs. Gordon L. Ness of San Rafael, wife of the newly-elected president of the club.

The buffet table, draped in red and decorated with silver accessories by Mrs. David R. Cruz of Terria Linda, was centered with a miniature silver Christmas tree made by Mrs. Melvin Stidham of Terra Linda. Mrs. Thomas Elliott of Marinwood and the food committee served a buffet supper. Working with Mrs. Elliott were Mrs. Walter McGovern of Marinwood; Mrs. C. A. Gernster of Greenbrae, Mrs. John T. Schmitz of Glenwood and Mrs. Richard Calahan of Sausalito.

Mrs. William D. Keeler of Mill Valley, wife of the immediate past president, and Sidney Howard of Sausalito, a past president, supervised the mixing of the Glogg. Mrs. Donald G. Black of Terra Linda served the punch.

Prior to the musical entertainment by a group of local musicians, Gordon Ness, president, presented an engraved gavel to William D. Keeler of Mill Valley, past president.

Party Punch

At the small fry holiday party, serve "Frosty Fruit Punch." Combine a can of apricot whole fruit nectar with a little lemon juice and sugar. Stir in some vanilla ice cream or blend with ice cream in a blender.

What Better Time To Buy Equipment For Fireplace

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Yule log, children's stockings and years of tradition all combine to focus attention on the fireplace come Christmas. What better time to invest in some handsome fireplace equipment?

Screens, brass or black, now come ready-made in recessed as well as free-standing models and don't require professional installation. For those with a taste for the more unusual, there are screens bordered in mosaic, decorated with metal cutouts of trees or flowers or centered with a huge brass star.

Firesets remain generally traditional in shape, but a few of the black wrought iron ones now include such strikingly modern pieces as sharply triangular shovels and brushes.

Among the new log baskets is a brown leather one with a brass frame, trimmed with wood.

Most andirons still have the look of jumbo antique brass candlesticks, but a few now have modern curves and, in keeping with the recent revival of Federalist furniture, others are topped with the Federalist eagle.

For the hearth beside the fireplace, there's a wide choice of styles in brass coal pails. Try filling one with dried aromatic pine cones for the holiday season.

There's an even greater variety of ways to dress up the fireplace from above, with pottery mugs, tankards, cuckoo or other ornate clocks on the mantel, or plaques, prints or crests on the wall over the fireplace.

A stunning new candelabra, designed especially for the mantel, has a wooden log-type base. It comes in two sizes, one for three candles and a larger one for seven candles.

Foot-long fireplace matches, conversation pieces in themselves, will look more decorative in one of the new stamped brass matchboxes, about three times the size of the ordinary wooden boxes that hold penny matches.

Fireplace brooms, too, have gone decorative, with multicolored bristles in harvest or holiday color combinations. They're a bit impractical, but add a nice touch of whimsy to the hearth.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Industrial Foundation Leader Writes Of Community Growth

"The relationship between industrial growth and general community growth is a chicken and egg relationship."

The analogy was one used by Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation in an article that appeared in the November issue of the Residential Appraiser. It was made to emphasize how the community and industry are dependent upon each other for their existence.

Industrial development, he said, probably will not lower the tax rate because of increased services... however, it will probably bring about an increased community prosperity that will make higher taxes more tolerable and result in a certain amount of redistribution of the load. He listed other effects as expansion of existing businesses, confidence and civic pride.

The obvious contraposition, of course, is that industry itself must locate in areas where there is manpower available, or within a reasonable distance thereof, giving industry and community reciprocal benefits.

In looking at the changing pattern of populated areas, Enemark warned that there is likely to be a dislocation of services if industrial development does not follow established trends. Municipal and utility services may have to be aligned and schools may be in the wrong place. As an example, he cited Commerce High School in San Francisco on Van Ness Avenue, made obsolescent in the change of neighborhood from residential to non-residential.

He gave Sunnyvale as an examble of pre-planned municipal services that attracted 37 industries between 1952 and 1959.

Something that should be watched, he said, is the conversion of marginal lands at unrealistic costs, creating barriers in the path of orderly development. A speculative rise in land values caused by people rushing in to purchase property and holding it serves only to drive industry and workers to establish their business elsewhere.

The article was intended primarily for appraisers, whom he cautioned not to measure values too far in the future during a period in which transition is occurring.

THIS STORY was told by wine expert John Melville in a recent speech before the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco:

A woman entered a wine shop and asked for a "blue" table wine.

"Lady," said the dealer, "we have red table wines, white table wines and pink table wines but there are NO blue table wines."

"Oh, no?" insisted the customer moving over to the shelves. "Here's one."

And she held up a bottle of Beaulieu Cabernet Sauvignon.

No wonder, said Melvile, that Beaulieu prefers to label its bottles BV.

Which reminds us that an acceptable Christmas gift in most quarters, and a comparatively inexpensive one at that, is a bottle of California vintage —whether it's red, white or blieu.

AND SPEAKING of Christmas, I am informed by sales manager Al Brusati of Coca Cola Bottling Co. in San Rafael that coupons are being given out with all carton purchases of Coca Cola in stores and supermarkets in Marin for a festive package of hi-fi phonograph records of Christmas carols and stories and New Year's songs. Only thing is—you have to send in the coupon for the records, and time before Christmas is growing short.

To get at milkweed nectar, an insect must became entangled in sticky, heavy masses of pollen. To leave, it must be strong enough to pull free and carry a sizable load of pollen to the stigma of the next flower visited.

TAR AND CARS

Supervisors Unravel Tangle Of Bidding

Two unusual tangles over bids caused confusion, and two different decisions at yesterday's session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Only one bidder had offered on a total of eight automobiles and the board finally decided to call for new bids.

But two companies had tied in bidding to supply asphalt to the public works department, and after first voting to call for new bids in this matter the board reconsidered and decided to split its business.

In the car matter, the county had called for offers to supply six replacement cars for the sheriff and one police car each for Sausalito and Corte Madera. It turned out that only one dealer had bid.

His identity wasn't revealed but rejection was advised by the purchasing department.

Supervisor William Fusselman declared that "you're asking us to shoot in the dark if that sole bid was a good bid" and John Hettrich, assistant purchasing agent, replied that not only was it poor but it involved "a disappointing trade-in" on used cars.

One reason for this, discussion developed, was that dealers were now forbidden to set back speedometers "so they can't get as much on resale" as Fusselman put it. Chairman Walter Castro said all speedometers should be set back to zero, this being legal and involving no deceit.

Hettrick said that mileage on the six trade-ins actually ranged from 55,717 miles to 83,951. He added that several dealers has just "suffered from oversight" in not bidding and the board agreed to call for the new bids.

Public works director Marvin W. Brigham said that when bids on about $40,000 worth of liquid and emulsified asphalt were opened Dec. 6 it was found that while one was a little high, bids from American Bitumuls and Asphalt Co.—the present supplier—and Shell Oil Co. were identical.

A provision of law, Brigham said, seemed to call for awarding the contract by drawing lots between these two.

Representatives of both companies promised good service, Brigham said there was no apparent reason to expect either to be inferior, and one of the oil men said that if new bids were asked "there probably will be not two but four companies tied next time."

Confronted with this, Chairman Walter Castro withdrew a motion he had made to call for new bids and it was decided to let the two tied companies share next year's county business.

Board Opens Civic Center Grading Bids

An apparent low bid of $111,424 from the Rio Vista contracting firm of J. W. Richards was among nine bids opened by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday for grading and excavation at the county fair grounds and civic center.

It was indicated that no action would be taken for about two weeks, pending completion of some property exchange in the area.

High bid was widely divergent from the low figure, being $196,070 from Fredrickson and Watson of Alameda County. Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, said he had estimated around $130,000 for the work.

Assistant auditor-controller Michael Mitchell said the county has on hand "about $135,000" available from pari-mutuel funds from the state.

Drunken Driver Gets $263 Fine

George Francis Barberis, 56, of 109 Manor Road, Fairfax, must spend five days in jail and pay a $263 fine for his third drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Butterfield Road in San Anselmo on Nov. 30.

Barberis was previously convicted of drunken driving in Santa Rosa in 1959 and in San Anselmo in 1942.

Two Marin Men Carved Niches To Be Proud Of

Marin lost two men over the weekend who have carved their niches in our community.

Dr. Willis C. Lamott, 67-year-old seminary professor, died in a local hospital after a long illness.

George S. Menke, 78, retired Corte Madera town clerk, died in Sonoma County after a two-year bout with cancer.

Menke was for a quarter of a century a major force in the government of Corte Madera. He was its treasurer, assessor, tax collector, assistant fire chief and assistant police chief, as well as its clerk.

In the years just before his retirement late in 1957, he held strong reins on the community, although the speed of today's existence and the mushrooming growth of the town he served, threatened to overwhelm him.

We recall him sitting in front of the town council during their meetings, laboriously making notes with pen and ink, relying on his failing hearing to blot out requests or demands of councilmen for his attention until he had made a final period. Then he'd lift his head and say, "Now what was it you wanted?"

There are stories about him by the score; with his various hats on, he could see that things in town government were moving in the direction he thought best for the town. And, we must add, he wasn't often proven wrong.

Dr. Lamott brought to the county a wide experience in matters of the Far East and the church mission field. After graduating from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo in 1919, he went to Japan and laid the foundation for his lifetime work of missionary and teaching work.

He returned to the seminary 13 years ago and served as dean of students, director of admissions and professor of Christian missions at his alma mater.

In his community relationships he was always willing and effective in sharing his experience and experiences with the people of Marin. Besides being a good professor, he was a good neighbor and friend to many county residents.

Both of these men have left something behind of which their friends and families can be proud.

The Deadly Lull

Who has not been to a party, large or small, when for a moment all conversation ceases and the guests and host and hostess grope frantically for a subject which will start the talk pouring forth once again.

Everyone scratches his brain energetically to uncork the bottle of conversation. The results of such obvious attempts to fill the void of silence with noise are usually not very satisfying.

Perhaps our age is too filled with noise, with conversation, radio and TV, with words without thought for us to appreciate the need for a pause and thought collecting. We seem to have lost an appreciation of the value of silent communion.

Many of our most enlightening conversations, looking back, were not with the fast talking "brilliant conversationalist." They were with the fellow who thought before he opened his mouth, who usually had something worthwhile to say.

Small talk and party chatter have their places. But when everyone becomes absorbed in a question and the wheels are turning, there is only one thing more annoying than the deadly lull.

That is the well-intentioned icebreaker—"Did I ever tell you what our dog, Lulu, did?"

Big Snowstorm Really Thaws Out New York City, Makes It Friendly

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a blizzard to melt the cold, cold heart of the world's greatest city.

So, if you want to see America's leading metropolis at its friendliest, be sure to come here during a blinding snowstorm.

A human thaw occurs that turns sprawling Gotham into a small town of some eight million neighbors.

A 17-inch snowfall here this week proved that again. A big storm always does.

On ordinary days a stranger seeing Manhattan for the first time gets the eerie impression he has been set down in a vast civic madhouse.

Everybody seems to be in a tremendous rush to get from where he is to where he isn't. Each person acts as if he were carrying an important message to Garcia.

It is a city where folks don't really seem to have time for each other. It is a city where you start mumbling "G-bye" before you finish saying "H'lo."

To many visitors, awed by the pace here, New York appears less a city than a huge traffic problem—an intricate maze endlessly threaded by two-legged ants hopped up by pep pills.

But let five or more inches of snow fall, and all this magically changes.

The daily scramble to gain an edge on the other fellow is forgotten. The subway stare—that self-protective look of indifference—disappears.

THE CITY becomes a common white battleground on which the community forges a fresh unity.

Gallantry emerges. Men cheerfully break paths through the deepening snow, and old ladies follow in their footsteps. The bus driver no longer shuts his door in the face of a passenger.

ILL-TEMPER vanishes. Good nature reigns. An almost frolic atmosphere takes over. People share cabs who never shared cabs before.

It might make the big city a better place to live in if it were hit with a real blizzard at least once a month throughout the year—just so it could show its real human heart more often.

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

After $1,500 worth of paving the west lot of the San Rafael courthouse was ready for parking. Supervisors talked of installing parking meters on both east and west lots as they didn't think there would be enough officials to snatch all the places. (Editor's Note: They wuz wrong.)

20 YEARS AGO

Five hundred soldiers invaded historic Drake's Bay where land on the Leland Murphy ranch had been obtained for use as a conditioning ground for foot troops.

Daily food costs at San Quentin Prison were reported up to 19½ cents per man from 17 cents the previous spring, when a major food riot occurred. Federal prison standards average 25 cents and the Army pays about 45 cents.

Housing Authority Vital To Marin

EDITOR
Independent-Journal

The many congratulatory contacts received over the news of my appointment to the Marin Housing Authority by the Board of Supervisors, perhaps calls for my statement on this vital project.

My investigation of the redevelopment and housing authority's functions, reveals the opportunity to engage in the practical field of redeveloping blight into new construction. The work to be done seems comprehensive and at a level in line with theoretical knowledge acquired in U.C. Course in "Urban Redevelopment and Planning."

The authority's problems and the corrective measures necessary for the satisfaction of all at least expense together with the contributions from the end result of either success or failure, are the vital points that interest me.

Forecasts of Marin's population increases, calls for positive thought and action in providing adequate housing at rental brackets to meet the limited income of new and young families starting out. Ths project seems to be a step in the right direction to meet our responsibility of helping limited income families in their transition to higher income and better Marin positions according to each one's ability to better themselves through practical knowledge of on-the-job training, as well as theoretical through the use of our education centers.

Efforts of the authority impresses me as being a necessary force to combat gradual development of blight throughout our county, for although it is now primarily concerned with Southern Marin, the authority's experiences will no doubt pave the way in helping other areas with the same conditions caused by the elements of time.

This concentrated effort in redevelopment is the answer to the many problems throughout the county that will bring in new aesthetic and economic values in keeping with the high standards we enjoy.

Concentrated housing for limited income families will strengthen our economy, for the earned dollar in Marin—will remain in Marin. My own experiences in the rental market reveals the need for lower rental housing as many have moved into neighboring counties while working within Marin for the dollar loss to our economy.

Of the hundreds of important segments involved in urban redevelopment, concentrated housing is a small part but important to planning and development of larger lots for houses in the next price bracket—to the ultimate of estate development of one or more acres on elevated sites for custom built, more expensive homes.

Such action and planning, providing parks and recreational facilities to breathe, together with transportation routes and methods, will prevent Marin from "choking" and help determine the "density scale of comfort" in accordance with what the topography will allow.

The Marin Housing and Redevelopment Authority seems to be working toward the solution of these vital problems and it is because of their comprehensive approach that I appreciate this opportunity to engage in the practical field of redeveloping blighted areas.

I wish to thank the Board of Supervisors for their considerations and appointment and will endeavor to work for solutions of the problems to the satisfaction of all.

Errors In Story About Brindel

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

At this time of the year we can well understand your dismissing this letter. But be assured we write it not out of a sense of having been offended, but rather in the interests of accurate reporting and in the interests of helping you continue to do your good job in community public relations.

In your Nov. 26 edition under a two column article headlined "Parishes Castigated In Catholic Magazine," the following in accuracies occur:

Paragraph 4. The Novato writer, Paul Brindel, is referred to as the only layman writing in a certain issue of the Catholic Management Journal. This is simply not so. Three other laymen published by-line articles in the same issue of the Catholic Management Journal.

Paragraph 6: Mr. Brindel's charge that certain county officials were uninvited must be based on his own private and thorough survey, because only the pastor—in this particular case—knows who was invited and who was not invited to the parochial school's ceremonies.

Also paragraph 6: Mr. Brindel's complaint about the absent director of public relations seems to me to be bad public relations in itself, since Mr. Brindel has no idea of the busy schedule of the director, nor exhibits little understanding of what the director (who is an an editor) thinks is significant news of interest to a wide area audience.

Paragraph 7: This paragraph includes the charge that the diocesan weekly did not cover the dedication of a parish school. This is absolutely false. As a matter of policy, that we attend to religiously, The Monitor covers, usually in advance, all church, school, and convent building dedications with lengthy articles and photographs.

We understand the problem you have of checking on the accuracy of charges and complaints that come out of local stories. We just wanted to remind you that the Independent-Journal's reputation for good reporting is not helped when your columns are exploited in Mr. Brindel's manner.

County Groups Could Improve Night Meetings With Few Hulas

What Marin County's night meetings need is the hula.

I speak on a basis of ripe experience. Having been subjected to the task of reporting night meetings for more years than I care to tote up, let me say that the old-time Honolulu product was world's ahead of Marin.

Both places, a lot of people (not including myself) love to wrench loose from their little grass shacks and go off to some sort of public meeting come nighttime.

WHAT HAPPENS at such meetings in Marin? Just a lot of yak, yak, yak.

What used to happen in Hawaii? Hulas!

They tell me that nowadays TV has taken the place of a lot of night entertainment in the islands, just like everywhere else. Most likely Henry Kaiser is to blame.

But back when I was hale and hearty, doing a good day's work for a poor day's wage and working night assignments without overtime, there was plenty of fun in night meetings, especially when it came to political meetings.

The candidate would make speeches in English, Japanese, Chinese and of course, Hawaiian, and quite likely Portugese. Ukeleles would strum, boys would sing, and some pretty little brown wahine as limber as a snake would show the ancient hula with all modern improvements.

THAT WAS LIFE for a young lad from Montana. Or for a young lad from anywhere.

After a while I became so expert on Hawaiian politics that my lawyer friend, Roy Vitousek, let me run his campaign for the territorial legislature.

We made his name into "Wekuke" for the benefit of the Hawaiian voters but neglected to provide any hulas. By concentrating on his intellectual qualifications I nearly got Roy licked at the polls.

He did squeak through, and there was plenty of hulas in his later campaigns. By and by he rose to be speaker of the House of Representatives in spite of his intellectual qualifications.

WITH THIS information in my system I'll bet I could run a winning compaign in Marin County.

Anyhow, I'd certainly brighten up those night meetings of ours.

It might totally dispose of the whole yak problem.

People like to hear themselves talk, and that is why they go to the night meetings unless they work on the I-J and being driven to the meetings by unfeeling bosses.

BUT THE BIG thing is, few people care to hear other people talk.

For the hula, I'll bet even some of the champion long-distance speechifiers would forego some of the gab. We could import a few shapely experts and train the local talent.

There is no law against letting candidates and officials do the hula themselves if they have inclination and talent. Maybe this is the way to get more women to run for public office.

And Supervisor Bill Fusselman would be a natural.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Let's Not Pretend New Communist Manifesto Is A Peace Document

WASHINGTON — The new Communist manifesto, just signed and sealed in Moscow by the Communist parties from 81 countries at a conference which Premier Khrushchev recently pretended was not taking place, is marked by all the customary vagaries of a U. S. political platform.

It promises something to everybody—preferably a revolution. It guarantees nothing to anybody. It does not commit Red China to practise peaceful co-existence. It does not prevent the Soviet Union, while talking peaceful co-existence, from using force "when necessary."

It is well phrased to serve its purpose—to whip up the cold war by every means.

AT NO PLACE, in spirit or in substance, does it point a road to peace. It is a menacing challenge to every non-Communist nation. If we fail to recognize it as such, it is doubly menacing.

The manifesto is a tactical Soviet victory over the dissident Chinese Communists. It was won not by Red China being persuaded to love "peaceful co-existence," but because it saw that only by accepting Moscow's formula of words could it be sure of continuing to get what it now most needs, Soviet military, economic, and technical aid in large supply.

But how valuable is this Communist manifesto to the Communist cause? It seems to me it is valuable only if the free nations are fooled by it.

THE MANIFESTO stepped up the Communist attack on President de Gaulle. It renewed the barrage against Chancellor Adenaur. It makes hostility to the United States its cardinal tenet.

It retracted everything Khrushchev has said in the past about America being a "peace-loving nation." It brands the U. S. as the "chief enemy of the peoples of the world," the "bulwark of imperialism," and as "preparing a new war of aggression."

If Khrushchev believes these fantasies or wants other to believe them, he is the last statesman with whom an American president can properly deal.

Of course, it is possible that Mr. K. wants only to use the summit to intensify the cold war, not to help resolve it. He may be pressing for a third summit conference only to turn it into another propaganda carnival as he did in Paris last May. If so, he is going to find that President John Kennedy isn't going to play, isn't going to get caught.

KENNEDY HAS SAID explicitly that he will attend no unprepared summit. He has defined preparation as not merely agreeing upon an agenda, but as sufficient preliminary agreement to assure that a summit meeting will have a real chance of success.

This was President Eisenhower's own formula, but he gave in to pressure to attend an unprepared summit and the Paris fiasco was the inevitable result. I doubt if the President of the United States will again yield to this fateful temptation.

THE NEW manifesto sounds a dozen warnings against it.

The whole import of the manifesto shows that it is a new declaration of cold war on the free world and a directive to the 81 Communist parties to conduct it with renewed fury.

Let's not pretend otherwise.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 14, the 349th day of the year with 17 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1799, George Washington, the first president of the United States, died at Mount Vernon.

In 1819, Alabama entered the union as the 22nd state.

In 1861, Prince Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, died.

In 1895, Albert Frederick Arthur George, later King George VI of Great Britain, was born.

In 1911, Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen discovered the South Pole.

A thought for today: American President George Washington said: "Labour to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire,—conscience."

WELDER WANTS JOB
I am a welder, but speak no English. I was brought here by Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, and worked as a welder's helper for four weeks. I understand my employer found no fault with my work, but released me for other reasons. I will do any kind of work to support myself, wife and 3 year old daughter. Surely there is some business man who can use my skills, and will be patient while I struggle to learn English. There are so few Hungarians in the area, I hardly have anyone to talk to. Call GL 6-6760 days, or GL 4-6443, or GL 3-2472 evenings. My friends will see that I get your message. I will then come to you and do my best to understand you if you will do the same for me.

GARDEN MEMORIALIZES JUDGE

San Anselmo firemen George Jewell (left) and William Sousa give careful attention to Judge Fred J. Crisp Memorial Garden, beneath the window of city hall room where the late Judge Crisp presided over the San Anselmo Police Court. The memorial bench, sundial, plaque and Plantings were given to the city by Mrs. Frederick J. Crisp of 1355 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in memory of her husband, who assisted in the incorporation of San Anselmo and served twice on the town board of trustees, later being city judge. Deer Park School Program Planned

Parents and pupils will combine efforts in presenting the Christmas sale and program at Deer Park School in Fairfax at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

Each classroom will present specially prepared songs and acts. Bruce McDonald, principal, will direct singing of Christmas carols. Refreshments will be served by second grade mothers.

Deer Park Parent-Teacher Assn. will sponsor the Christmas sale, which will offer many handmade items, according to Mrs. James Jenkins, chairman.

Santa Claus will arrive at the school on a fire engine Friday for parties in classrooms during which the children will exchange small gifts.

Gallinas School Program Friday

There'll be the sound of Christmas emanating from the Gallinas School in Santa Venetia on Friday.

Unless the weather is too bad, first through sixth graders will join in 20 minutes of singing outside the building, starting at 1:15 p.m. Kindergarten youngsters will do their singing in the halls.

Short programs and class parties, with refreshments served by Parent-Teacher Assn. members, will follow the Christmas songfest.

Organ Society Plans Election Of Officers

The Hammond Organ Society of Marin will elect officers at a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller, 18 Edgewater Avenue, Mill Valley.

A Christmas party will follow the business meeting. Christmas carols will be sung, and refreshments served.

Strawberry Rips Plans By Neider

Objections were raised at a meeting of the board of the Strawberry Property Owners' Assn. Monday over Samuel R. Neider's Strawberry Point project for "tower apartments," on the basis it will change the character of the area and of the whole county.

Board members and property owners voiced objections to Lloyd Flood of Belvedere, architect and promoter of the project.

Board members fear the urbanizing of a rural area plus traffic congestion on East Strawberry Drive, Stephen A. Kaupmann, board member, said.

Primitive Guajiro Indians in Venezuela are nomads who hunt with bow and arrow.
